

ULTIMATUM TO SPAIN.

American Commission Ordered to Deliver One.

DELAY PROVING EMBARRASSING.

Rebels May Commit a Massacre at Iloilo and the United States, Under the Protocol, Cannot Act Under Present Conditions—Message From Dewey.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—It is now thought to be certain that the American peace commission, at a meeting next Monday or Tuesday, will do one of two things, i. e., either agree to the cessation of the Philippines or note a disagreement and dissolve the meeting, for the administration is not disposed to tolerate further delay, and has so instructed the United States commissioners.

The latter sent a long cablegram in cipher. The deciphering occupied the entire official day, and meantime there were wild rumors touching the nature of its contents. As a matter of fact it was nothing more than an extremely verbose statement of the Spanish side of the case relating to the Philippines. There was a renewal of the attempts to take issue with the American contention as to the meaning of the protocol clause relative to the disposition of the Philippines, and much quibbling, accompanied by quotations from French, Spanish and other European languages in the effort to demonstrate to Americans just what an English word might mean. The latter will take no notice of this kind of a hair-splitting plea, but at today's meeting, it is expected, will call on the Spanish commissioners to make answer to the American proposition to cede the Philippines, probably allowing until Monday or Tuesday only for a final and responsive answer on this point.

Serious news came to the navy department from Admiral Dewey touching the situation in the Philippines. The admiral sent two of his warships, the Charleston and the Concord, some time time ago to the southward from Manila to ascertain whether there was truth in reports that the insurgents had expended their activities in that direction. He cabled as follows:

"MANILA, Nov. 18.
Secretary of Navy, Washington:
"Charleston and Concord arrived today from Iloilo. Glass reports that the entire island of Panay is in possession of insurgents, except Iloilo, which is defended by 800 Spanish troops. All foreign citizens there beg for American protection. The island of Negros has declared independence and desires American protectorate.

"Dewey."
Glass is commander of the Charleston. So far nothing has been done by the administration toward curbing the insurgents in their operations save verbal representations from the American commanders to Aguinaldo, in which it has been pointed out to him that it would be good policy, in view of the probability of the annexation of the islands to the United States, to pursue a course that would not be obnoxious to the United States. But the situation is now realized to be critical. So far as the Spaniards are concerned perhaps they can be left to take care of themselves, but the foreign residents at Iloilo are differently regarded. The difficulty in the situation is that with the best intentions to intervene to protect the Europeans and other foreigners and to save the city of Iloilo, the second in importance in the Philippine group, from looting, the United States forces appear to be estopped, under the rules of war, from moving from their positions. Such is the construction placed upon the clause in the protocol relating to a suspension of hostilities.

The immediate effect of this state of affairs may be to hasten action in the Paris conference, for it is only by the termination of that tribunal that the United States can come to the relief of the beleaguered Spaniards in Iloilo, and at other points. It is said to be a fact, however, that a total disagreement at Paris may result in speedier action than at the commissioners agreed upon the main principles of the Philippines cessation, for in such case several additional sessions probably would be required in order to arrange the details of the treaty.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The United States commissioners have been formulating their next presentation for the consideration of the Spanish commissioners.

While the Americans are reticent as to their intentions it may be said without reserve that the occasion is near upon which the exact peace terms acceptable to the American commissioners will be laid before the Spaniards with a time limit for their acceptance.

The American commissioners will not guarantee any of the Spanish bonds, even though Spain may have mortgaged as security the revenues of territory to be taken by the United States. As set forth in these dispatches on Oct. 31 and previously the United States may now balance its war ledger, debiting to Spain the value of the battleship Maine, the cost of the naval and military operations, the losses incurred by American commerce and the future pension roll, etc., while on the other side of the sheet may be placed Spain's comities and values in the Philippine islands. If a difference is found to exist in favor of Spain this amount in cash may be offered her by the American commissioners at the next joint session here. What this balance may be is not definitely known, but it may be about $20,000,000 or possibly less.

MILES' MAN EFFICIENT.

Dr. Greenleaf Unloaded Supplies at Siboney—Other Witnesses Before War Commission.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The war investigation commission met here, all the members being present except Colonel Denby and Major Miles.

Dr. Charles R. Greenleaf, chief surgeon of the troops in the field on General Miles' staff, said that in some respects Camp Alger was a good camp for a small body of men, but the water supply was poor and the region was known to be highly malarious.

Dr. Conner asked Dr. Greenleaf how the medical supplies were delayed at Siboney.

Dr. Greenleaf said he did not know. "Who finally unloaded these supplies?" asked Dr. Conner.

"I did. I captured some pontoons and took the law into my own hands." "You unloaded in 36 hours supplies that had been lying in the harbor two weeks. Why did not Dr. Pope, chief surgeon of General Shafter's corps, land them within those two weeks?"

"I suppose he was at the front attending to the wounded."

"Did Dr. Pope take charge of one wounded man?"

"I cannot say," replied Dr. Greenleaf; "I am sure that Dr. Pope did the best he could. I had full authority from General Miles to do what I thought best."

In reply to a question Dr. Greenleaf said he supposed Dr. Pope had authority from General Shafter sufficient to enable him to unload the supplies at Siboney as he (Mr. Greenleaf) had done.

"There is no doubt," said Dr. Conner, "that somebody was dreadfully at fault. Can't you help us to find out who it was?"

Dr. Greenleaf said he could not.

Private Goss of the Seventy-first New York said he slept in the open air in Cuba for 12 days because he had no tent. There were two hospital tents. Three of the officers of his company took one of these tents for their own accommodation.

Richard W. Henry of the Seventy-first New York returned from Cuba in the transport Grand Duchess. Immediately on landing at Montauk Point, on Aug. 18, he went to the detention hospital.

When asked what he received to eat, he said: "I suppose they forgot us. We did not get anything until the next day, when an orderly gave us some soup. A surgeon visited us at noon. He made a cursory examination of us and said he would send us medicine immediately. The medicine did not reach us until late that night."

Dr. Frank Donaldson, who joined Colonel Roosevelt's regiment in Cuba on July 8, and who was stricken with yellow fever on July 24, was asked by Dr. Conner as to the condition of the hospitals. He said that they were entirely swamped. There was an insufficient supply of medical stores, nurses and stewards. The majority of the stewards were of a most undesirable character.

Regarding medical supplies, Dr. Donaldson said there were supplies, but they could not be reached. Speaking of his own regiment, he said he got supplies because he went out and hustled for them.

James S. Sowers of Company K, Seventy-first regiment, said the volunteer officers took care of themselves, while the regular officers took care of their men.

"When we arrived at Montauk Point," he said, "there was nothing for us to eat until the next day. When the Tenth regulars arrived there was a wagon load of bread and meat waiting for them. Our officers said that they had nothing to do with the rations."

PANA TERRORIZED.

PANA, Ills., Nov. 19.—The town has been kept in a state of terror by numerous encounters between negroes and striking miners. Both are heavily armed and use their ammunition freely. Deputy Sheriff Sid Watts, who was returning from the Springs Side mine, where he had been on duty, was shot from ambush. The bullet took effect in his right arm, which had to be amputated.

A number of residences have been pierced by bullets and those who are able to do so have sent their families to the country. The principal streets are patrolled by soldiers. Captain Butler had a long conversation by telephone with Governor Tanner and, it is said, more troops will come here.

The National Grange.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 19.—At the session of the National Grange one resolution prohibited the utterance of political opinions by State and National Grange officers and expressing the opinion that such officers, when nominated for public office, should resign their grange positions. Invitations to hold the next annual meeting were received from Niagara Falls, New York and from the state of Ohio.

TO INDICT CONVICTS.

Warden Coffin Asked For Special Grand Jury.

THE ATTEMPT MADE TO ESCAPE.

O'Neil and Atkinson Made a Desperate Break—Killed Guard Lanterbaugh Guard Gump Wounded Both of Them. Atkinson's Condition Very Serious.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Warden Coffin of the Ohio penitentiary decided to ask for a special grand jury to indict Convicts Frank O'Neil and John Atkinson for the murder of Guard Lanterbach. Although there have been numerous attempts made by prisoners to take the lives of guards, Lanterbach is the first guard killed in the institution since 1843. Atkinson and O'Neil's plan to escape is the most desperate ever known at the penitentiary. Both men were armed to the teeth and they expected to scale the walls, which are patrolled by guards armed with Winchester. They expected to keep up a fusillade at the wall guards while running and take chances on being wounded or killed. Atkinson's arm and shoulder are terribly shattered his condition is very serious.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Convicts O'Neil and Atkinson, who are serving 15 years each for robbery, committed in Cleveland, made a bold attempt to escape from the state penitentiary. One, having possession of a revolver, covered his face with a handkerchief and went into the broom shop, where he held up Guard Laine and took his revolver. He then returned to the hoe shop, where the other man joined him, and they opened fire on Guard Lanterbaugh, who was in charge of that department. The guard was shot three times and almost instantly killed.

Guard Gump was the first on the scene and, taking in the situation at a glance, opened fire on the two prisoners. This was returned and a regular battle was in progress until the revolvers of all the participants were emptied. Convict Atkinson was shot down and seriously injured. As soon as the gun's were emptied Guard Gump rushed in with his cane and beat O'Neil until he surrendered. The men were taken to the hospital, where their injuries were attended to.

The other prisoners in the shop where the shooting occurred took no part in the affair, but it is understood that they stood ready to follow if the efforts of the two leaders proved successful. Previous to making the outbreak one of the two prisoners forced a third man to place a ladder against the outside of the penitentiary wall so that when they had fought their way out of the shops they could shoot down the wall guard and make their escape by that route.

O'Neil and Atkinson are serving their third terms. Atkinson said that O'Neil received two guns on the Fourth of July, when visitors were allowed in the prison. They were hidden by Atkinson, the two men deciding to wait for fall before trying to escape.

They had been waiting for three weeks for an opportunity.

Atkinson was shot twice in the right arm and O'Neil has two severe scalp wounds. Neither was fatally hurt.

GARFIELD CLUB BANQUET.

Norris Elected President at the Business Meeting That Preceded.

NILES, Nov. 19.—The most magnificent banquet in the history of the Garfield club of the old Nineteenth district was held here.

At the business meeting previous to the banquet M. A. Norris of Youngstown was elected president; O. P. Shaffer, vice president for Mahoning county; P. C. Remick of Ashtabula for Ashtabula county; Dr. J. W. Lowe of Mentor for Lake county; Prof. G. H. Colton of Hiram for Portage county; C. K. Wagner of Akron for Summit county; Charles Wilkins of Warren for Trumbull county, and R. King of Chardon, for Geauga county. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Akron.

Secured Service on Burke.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Attorney General Monnett secured service on Judge Stevenson Burke, citing him to give testimony in the Standard Oil case. It is expected to prove by Judge Burke that the order of the supreme court against the Standard was ignored by Mr. Rockefeller. This evidence was given in a petition which Judge Burke filed in another case for a client.

Hunting the Brutal Negro.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—Officers and citizens of Madisonville, with bloodhounds, have been searching for the unknown negro who outraged Susie Williams, white. All the haunts in this city have also been searched in vain. Lynching is expected if the negro is caught and identified.

A Baron Died In Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—Baron Henrio Casimer Sparre died at home, 831 Prospect street, this city.

Topeka Ordered to Havana.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—It was reported at League island navyyard that orders had been received from Washington directing the cruiser Topeka to leave for Havana today. It was also stated that the auxiliary cruiser Panther will be ordered to Porto Rico within a few days.

CITED FOR CONTEMPT.

Attachments Granted For Two Bankers In the Quay Bank Case, at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Before Judge Gordon, in the quarter sessions court, District Attorney Graham asked for and was granted attachments for the arrest for contempt of court of Wm. Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National bank of Pittsburgh, and Steven B. Stone, cashier of the Beaver Deposit bank of Beaver, Pa.

In making the application, Mr. Graham stated that Montgomery and Stone had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury to testify in the case of the commonwealth against United States Senator Quay, his son, Richard B. Quay, and ex-state Treasurer Haywood, who are charged with conspiracy in the misuse of state funds. The subpoenas commanded the respondents to produce certain books of their respective banks before the grand jury, but they failed to appear. The respondents were represented by counsel in court and Mr. Stone was himself present. Affidavits made by Montgomery and Stone were read, in which the contention was made that they had no right without the consent of the depositors to expose their accounts nor authority to remove the books or papers of the banks from those institutions.

Mr. Montgomery in his affidavit said he had been subpoenaed to bring with him deposit slips, tickets, etc., of M. S. Quay and R. R. Quay for May, July and August, 1886, and April, 1888.

It is stated that counsel will probably advise the submission of the respondents to the process of the court and then take out a writ of habeas corpus for their production before the superior court and a decision of the question by that body.

ELEVEN DEAD.

Laborers on the Pennsylvania Mowed Down by a Train Near Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 19.—Eleven Italian and Polish laborers were mowed down and killed on the Hackensack meadows west of Jersey City by the Mills one local train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The following is the list of dead:

Michael Lawless.
Joseph Collessello.
Angelo Pizo.
Frank Bandinski.
Frank Lukovinski.
Thomas Dougherty.
Joseph Siminski.
Joseph Broski.
William Roall.
Joseph Smith.
One unknown.

The killed and wounded were laborers at work repairing the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The gang consisted of 20 men, and nearly all were either killed or injured.

CITY EVANGELIZATION.

Complaint at Methodist Convention of a Lack of Interest In the Work.

DETROIT, Nov. 19.—Lack of genuine interest of church members in city evangelization was a complaint numerously heard during the business session of the annual convention of the National City Evangelization Union of the M. E. church. The faith and energy of workers in city fields outside of the churches, however, appeared undaunted and in some respects encouraging progress was shown.

Horace Hitchcock of Detroit, president of the National union, in his annual address, declared that the "unchurched and unsaved masses will never come to the church. The church must go to them." He asserted that the churches must broaden in their thought and service.

APPROVED BY THE POPE.

Liberal Tendencies of Church In America Pleases Him.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: "A very important pontifical document is about to appear expressing the pope's full approbation of the democratic and liberal tendencies of the Catholic church in the United States."

Missionary and Native Murdered.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Shanghai says that the Rev. Mr. Fleming, a missionary, and a native evangelist, were murdered in the recent attack by the rebels in the town of Kwi-Fu in the upper Yang-Ste-Kiang valley, when the Catholic mission there was burned.

The Pope Having Good Health.

ROME, Nov. 19.—Dr. Laponi, the pope's physician, announces that his holiness is enjoying the best health he has known in years.

Colonel Donaldson Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Colonel Thomas C. Donaldson died at his home in this city from a complication of diseases, aged 55 years.

FAILED TO COMBINE.

Steel Rail Organization Did Not Materialize.

BLOCKED BY CARNEGIE COMPANY.

President Gary of Federal Steel Company Said No Pool Was Intended, Just a Working Agreement—Thinks Prices Will Be Lived Up To.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—An attempt by the steel rail manufacturers of the country to form what has been called a pool was abandoned for the time being. The endeavor was to bring about an understanding among the manufacturers as to territorial divisions and prices.

It was understood that opposition to the plan by the Carnegie Steel company was so uncompromising as to hold out no hope of arriving at a concert of interests. In spite, however, of the breaking off of negotiations it was semi-officially declared that the manufacturers in the majority made arrangements to continue in the endeavor to unite, and that it was fairly certain that a working agreement would be reached early next week.

Ex-Judge E. H. Gary of Chicago, who is president of the Federated Steel company, said:

"There was no idea of forming a pool. During the week the steel rail manufacturers of the country have been striving to reach a fair and equitable working agreement in regard to division of territory and prices. But at this meeting it was found that it was not possible to reach an agreement, and the plan was abandoned. I think, however, that there is a disposition among steel rail manufacturers to live up to prices."

PLEASED WITH OUR PRESIDENT.

Spoke to an English Visitor of American Affection For England.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Among the callers upon the president were Senator Proctor of Vermont and the Hon. Harry Foster, who represents the district of North Suffolk in the parliament of Great Britain.

Mr. Foster said the American people must be proud of their president. He was one of the most delightful men he ever met. In the course of the interview, alluding to the results of the Spanish war, the president said the most remarkable result was the wonderful expression, by the people east and west, of deep affection for the mother country.

The president thought the feelings of the two peoples would be fruitful for the cause of humanity and civilization; and that the co-operation of the two countries did not depend upon paper treaties or written obligations, but upon a much deeper and more lasting basis.

REPUBLICAN COLLEGE LEAGUE.

Resolutions Adopted Upholding Alger, Philadelphia For Next Meeting Place.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—The American Republican College League closed its seventh annual session here. The league changed its constitution to provide that hereafter meetings shall be held biennially instead of annually. The next meeting will be held at Philadelphia just after the national election of 1900.

A resolution was adopted upholding Secretary Alger, who is a strong friend of the league, and denouncing his villainous slanderers, also praising President McKinley, indorsing "that gallant soldier, brilliant statesman and champion of clean and popular government, the type of an American patriotism, Theodore Roosevelt," and demanding safe currency reform legislation and student suffrage.

A. L. Davis, Michigan university, was elected president.

FIRST SPANISH WAR PENSION.

Jesse T. Gates of the Second Artillery Allowed $17 a Month.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Commissioner Evans of the pension office notified Secretary Alger that Jesse T. Gates of the Second United States artillery, who lost part of his upper lip in the West Indian campaign, has been awarded the first pension on account of the Spanish war.

Gates will receive $17 per month, and this being inadequate, a private pension bill increasing the pension probably will be introduced in congress. Claims on account of the Spanish war are now coming in rapidly. The total on file up to Friday is 1,947 for war service and 178 for naval service, exclusive of the claims of the battleship Maine disaster.

Sailed With Presents For Soldiers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The transport St. Paul sailed for Manila carrying a cargo of Christmas presents for the soldiers and sailors in the Philippines. A number of soldiers drafted to recruit companies now at Manila and 40 nurses sailed. Twenty of the nurses will remain at Honolulu.

Initiation May Be Fatal.

MOLINE, Ills., Nov. 19.—Dr. William P. Sensibaugh, a dentist of Port Byron, just east of this city, is in a serious condition, as a result of pranks played upon him while being initiated in a fraternal insurance lodge in that village.

Wagner of Akron for Summit county; Charles Wilkins of Warren for Trumbull county, and R. King of Chardon, for Geauga county. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Akron.

Secured Service on Burke.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Attorney General Monnett secured service on Judge Stevenson Burke, citing him to give testimony in the Standard Oil case. It is expected to prove by Judge Burke that the order of the supreme court against the Standard was ignored by Mr. Rockefeller. This evidence was given in a petition which Judge Burke filed in another case for a client.

Hunting the Brutal Negro.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—Officers and citizens of Madisonville, with bloodhounds, have been searching for the unknown negro who outraged Susie Williams, white. All the haunts in this city have also been searched in vain. Lynching is expected if the negro is caught and identified.

A Baron Died in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—Baron Henric Casimer Sparre died at home, 831 Prospect street, this city.

Topeka Ordered to Havana.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—It was reported at League island navyyard that orders had been received from Washington directing the cruiser Topeka to leave for Havana today. It was also stated that the auxiliary cruiser Panther will be ordered to Porto Rico within a few days.

CITED FOR CONTEMPT.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Before Judge Gordon, in the quarter sessions court, District Attorney Graham asked for and was granted attachments for the arrest for contempt of court of Wm. Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National bank of Pittsburg, and Steven B. Stone, cashier of the Beaver Deposit bank of Beaver, Pa.

In making the application, Mr. Graham stated that Montgomery and Stone had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury to testify in the case of the commonwealth against United States Senator Quay, his son, Richard R. Quay, and ex-State Treasurer Haywood, who are charged with conspiracy in the misuse of state funds. The subpoenas commanded the respondents to produce certain books of their respective banks before the grand jury, but they failed to appear. The respondents were represented by counsel in court and Mr. Stone was himself present. Affidavits made by Montgomery and Stone were read, in which the contention was made that they had no right without the consent of the depositors to expose their accounts nor authority to remove the books or papers of the banks from those institutions.

Mr. Montgomery in his affidavit said he had been subpoenaed to bring with him deposit slips, tickets, etc., of M. S. Quay and R. R. Quay for May, July and August, 1886, and April, 1888.

It is stated that counsel will probably advise the submission of the respondents to the process of the court and then take out a writ of habeas corpus for their production before the superior court and a decision of the question by that body.

ELEVEN DEAD.

Laborers on the Pennsylvania Mowed Down by a Train Near Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 19.—Eleven Italian and Polish laborers were mowed down and killed on the Hackensack meadows west of Jersey City by the Mills one local train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The following is the list of dead: Michael Lawless. Joseph Collesello. Angelo Pizo. Frank Bandinski. Frank Lukovinski. Thomas Dougherty. Joseph Siminski. Joseph Broski. William Roall. Joseph Smith. One unknown.

The killed and wounded were laborers at work repairing the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The gang consisted of 20 men, and nearly all were either killed or injured.

CITY EVANGELIZATION.

DETROIT, Nov. 19.—Lack of genuine interest of church members in city evangelization was a complaint numerously heard during the business session of the annual convention of the National City Evangelization Union of the M. E. church. The faith and energy of workers in city fields outside of the churches, however, appeared undaunted and in some respects encouraging progress was shown.

Horace Hitchcock of Detroit, president of the National union, in his annual address, declared that the "unchurched and unsaved masses will never come to the church. The church must go to them." He asserted that the churches must broaden in their thought and service.

APPROVED BY THE POPE.

Liberal Tendencies of Church in America Pleases Him.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: "A very important pontifical document is about to appear expressing the pope's full approbation of the democratic and liberal tendencies of the Catholic church in the United States."

Missionary and Native Murdered.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Shanghai says that the Rev. Mr. Fleming, a missionary, and a native evangelist, were murdered in the recent attack by the rebels in the town of Kwi-Fu in the upper Yangtze-Kiang valley, when the Catholic mission there was burned.

The Pope Having Good Health.

ROME, Nov. 19.—Dr. Lapponi, the pope's physician, announces that his holiness is enjoying the best health he has known in years.

Colonel Donaldson Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Colonel Thomas C. Donaldson died at his home in this city from a complication of diseases, aged 55 years.

FAILED TO COMBINE.

Steel Rail Organization Did Not Materialize.

BLOCKED BY CARNEGIE COMPANY.

President Gary of Federal Steel Company Said No Pool Was Intended, Just a Working Agreement—Thinks Prices Will Be Lived Up To.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—An attempt by the steel rail manufacturers of the country to form what has been called a pool was abandoned for the time being. The endeavor was to bring about an understanding among the manufacturers as to territorial divisions and prices.

It was understood that opposition to the plan by the Carnegie Steel company was so uncompromising as to hold out no hope of arriving at a concert of interests. In spite, however, of the breaking off of negotiations it was semi-officially declared that the manufacturers in the majority made arrangements to continue in the endeavor to unite, and that it was fairly certain that a working agreement would be reached early next week.

Ex-Judge E. H. Gary of Chicago, who is president of the Federated Steel company, said:

"There was no idea of forming a pool. During the week the steel rail manufacturers of the country have been striving to reach a fair and equitable working agreement in regard to division of territory and prices. But at this meeting it was found that it was not possible to reach an agreement, and the plan was abandoned. I think, however, that there is a disposition among steel rail manufacturers to live up to prices."

PLEASED WITH OUR PRESIDENT.

Spoke to an English Visitor of American Affection For England.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Among the callers upon the president were Senator Proctor of Vermont and the Hon. Harry Foster, who represents the district of North Suffolk in the parliament of Great Britain.

Mr. Foster said the American people must be proud of their president. He was one of the most delightful men he ever met. In the course of the interview, alluding to the results of the Spanish war, the president said the most remarkable result was the wonderful expression, by the people east and west, of deep affection for the mother country.

The president thought the feelings of the two peoples would be fruitful for the cause of humanity and civilization; and that the co-operation of the two countries did not depend upon paper treaties or written obligations, but upon a much deeper and more lasting basis.

REPUBLICAN COLLEGE LEAGUE.

Resolutions Adopted Upholding Alger. Philadelphia For Next Meeting Place.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—The American Republican College League closed its seventh annual session here. The league changed its constitution to provide that hereafter meetings shall be held biennially instead of annually. The next meeting will be held at Philadelphia just after the national election of 1900.

A resolution was adopted upholding Secretary Alger, who is a strong friend of the league, and denouncing his villainous slanders, also praising President McKinley, indorsing "that gallant soldier, brilliant statesman and champion of clean and popular government, the type of American patriotism, Theodore Roosevelt," and demanding safe currency reform legislation and student suffrage.

A. L. Davis, Michigan university, was elected president.

FIRST SPANISH WAR PENSION.

Jesse T. Gates of the Second Artillery Allowed $17 a Month.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Commissioner Evans of the pension office notified Secretary Alger that Jesse T. Gates of the Second United States Artillery, who lost part of his upper lip in the West Indian campaign, has been awarded the first pension on account of the Spanish war.

Gates will receive $17 per month, and this being inadequate, a private pension bill increasing the pension probably will be introduced in congress. Claims on account of the Spanish war are now coming in rapidly. The total on file up to Friday is 1,947 for war service and 178 for naval service, exclusive of the claims of the battleship Maine soldiers.

Sailed With Presents For Soldiers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The transport St. Paul sailed for Manila carrying a cargo of Christmas presents for the soldiers and sailors in the Philippines. A number of soldiers drafted to recruit companies now at Manila and 40 nurses sailed. Twenty of the nurses will remain at Honolulu.

Initiation May Be Fatal.

MOLINE, Ills., Nov. 19.—Dr. William P. Sensibaugh, a dentist of Port Byron, just east of this city, is in a serious condition, as a result of pranks played upon him while being initiated in a fraternal insurance lodge in that village.

PRICE PLACED TOO HIGH

For the City to Buy Pennsylvania Avenue Land.

EXPENSES WOULD BE TOO GREAT

For the Improvement of the Avenue if the City Was Compelled to Pay the Demands of the Court—A Councilman Expresses an Opinion.

The large damages awarded by the jury for the Pennsylvania avenue property needed by the city to open that thoroughfare to the public, probably means that it will be some years before the street is improved.

In speaking to a prominent member of council in regard to the matter he said: "Those damages mean that Pennsylvania avenue will not be improved for sometime at least. I am sure this council and I don't think any other council will pay the sums asked, as they are unreasonable and it would take a mint of money to improve the road. The $6,000 voted to be expended on the thoroughfare would not be a drop in the bucket. We have no right to expend the taxpayers' money in this way, and I think it will be a long time before there is any more work done on Pennsylvania avenue. We made a great mistake in doing so much work on that thoroughfare this season, but it is too late now. Unless there is another agreement made, I think I can assure you that the river road will remain the only one to East End, and the $6,000 voted to be expended on Pennsylvania avenue will remain in the treasury.

Several other members of council were asked in regard to the matter, and all who had given it a thought expressed the same views as the member quoted. There will probably be some discussion in regard to the matter at the next meeting of council.

MANILA BUNKO GAME

HOW AMERICAN EAGLES WERE EXCHANGED FOR 'DOBE DOLLARS.

Scheme of Filipino Counterfeiters to Defraud Uncle Sam's Soldiers of Their Money—Clever Part Played by the Woman in the Game.

The New York Sun's correspondent at Manila, writing under date of Sept. 13 about how some of our soldiers exchanged American gold coin for 'dobe dollars, says:

Olivia she said her name was, with an utterly unspelling and unpronounceable something else which she added when the interpreter asked "Olivia que?" She didn't differ in appearance from the thousand other Filipino women who carry bundles on their heads about the streets of Manila or manage two to four trading stations under the shade of a banana leaf along the country roads. Her hands were small and slender and her feet were large, flat and bare. The gaudy pina camisa that slipped half way down her upper arms disclosed her exquisitely molded, graceful shoulders. Much carrying of burdens on her head had made her straight backed and erect. Her cheek bones were high, her face broad, her nose flat, her eyes large and round, her chin very small, her mouth wide and full of teeth that had been white before constant betel nut chewing had reddened and made them unsightly. Her hair was as black as her eyes, well oiled and smoothed down mirror bright, with a knot in the back of her neck. She must be nearly 4½ feet tall, with a complexion like a coppercent of the mintage of 1863. The long, full skirt of gay red and yellow pina cloth hung over a short, white skirt and was draped with black, a short sort of overskirt of which hung just below the knees. Between the short camisa and the bright red say a narrow strip of bare brown showed in curious contrast to the gay colors of the dress.

Once in awhile the wise men down here see some native do something which is just what would be done at home under the same circumstances. They waggle their wise heads and exclaim, "Ah, human nature is just the same the world over!" That is true too. There are the same samenesses and the same differences, and it is only because the differences here are different from what they have been used to at home that they remark the samenesses. But that gets away from Olivia, and she, although not so named before the court, was in reality the party of the first part. It began, of course, away back when there was devised with paradise the snake, but the specific development occurred in Cavite. Just a plain sordid case of man's greed overreaching itself, a "win by his aid and the aid disown" experiment. Mariano Santos provided the aid, and if he had not been caught Benigno de la Cruz would have made the winning. As it happened, the game was with chance, and chance won.

For Uncle Sam's bright $5 goldpieces the banks in Manila were paying 10 'dobe dollars and 35 cents. Therein Benigno, who is a thief and a counterfeiter, perceived his opportunity. He was willing to give 22 'dobe dollars, very 'dobe indeed, made in his own special 'dobe mint, for every new gold eagle Uncle Sam had paid his boys for risking their lives in his service, and as the boys had just received a fine new lot of American eagles and always are anxious to get the most silver for them possible, the $22 offer of Benigno had more favor with them than the more conservative proposition of the banks. Besides, Benigno came to them in the person of Mariano, whereas they were obliged to go to the bank, which was somewhat difficult, owing to certain restrictions customary to military life. So they fell upon Mariano joyfully, and he promptly cheated them. They were from South Dakota, and the first Filipino vender of wretched anise brandy on whom they tried Mariano's dollars quickly showed them the very 'dobe quality of Benigno's output, and there was a descent on Mariano, who was caught with the damning evidence in his pockets.

Pursuant to general order No. 8, establishing the provost court, Mariano appeared in due time in the splendid room in the Ayuntamiento, where Colonel Jarrett every morning dispenses justice with the wisdom of the cad, aided by two interpreters. There Benigno came in, lugged unwittingly by Mariano, who promptly declared that he was but the humble and unworthy tool of the wicked and designing Benigno. There was the first demonstration of the kinship of the world. Now mark the complication and the entry of Olivia.

Benigno lived in Tondo. Between his mansion of Nipa and the arm of the law, as represented in the provost marshal's guard, stretched a line of insurgent soldiers, and there was at that time such feeling between the two forces that rather than risk the provocation of a conflict the provost marshal general decided to let Benigno go unpunished. Not so Olivia. Mariano had duly paid the priest his price, and he and she were one beyond legal possibility of separation. Moreover, Olivia has a woman's wit when him she loves is in danger. She went to see Benigno in Tondo. Mariano was in jail, she said, but she could carry on the business in his place until he got out again. In fact, even at that time in the walled city she had a man waiting ready to buy a large supply of the very 'dobe dollars. The crafty Benigno filled his pockets with his counterfeits and followed Olivia into Manila. In the little shop of a Chinaman on the Calle Real, right near the headquarters of Colonel Reeve's Thirteenth Minnesota police, she left Benigno while she went on to the appointed rendezvous to fetch the purchaser. But the man she brought back with her carried a gun, and Benigno followed Mariano to jail, stripped of the 'dobe dollars which had jingled in his pockets when the soldier took him. In court the next morning he said he was the helpless victim of a wicked woman's wiles. Now both Benigno and Mariano are in prison, but there is a chance for Mariano. The wise men are right, after all. The kinship is demonstrated. For Tondo read Jersey City, for the walled city read New York and wind up with "in the Jefferson market police court yesterday morning," etc.

SALVATION ARMY ABROAD.

Its Crusade Against Betting Throughout All England.

Public betting is generally looked upon as a vulgar habit, an infamous offense against society and a deadly sin against God, and that women should fall so low as to become open gamblers, luring, for a little paltry gain, the young and ignorant to their present and everlasting undoing, is horrible to contemplate. Yet so it is, and the vice is spreading, and the army must rush to the rescue. So, my comrades, form yourselves into brigades and go with pitying hearts on your Christianlike errand. In London, we are told, the women who gamble do so quietly. Barmaids, having such favorable opportunities, are, it is said, among the most assiduous gamblers. It is in the north of England, however, that the evil is said to be most rampant, women there developing a gambling mania equal in its intensity and evil effects to that of the men.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Sunderland, Stockton-on-Tees and Middlesborough have made a strenuous effort to put the practice down, but it is still rampant and unblushingly open. Back streets in Newcastle are sown at no very distant intervals with bookmakers. Walking along, the passerby hears men accosting others with invitations to "have a bit of so and so." Women seem to be their chief customers. * * * At Stockton, on the quay, there is a place known among the people as the "betting ground." Crowds of women jostle the men and laugh at the police. Near by are streets of lodging houses, where most of these women live, spending their time in drinking and discussing "the odds." Where one woman bet 20 years ago, says The Social Gazette, from which we coll these particulars, ten gamble now.—Westminster Budget.

PORTO RICO WOMEN.

They Show More Energy and Industry Than the Men.

In Porto Rico, according to reports of army men, the native women seem to be the energetic members of the household. The men are decidedly indolent. Many women went into the camps of the invading army of the United States and offered for small sums to do the mending and laundering. Their method of washing was a curiosity to the soldiers, who often stood and watched them, for they wash in the streams and use stones in lieu of washboards, then spread the garments on the foliage to dry.

Some of the women keep small stores, in which they sell nearly everything from a paper of pins to a tart. A loaf of bread such as is sold here for 5 cents they divide into pieces and sell them for 2 cents each, the people preferring to buy only sufficient for each meal, or as they want it, instead of in a quantity. Some of the natives on visiting camp were shocked when told that the soldiers were each given a whole loaf of bread each day and ate it too. Said a member of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania to a New York Tribune representative: "One woman told me if I would only be more saving and sell half my loaf each day I would soon be able to start a store and would do well. I don't know what she would have said had she seen me pay $1 for a pie on my way up from Porto Rico. The women are certainly the workers down there."

"Oh, you fellows think you know how to eat pie," said a western boy, "but just come to Wisconsin with us and see the bad attacks of consumption we'll display when we tackle the homemade bread and pie that only Wisconsin mothers know how to make. If our Porto Rican senioritas had such pies to offer about pay day, they would surely make their fortunes."

They Work Alike.

A fly had fallen into the ink well of a certain author who writes a very bad and a very inky hand. The writer's little boy rescued the unhappy insect and dropped him on a piece of paper. After watching him intently for awhile he called to his mother, "Here's a fly, mamma, that writes just like papa."—Current Literature.

BRITISH NAVY READY

ARMY AND NAVY GAZETTE SAYS IT MAY FACE WAR FEARLESSLY.

Considerable Change Effected in Strengthening England's Naval Forces in the Mediterranean—Sudden War With France Not Feared.

Under the heading, "Are We Ready?" the London Army and Navy Gazette prints a leading editorial in a recent issue that is especially significant in view of Lord Salisbury's speech and the French and British naval activity:

"There are indeed people who say that if we are to have war with France this is the very moment for it, when her councils are distracted by internal faction and when she has not yet developed the navy of the future with which M. Lockroy hopes to dominate in the Mediterranean, if not in the channel.

"It is difficult to determine when the crucial moment to crush an enemy has plainly arrived, but it is certainly not advisable to force the advent of it in order to satisfy any civil or military theories.

"Without reference to the immediate pressure of the Fashoda incident upon the government of Great Britain and what may presently be the government of France, it is quite clear that the duty of responsible statesmen and of departments concerned in the administration of the great spending forces, even in the remote prospect of a conflict with any formidable adversary, is to prepare for mobilization.

"At sea, provided that the naval bases are full up with coal, the details of the fitting out of squadrons and fleets are not so difficult to be worked where there is a settled clerical administration at headquarters.

"When Lord Charles Beresford visited Toulon, the French fleet was in a formidable condition of readiness, and the complete state of that great arsenal, regarded as a naval base, affected him so powerfully that he is credited with proclaiming aloud his conviction that if war were declared between France and Great Britain the true policy for the British admirals in the Mediterranean was to clear out of it as fast as they could, to take refuge, so to speak, under the guns of Gibraltar, there to await re-enforcements from England and to prepare for a naval campaign with the French for the recovery of the Mediterranean from the strait to the shores of the Levant.

"But in some degree, in consequence perhaps of his earnest representations, there has been a considerable change effected on our side in the strengthening of our naval forces in that important sea, and there will be no reason to dread the result of an actual naval war covering the whole of the seaboard from Alexandria westward.

"Malta is now, we are assured, better provided with all that a fleet would need than it was at the time Lord Charles Beresford beheld those terrible mountains of coal, array of crews and equipments for the French fleet at Toulon.

"There is no British admiral who, looking at the vessels available for service, would be at all uneasy at the prospect of a sudden war with France. In the Mediterranean and on other foreign stations our naval squadrons, if not immeasurably superior to any that might be matched with them, are at least strong enough to take the offensive with every hope of success. In the channel the force we could put afloat is surely sufficiently powerful to deter any French officer from making raids or dashes or experimental cruises along the south coast, up St. George's channel or into the German ocean.

"It is beyond doubt that a contest between the British empire and the French republic must find its outlet at sea, for the results of contests on land, whether in Africa or in Asia, cannot produce such an effect upon the efforts of the fleets as to cause an abandonment by one or by the other of the contending powers of the pretensions which formed the basis of the declaration of grievances from which the war arose."

NEW SOCIETY ORGANIZED.

Soldiers of the Spanish-American War Form a Union.

The other night there was organized in Lexington, Ky., a society which aims to be to the soldiers who enlisted in the Spanish-American war what the Grand Army of the Republic has been to the Federal army of the civil war.

"The Service Men of the Spanish War" is the title of the new society, and the plan of organization was conceived by Captain Wilson I. Davenny, commissary of subsistence of the First brigade, Second division, First army corps. Articles of incorporation have been drafted. This, the primal chapter, has been named Henry Clay camp, No. 1. The following officers were elected: Commander, Colonel Leonard; vice commander, Lieutenant Colonel Banks; adjutant and chief of staff, Captain Davenny; treasurer, Colonel Gander. A ritual and regulations will be drafted.

The plan of organization provides that the parent organization, Henry Clay camp, No. 1, shall be supreme in all matters pertaining to the ritual and regulations, organization of new camps

If every woman who expects to become a mother would heed and read that great book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. there would be stronger mothers and healthier, happier children in this world. In this grand volume several hundred of its thousand pages are devoted to teaching women how to take care of themselves during every trying and critical period of their lives and especially at the time of approaching motherhood.

The author of this remarkable work has had a lifetime of practical experience in treating the special diseases and weaknesses of women, and is recognized as one of the foremost of living experts in this particular field of practice. His "Favorite Prescription" is the most wonderful medicine ever invented to restore natural organic strength and power to the delicate feminine structure which is most intimately concerned in motherhood.

Taken during the time of anticipation it deprives this ordeal of all its accustomed terrors and dangers; makes the coming of baby absolutely safe and comparatively painless; renders the mother strong and cheerful, and helps to endow the child with a strong, healthy constitution.

A FELLOW FEELING

Makes East Liverpool People as "Wondrous Kind" as Elsewhere.

A fellow feeling prompts it. We all have troubles of our own. We appreciate assistance. Relief from trouble promotes gratitude. Gratitude promotes publicity. Publicity promotes the public good. A man with a bad back. The kind that aches all day, and does a case at night.

Is a generous man when his back is ached. He wants to tell his friends about it. Let them know relief can be had. Lots of fellow feeling in East Liverpool.

Doan's Kidney Pills have cured so many backs.

Read what this East Liverpool citizen says: Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church Alley, who is employed in the East Liverpool Pottery Co., says:

"I was troubled a great deal with muscular rheumatism, but for three years it settled in my back and kidneys, and caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back, and there was a urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicine, I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time. I highly recommend them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-McLure Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Hair Powder.

The cause of the general disuse of hair powder was the high price of flour. It was thought little less than criminal that flour, which was almost beyond the reach of some of the very poor, should be used by the rich as a mere fashionable luxury of dress. Voluntary associations were formed, the members whereof bound themselves not to use hair powder. In a similar way the abolitionists bound themselves not to use any sugar whose production involved the employment of negro slaves.—Notes and Queries.

MANILA BUNKO GAME

Scheme of Filipino Counterfeiters to Defraud Uncle Sam's Soldiers of Their Money—Clever Part Played by the Woman in the Game.

The New York Sun's correspondent at Manila, writing under date of Sept. 13 about how some of our soldiers exchanged American gold coin for 'dobe dollars, says:

Olivia she said her name was, with an utterly unspellable and unpronounceable something else which she added when the interpreter asked "Olivia que?" She didn't differ in appearance from the thousand other Filipino women who carry bundles on their heads about the streets of Manila or manage two to four trading stations under the shade of a banana leaf along the country roads. Her hands were small and slender and her feet were large, flat and bare. The gaudy pina camisa that slipped half way down her upper arms disclosed her exquisitely molded, graceful shoulders. Much carrying of burdens on her head had made her straight backed and erect. Her cheek bones were high, her face broad, her nose flat, her eyes large and round, her chin very small, her mouth wide and full of teeth that had been white before constant betel nut chewing had reddened and made them unsightly. Her hair was as black as her eyes, well oiled and smoothed down mirror bright, with a knot in the back of her neck. She must be nearly 4½ feet tall, with a complexion like a coppercent of the mintage of 1863. The long, full skirt of gay red and yellow pina cloth hung over a short, white skirt and was draped with black, a short sort of overskirt of which hung just below the knees. Between the short camisa and the bright red say a narrow strip of bare brown showed in curious contrast to the gay colors of the dress.

Once in awhile the wise men down here see some native do something which is just what would be done at home under the same circumstances. They waggle their wise heads and exclaim, "Ah, human nature is just the same the world over!" That is true too. There are the same samenesses and the same differences, and it is only because the differences here are different from what they have been used to at home that they remark the samenesses. But that gets away from Olivia, and she, although not so named before the court, was in reality the party of the first part. It began, of course, away back when there was devised with paradise the snake, but the specific development occurred in Cavite. Just a plain sordid case of man's greed overreaching itself, a "win by his aid and the aid disown" experiment. Mariano Santos provided the aid, and if he had not been caught Benigno de la Cruz would have made the winning. As it happened, the game was with chance, and chance won.

For Uncle Sam's bright $5 gold pieces the banks in Manila were paying 10 'dobe dollars and 35 cents. Therein Benigno, who is a thief and a counterfeiter, perceived his opportunity. He was willing to give 22 'dobe dollars, very 'dobe indeed, made in his own special 'dobe mint, for every new gold eagle Uncle Sam had paid his boys for risking their lives in his service, and as the boys had just received a fine new lot of American eagles and always are anxious to get the most silver for them possible, the $22 offer of Benigno had more favor with them than the more conservative proposition of the banks. Besides, Benigno came to them in the person of Mariano, whereas they were obliged to go to the bank, which was somewhat difficult, owing to certain restrictions customary to military life. So they fell upon Mariano joyfully, and he promptly cheated them. They were from South Dakota, and the first Filipino vender of wretched anise brandy on whom they tried Mariano's dollars quickly showed them the very 'dobe quality of Benigno's output, and there was a descent on Mariano, who was caught with the damning evidence in his pockets.

Pursuant to general order No. 8, establishing the provost court, Mariano appeared in due time in the splendid room in the Ayuntamiento, where Colonel Jarrett every morning dispenses justice with the wisdom of the cadi, aided by two interpreters. There Benigno came in, lugged unwittingly by Mariano, who promptly declared that he was but the humble and unworthy tool of the wicked and designing Benigno. There was the first demonstration of the kinship of the world. Now mark the complication and the entry of Olivia.

Benigno lived in Tondo. Between his mansion of Nipa and the arm of the law, as represented in the provost marshal's guard, stretched a line of insurgent soldiers, and there was at that time such feeling between the two forces that rather than risk the provocation of a conflict the provost marshal general decided to let Benigno go unpunished. Not so Olivia. Mariano had duly paid the priest his price, and he and she were one beyond legal possibility of separation. Moreover, Olivia has a woman's wit when him she loves is in danger. She went to see Benigno in Tondo. Mariano was in jail, she said, but she could carry on the business in his place until he got out again. In fact, even at that time in the walled city she had a man waiting ready to buy a large supply of the very 'dobe dollars. The crafty Benigno filled his pockets with his counterfeit and followed Olivia into Manila. In the little shop of a Chinaman on the Calle Real, right near the headquarters of Colonel Reeve's Thirteenth Minnesota police, she left Benigno while she went on to the appointed rendezvous to fetch the purchaser. But the man she brought back with her carried a gun, and Benigno followed Mariano to jail, stripped of the 'dobe dollars which had jingled in his pockets when the soldier took him. In court the next morning he said he was the helpless victim of a wicked woman's wiles. Now both Benigno and Mariano are in prison, but there is a chance for Mariano. The wise men are right, after all. The kinship is demonstrated. For Tondo read Jersey City, for the walled city read New York and wind up with "in the Jefferson market police court yesterday morning," etc.

SALVATION ARMY ABROAD.

Its Crusade Against Betting Throughout All England.

Public betting is generally looked upon as a vulgar habit, an infamous offense against society and a deadly sin against God, and that women should fall so low as to become open gamblers, luring, for a little paltry gain, the young and ignorant to their present and everlasting undoing, is horrible to contemplate. Yet so it is, and the vice is spreading, and the army must rush to the rescue. So, my comrades, form yourselves into brigades and go with pitying hearts on your Christianlike errand. In London, we are told, the women who gamble do so quietly. Barmaids, having such favorable opportunities, are, it is said, among the most astute gamblers. It is in the north of England, however, that the evil is said to be most rampant, women there developing a gambling mania equal in its intensity and evil effects to that of the men.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Sunderland, Stockton-on-Tees and Middlesbrough have made a strenuous effort to put the practice down, but it is still flagrant and unblushingly open. Back streets in Newcastle are sown at no very distant intervals with bookmakers. Walking along, the passerby hears men accosting others with invitations to "have a bit of so and so." Women seem to be their chief customers. * * * At Stockton, on the quay, there is a place known among the people as the "betting ground." Crowds of women jostle the men and laugh at the police. Near by are streets of lodging houses, where most of these women live, spending their time in drinking and discussing "the odds." Where one woman bet 20 years ago, says The Social Gazette, from which we cell these particulars, ten gamble now.—Westminster Budget.

PORTO RICO WOMEN.

They Show More Energy and Industry Than the Men.

In Porto Rico, according to reports of army men, the native women seem to be the energetic members of the household. The men are decidedly indolent. Many women went into the camps of the invading army of the United States and offered for small sums to do the mending and laundering. Their method of washing was a curiosity to the soldiers, who often stood and watched them, for they wash in the streams and use stones in lieu of washboards, then spread the garments on the foliage to dry.

Some of the women keep small stores, in which they sell nearly everything from a paper of pins to a tart. A loaf of bread such as is sold here for 5 cents they divide into pieces and sell them for 2 cents each, the people preferring to buy only sufficient for each meal, or as they want it, instead of in a quantity. Some of the natives on visiting camp were shocked when told that the soldiers were each given a whole loaf of bread each day and ate it too. Said a member of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania to a New York Tribune representative: "One woman told me if I would only be more saving and sell half my loaf each day I would soon be able to start a store and would do well. I don't know what she would have said had she seen me pay $1 for a pie on my way up from Porto Rico. The women are certainly the workers down there."

"Oh, you fellows think you know how to eat pie," said a western boy, "but just come to Wisconsin with us and see the bad attacks of consumption we'll display when we tackle the homemade bread and pie that only Wisconsin mothers know how to make. If our Porto Rican senoritas had such pies to offer about pay day, they would surely make their fortunes."

They Work Alike.

A fly had fallen into the ink well of a certain author who writes a very bad and a very inky hand. The writer's little boy rescued the unhappy insect and dropped him on a piece of paper. After watching him intently for awhile he called to his mother, "Here's a fly, mamma, that writes just like papa."—Current Literature.

BRITISH NAVY READY

Considerable Change Effected in Strengthening England's Naval Forces in the Mediterranean—Sudden War With France Not Feared.

Under the heading, "Are We Ready?" the London Army and Navy Gazette prints a leading editorial in a recent issue that is especially significant in view of Lord Salisbury's speech and the French and British naval activity:

"There are indeed people who say that if we are to have war with France this is the very moment for it, when her councils are distracted by internal faction and when she has not yet developed the navy of the future with which M. Lockroy hopes to dominate in the Mediterranean, if not in the channel.

"It is difficult to determine when the crucial moment to crush an enemy has plainly arrived, but it is certainly not advisable to force the advent of it in order to satisfy any civil or military theories.

"Without reference to the immediate pressure of the Fashoda incident upon the government of Great Britain and what may presently be the government of France, it is quite clear that the duty of responsible statesmen and of departments concerned in the administration of the great spending forces, even in the remote prospect of a conflict with any formidable adversary, is to prepare for mobilization.

"At sea, provided that the naval bases are full up with coal, the details of the fitting out of squadrons and fleets are not so difficult to be worked where there is a settled clerical administration at headquarters.

"When Lord Charles Beresford visited Toulon, the French fleet was in a formidable condition of readiness, and the complete state of that great arsenal, regarded as a naval base, affected him so powerfully that he is credited with proclaiming aloud his conviction that if war were declared between France and Great Britain the true policy for the British admirals in the Mediterranean was to clear out of it as fast as they could, to take refuge, so to speak, under the guns of Gibraltar, there to await re-enforcements from England and to prepare for a naval campaign with the French for the recovery of the Mediterranean from the strait to the shores of the Levant.

"But in some degree, in consequence perhaps of his earnest representations, there has been a considerable change effected on our side in the strengthening of our naval forces in that important sea, and there will be no reason to dread the result of an actual naval war covering the whole of the seaboard from Alexandria westward.

"Malta is now, we are assured, better provided with all that a fleet would need than it was at the time Lord Charles Beresford beheld those terrible mountains of coal, array of crews and equipments for the French fleet at Toulon.

"There is no British admiral who, looking at the vessels available for service, would be at all uneasy at the prospect of a sudden war with France. In the Mediterranean and on other foreign stations our naval squadrons, if not immeasurably superior to any that might be matched with them, are at least strong enough to take the offensive with every hope of success. In the channel the force we could put about is surely sufficiently powerful to deter any French officer from making raids or dashes or experimental cruises along the south coast, up St. George's channel or into the German ocean.

"It is beyond doubt that a contest between the British empire and the French republic must find its outlet at sea, for the results of contests on land, whether in Africa or in Asia, cannot produce such an effect upon the efforts of the fleets as to cause an abandonment by one or by the other of the contending powers of the pretensions which formed the basis of the declaration of grievances from which the war arose."

NEW SOCIETY ORGANIZED.

Soldiers of the Spanish-American War Form a Union.

The other night there was organized in Lexington, Ky., a society which aims to be to the soldiers who enlisted in the Spanish-American war what the Grand Army of the Republic has been to the Federal army of the civil war.

"The Service Men of the Spanish War" is the title of the new society, and the plan of organization was conceived by Captain Wilson I. Davenny, commissary of subsistence of the First brigade, Second division, First army corps. Articles of incorporation have been drafted. This, the primal chapter, has been named Henry Clay camp, No. 1. The following officers were elected: Commander, Colonel Leonard; vice commander, Lieutenant Colonel Banks; adjutant and chief of staff, Captain Davenny; treasurer, Colonel Gunder. A ritual and regulations will be drafted.

The plan of organization provides that the parent organization, Henry Clay camp, No. 1, shall be supreme in all matters pertaining to the ritual and regulations, organization of new camps

If every woman who expects to become a mother would heed and read that great book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. there would be stronger mothers and healthier, happier children in this world.

In this grand volume several hundred of its thousand pages are devoted to teaching women how to take care of themselves during every trying and critical period of their lives and especially at the time of approaching motherhood.

The author of this remarkable work has had a lifetime of practical experience in treating the special diseases and weaknesses of women, and is recognized as one of the foremost of living experts in this particular field of practice. His "Favorite Prescription" is the most wonderful medicine ever invented to restore natural organic strength and power to the delicate feminine structure which is most intimately concerned in motherhood.

Taken during the time of anticipation it deprives this ordeal of all its accustomed terrors and dangers; makes the coming of baby absolutely safe and comparatively painless; renders the mother strong and cheerful, and helps to endow the child with a strong, healthy constitution.

Mrs. Mabel Jordan, of Swiford, Lewis Co., Washington, writes: "I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription until the very last day. We now have a fine, plump little girl over two weeks old. I suffered less pain than with any of the others, this being the sixth child, and she has good health. I got up on the tenth day and dressed myself—something I could not do with the other babies. Have been gaining in strength every day and feel well, all due to God and to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

For the "Medical Adviser," send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, or for cloth-covered copy 31 stamps, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A FELLOW FEELING

Makes East Liverpool People as "Wondrous Kind" as Elsewhere.

A fellow feeling prompts it. We all have troubles of our own. We appreciate assistance. Relief from trouble promotes gratitude. Gratitude promotes publicity. Publicity promotes the public good. A man with a bad back. The kind that aches all day, and doesn't ease at night.

Is a grateful man when his back is cured. He wants to tell his friends about it. Let them know relief can be had. Lots of fellow feeling in East Liverpool.

Doan's Kidney Pills have cured so many backs.

Read what this East Liverpool citizen says:

Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church Alley who is employed in the East Liverpool Pottery Co., says: "I was troubled a great deal with muscular rheumatism, but for three years I settled in my back and kidneys, and caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back, and there was a urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicine, I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time. I highly recommend them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Hair Powder.

The cause of the general disuse of hair powder was the high price of flour. It was thought little less than criminal that flour, which was almost beyond the reach of some of the very poor, should be used by the rich as a mere fashionable luxury of dress. Voluntary associations were formed, the members whereof bound themselves not to use hair powder. In a similar way the abolitionists bound themselves not to use any sugar whose production involved the employment of negro slaves.—Notes and Queries.

WELLSVILLE.

MAY MEET ON MONDAY

Mr. Goetz Returned to Town
Last Night.

MEMBER MINOR WILL LEAVE

And There Will Be Another Vacancy In Council—Sentiment Is Opposed to Five Wards—A Conductor Badly Hurt—All
the News of Wellsville.

Councilman Goetz returned to Wells-ville last night, and it is now believed a meeting of council will be held on Monday evening when the business that has so long been delayed will likely be transacted.

Just when this matter seems settled
another complication appears in the fact that Member Minor, of the Fifth,
is about to move from the city, making another vacancy. Only a short time ago a desperate effort, ending in the courts, gave Wellsville five wards. Now
the argument is that so many men cannot get together to transact business,
and the old order should prevail.

Conductor Culnon Hurt.

Word reached town yesterday that George Culnon, conductor on No. 124,
was badly hurt.

Not many particulars could be learned, but the accident occurred at Newburg. A car which had been run out on a siding was run into by an engine. As a result Culnon was badly cut up about the head. Conductor Culnon is married and lives in Cleveland, but he was born and reared in town, and
has many friends here, who hope to hear

A Memorial Day.

Doctor Holtz has decided to observe
Nov. 27 as memorial day, when tribute can be paid the officers and men who fell in the Spanish war. Doctor Holtz
will be pleased to receive information concerning any deceased soldiers.

The Churches.

First M. E. church, Reverend Earl D.
Holtz, pastor—Morning subject, "The Soul's Satisfaction;" evening subject,
"Our Lock."

Church of Immaculate Conception, J.
A. Halligan, pastor—Usual services will be held tomorrow. In the evening the subject will be "Marriage and Divorce." Evening service begins at

United Presbyterian church—It is expected that the pastor W. A. Littell who has been away on his vacation will fill the pulpit both morning and evening.

Methodist Protestant church, J. A.
Thrapp, pastor—Morning subject, "More Abundant Life;" evening subject, "The Great Salvation."

Christian church, Reverend H. Newton Miller, pastor—Morning subject,
"Stand;" evening subject, "A Beautiful Walk."

First Presbyterian church—It is expected that the newly elected pastor,
Reverend L. Finley Lafferty, will fill

News of Wellsville.

The contest for the gold vestments between the Church of Immaculate Conception and St. Aloysius of Liverpool, will close on November 30. Some effort had been made to have the time competition extended until Dec. 8, but it is authoritatively announced that the original date of closing will be adhered
to.

Brakeman Q. J. Miller still carries a very sore hand as a result of coupling cars in the yards. His physician hopes to be able to save the second finger of the right hand, which is badly crushed.

Miss Jessie Carman, formerly a popular young lady of Wellsville but recently
of Steubenville, is seriously ill at her home in Lincoln avenue, that city, with diphtheria. There is but little hope
for her recovery.

Miss Mamie Perkins and other teachers of the Steubenville schools, visited our schools yesterday. They seemed much pleased with the schools. Miss
Perkins is a niece of Oscar Jenkins,
Main street, and was a guest of the family last night.

Attorney W. F. Lones left this morning for Ft. Wayne. He goes on legal business connected with a will case and will not return before Thursday of next week.

At the residence of A. R. Wells last evening the Methodist Episcopal church
choir was reorganized. Thomas Edwards was retained as leader, but a large number of young people have been

WASHINGTON RELICS.

Articles of Priceless Worth Kept In
the National Museum.

One of the most interesting relics in the National museum at Washington is the camp chest used by Washington throughout the Revolution. It is a compact affair about the size of a tourist's wicker chest for cooking of the present day, 2½ feet long, 2 feet wide, 1 foot high, and it contains an outfit consisting of tinder box, pepper and salt boxes, bottles, knives, forks, gridiron and plates. Every bit of the outfit save one bottle, which is broken at the shoulder, looks strong enough to stand another campaign.

Near by are the tents used by Washington—three in number. One is a sleeping tent, 28 feet long, with walls 6 feet high and a roof with a 6 foot pitch. It is made of linen. The other two are marquee tents of smaller size, one with walls, the other a shelter tent open on the sides. That the tenting material of Revolutionary days was good stuff is proved by the excellent condition of these tents, which sheltered the great commander through all his severe campaigns.

Here also is Washington's uniform, worn by him when he gave up his commission as commander in chief of the army, at Annapolis in 1783. It consists of a big shadbelly coat of blue broadcloth, lined and trimmed with soft buckskin and ornamented with broad, flat brass buttons; buckskin waistcoat and breeches. The size of the garments (which are in a state of excellent preservation) testify to the big stature of the Father of His Country and suggest that he had an eye to a fine appearance in his dress.—Washington Post.

Factories Without Chimneys.

The statement that a chimney, the third or fourth tallest in the world, has just been completed at a cost of $53,- 000, and the announcement that the most gratifying success has attended the use of forced draft, without any chimneys whatever out of the ordinary, appear in contemporary journals. The experiment of forced draft gives promise of great economy in fuel, as well as doing away with the expensive and unornamental chimney. The draft arrangement consists of a large fan, which is connected with a 4 by 4 double cylinder engine. The fan has a wheel 54 inches in diameter and runs at almost any rate of speed desired. The draft is something prodigious and makes it possible to employ fuel of a lower grade than any heretofore used. Instead of the best Cumberland coal, a mixture of Cumberland and screenings has been tried. The cost of operating the fan, even with imperfect apparatus, is something like $800 per annum. The smokestack is scarcely taller than the roof of the building and of less capacity than that heretofore used for such purposes.—New York Ledger.

One Way of Settling It.

An amusing comedy in real life is reported from Paris. A married man was in a cafe near the Opera with his better half one evening and left her for a few moments. While he was absent his wife was insulted. The lady rose from her seat and went to meet her husband. The latter re-entered the cafe in order to chastise the offender. The latter, however, had gone, but the husband found his name and address.

The man was a card printer. The irate husband went to this person's place, but he did not find him at home, so he left his card with the chief shop-man, saying, "Your employer will know what that means."

"All right," rejoined the person addressed, "we shall send up to you tomorrow."

On the following day the indignant husband was amazed to receive a collection of 100 visiting cards in his own name, all beautifully printed, accompanying them being the inevitable bill.
This helped to close the matter, and it is recorded that after brief explanations on both sides the husband paid the bill, and the master printer apologized to the lady.—Pearson's Weekly coast of Africa says he saw a whole village swimming out to the steamer wearing as they swam renovated secondhand "stovepipe" hats in all the glory of the shipped out for sale.

Quite Another Question.

"I could die for you!" he cried passionately.

"Of course," she replied. "But would you?"

saic, you know.—Chicago Post.

the News of Wellsville.

Councilman Goetz returned to Wells-
ville last night, and it is now believed a meeting of council will be held on Mon-
so long been delayed will likely be transacted.

Just when this matter seems settled
another complication appears in the fact that Member Minor, of the Fifth,
is about to move from the city, making
another vacancy. Only a short time
ago a desperate effort, ending in the courts, gave Wellsville five wards. Now
the argument is that so many men cannot get together to transact business,
and the old order should prevail.

Conductor Culnon Hurt.

Word reached town yesterday that
George Culnon, conductor on No. 124,
was badly hurt.

Not many particulars could be learned, but the accident occurred at Newburg. A car which had been run
out on a siding was run into by an engine. As a result Culnon was badly cut up about the head. Conductor Culnon is married and lives in Cleveland, but
has many friends here, who hope to hear

A Memorial Day.

Doctor Holtz has decided to observe
Nov. 27 as memorial day, when tribute
can be paid the officers and men who fell in the Spanish war. Doctor Holtz
will be pleased to receive information
concerning any deceased soldiers.

The Churches.

First M. E. church, Reverend Earl D.
Holtz, pastor--Morning subject, "The Soul's Satisfaction;" evening subject,
"Our Lock."

Church of Immaculate Conception, J.
A. Halligan, pastor--Usual services will be held tomorrow. In the evening the subject will be "Marriage and Divorce." Evening service begins at 8:45.

United Presbyterian church--It is expected that the pastor W. A. Littell
who has been away on his vacation will
ing.

Methodist Protestant church, J. A.
Thrapp, pastor--Morning subject, "More
Great Salvation."

Christian church, Reverend H. Newton Miller, pastor--Morning subject,
"Stand;" evening subject, "A Beautiful Walk."

First Presbyterian church--It is expected that the newly elected pastor,
Reverend L. Finley Lafferty, will fill

News of Wellsville.

The contest for the gold vestments between the Church of Immaculate Conception and St. Aloysius of Liverpool, will close on November 30. Some effort had been made to have the time
competition extended until Dec. 8, but
it is authoritatively announced that the original date of closing will be adhered
to.

Brakeman Q. J. Miller still carries a very sore hand as a result of coupling
cars in the yards. His physician hopes to be able to save the second finger of the
right hand, which is badly crushed.

Miss Jessie Carman, formerly a popular young lady of Wellsville but recently
of Steubenville, is seriously ill at her
home in Lincoln avenue, that city, with diphtheria. There is but little hope
for her recovery.

Miss Mamie Perkins and other teachers of the Steubenville schools, visited
our schools yesterday. They seemed much pleased with the schools. Miss
Perkins is a niece of Oscar Jenkins,
Main street, and was a guest of the
family last night.

Attorney W. F. Lones left this morning for Ft. Wayne. He goes on legal business connected with a will case and will not return before Thursday of next week.

At the residence of A. R. Wells last evening the Methodist Episcopal church
choir was reorganized. Thomas Edwards was retained as leader, but a large number of young people have been

WASHINGTON RELICS.

the National Museum.

One of the most interesting relics in the National museum at Washington is the camp chest used by Washington throughout the Revolution. It is a compact affair about the size of a tourist's wicker chest for cooking of the present day, 2½ feet long, 2 feet wide, 1 foot high, and it contains an outfit consisting of tinder box, pepper and salt boxes, bottles, knives, forks, gridiron and plates. Every bit of the outfit save one bottle, which is broken at the shoulder, looks strong enough to stand another campaign.

Near by are the tents used by Washington--three in number. One is a sleeping tent, 28 feet long, with walls 6 feet high and a roof with a 6 foot pitch. It is made of linen. The other two are marquee tents of smaller size, one with walls, the other a shelter tent open on the sides. That the tenting material of Revolutionary days was good stuff is proved by the excellent condition of these tents, which sheltered the great commander through all his severe campaigns.

Here also is Washington's uniform, worn by him when he gave up his commission as commander in chief of the army, at Annapolis in 1783. It consists of a big shabby coat of blue broadcloth, lined and trimmed with soft buckskin and ornamented with broad, flat brass buttons; buckskin waistcoat and breeches. The size of the garments (which are in a state of excellent preservation) testify to the big stature of the Father of His Country and suggest that he had an eye to a fine appearance in his dress.--Washington Post.

Factories Without Chimneys.

The statement that a chimney, the third or fourth tallest in the world, has just been completed at a cost of $53,000, and the announcement that the most gratifying success has attended the use of forced draft, without any chimneys whatever out of the ordinary, appear in contemporary journals. The experiment of forced draft gives promise of great economy in fuel, as well as doing away with the expensive and unornamental chimney. The draft arrangement consists of a large fan, which is connected with a 4 by 4 double cylinder engine. The fan has a wheel 54 inches in diameter and runs at almost any rate of speed desired. The draft is something prodigious and makes it possible to employ fuel of a lower grade than any heretofore used. Instead of the best Cumberland coal, a mixture of Cumberland and screenings has been tried. The cost of operating the fan, even with imperfect apparatus, is something like $800 per annum. The smokestack is scarcely taller than the roof of the building and of less capacity than that heretofore used for such purposes.--New York Ledger.

One Way of Settling It.

An amusing comedy in real life is reported from Paris. A married man was in a cafe near the Opera with his better half one evening and left her for a few moments. While he was absent his wife was insulted. The lady rose from her seat and went to meet her husband. The latter re-entered the cafe in order to chastise the offender. The latter, however, had gone, but the husband found his name and address.

The man was a card printer. The irate husband went to this person's place, but he did not find him at home, so he left his card with the chief shopman, saying, "Your employer will know what that means."

On the following day the indignant husband was amazed to receive a collection of 100 visiting cards in his own name, all beautifully printed, accompanying them being the inevitable bill. This helped to close the matter, and it is recorded that after brief explanations on both sides the husband paid the bill, and the master printer apologized to the lady.--Pearson's Weekly

Swimmers With Hats.

An Englishman home from the west coast of Africa says he saw a whole village swimming out to the steamer wearing as they swam renovated secondhand "stovepipe" hats in all the glory of the white tissue paper in which they are shipped out for sale.

Quite Another Question.

"I could die for you!" he cried passionately.

"Of course," she replied. "But would you?"

Some girls are so practical and precise, you know.--Chicago Post.

Amsterdam is the nearest European capital to London, being only 199 miles distant.

At the Price Demanded by the Government, and Will Keep Them as Souvenirs of the Campaign--Not Many Army Enlistments.

WOOSTER, Nov. 19.—[Special].—Day by day, the day of muster out draws nigh, and day by day the boys of the Eighth tax their ingenuity to furnish means of amusement during their enforced stay in the little college town. The impressive memorial exercises Wednesday had a sobering effect on the boys, but they are getting back to their old time careless gaiety and good spirits. Major Gould, the paymaster, with a corps of three clerks is here. Adams Express company employes carried into the vault of the Wooster National bank vault a safe containing $100,000 in cold cash Wednesday afternoon. The safe was brought by Paymaster Gould.

The companies turned their rifles over to the government officers Thursday. Many of the soldiers are retaining their guns as souvenirs of service, paying the government the appraisal price.

Captain Tillson is enlisting men for the regular army every day, but the number is not as large as was expected.

Almost Resulted In an Arrest Last Evening.

An amusing incident happened in Market street yesterday evening about 5 o'clock. At that time Andy Rattery had just delivered a barrel of crackers to a man named Schlegle. There was a dispute over the freight bill, and Rattery claims Schlegle called him a liar. Hot words followed, and after he had pushed the expressman out of the store he telephoned for the police. Officer McMillan responded and heard both of the stories. He advised the fish dealer that it was best to let the matter drop, and he did.

That Is the Charge Against James Swaney.

DISAPPEARED FROM A SALOON

And the Police Could Not Find the Accused Kilnhand Until This Afternoon. Jack Delaney Made Too Much Noise In Second Street.

At 10:20 o'clock last night a patrol call was received from the Pittsburg house in Second street, and when it arrived there Officer Woods placed Jack Delaney under arrest. He was taken to jail in the patrol and this morning a charge was placed against him by John Michaels, the owner of the place. Delaney went there early in the evening, and when things did not go just as he liked he immediately began to amuse himself. He will be given a hearing this evening.

Last night about 11 o'clock an elderly man came to city hall from the Exchange saloon, and notified the officers who were there that as he was drinking in the saloon a valise filled with fine tools had in some manner been stolen. The officers got a description of the man who is supposed to have taken it, and this afternoon James Swaney, a kilnhand, was arrested. He will be heard tonight.

A well dressed woman called at city hall this morning and for some time was closeted with Mayor Bough and Chief Johnson. Whether any arrests will result from her visit could not be learned this morning.

The Boy and His Cap.

"I can't find my cap anywhere," is a sentence more or less familiar in the household, that being what the boy says, looking for his cap, when he wants to go out to play. Early in the search he enlists his mother, and that may make a serious business of it. She has to drop her dusting or whatever household work she may be engaged in, and the search may take a long time.

"Where did you put it when you came in?" is a question sure to be asked sooner or later, but all the boy can answer is:

"I don't know."

And then the search goes on everywhere, over and under, in all sorts of places, all at a great loss of time, if not of temper. It is found at last, as most things are in time, and in some simple, easy place, which makes the finding of it all the more exasperating.

The boy takes it and goes out to play and straightway forgets all about it, but it may take quite a little time to restore the normal calm in the house.

It is a mystery how the boy manages to lose his cap as often as he does, but it appears to be a boy's way, and common to almost all. —New York Sun

English Suburban Homes.

In the United States you are far ahead of England in respect to new suburban homes. Whatever may be the faults of the imitations of Richardson—America's greatest architect—or even of the queer gabled and verandaed villas which for some inscrutable reason are named after the good Queen Anne, there is something picturesque about most of these buildings—if it is only the usually good sky line. But the modern suburban homes in England are monotonously ugly. As a rule they are run up in rows by some speculative builder who is his own architect. —Montague Marks in Art Amateur.

Pathetic Scene.

The minstrel man lay dying. He called his eldest son to his bedside and said:

"My boy, I cannot leave you any money; I have spent that as fast as I made it. But you shall inherit the heirloom that I received from my father. It will make you a living; it made his and it made mine."

Then, laying in the hand of the young man the worn and stained joke book, he breathed his last. —Indianapolis Journal.

Rare Pompeii Discovery.

At Pompeii a mosaic life size portrait of a woman, the first antique portrait in mosaic ever discovered, has been found. The workmanship is so fine that it is difficult to discern that it is not a painting.

The Sultan's Throneroom.

The throneroom of the sultan at Constantinople is a gorgeous sight. The gilding is unequalled by any other building in Europe, and from the ceiling hangs a superb Venetian chandelier, the 200 lights of which make a gleam like that of a veritable sun. At each of the four corners of the room tall candelabra in baccarat glass are placed, and the throne is a huge seat covered with red velvet, and having arms and back of pure gold.

WARM CONVERSATION

Almost Resulted in an Arrest Last Evening.

An amusing incident happened in Market street yesterday evening about
5 o'clock. At that time Andy Rattery had just delivered a barrel of crackers to a man named Schlegle. There was a dispute over the freight bill, and Rat-
tery claims Schlegle called him a liar.
Hot words followed, and after he had pushed the expressman out of the store
he telephoned for the police. Officer McMillan responded and heard both of the stories. He advised the fish dealer that it was best to let the matter drop,
and he did.

a most serious one, but the mayor told her that inasmuch as the offense was committed in West Virginia there
the charge would have to be made.
The woman then left the office, saying

TOOK A BOX OF TOOLS

That Is the Charge Against James Swaney.

DISAPPEARED FROM A SALOON

And the Police Could Not Find the Accused Kilnhand Until This Afternoon.
Jack Delaney Made Too Much Noise In Second Street.

At 10:30 o'clock last night a patrol
call was received from the Pittsburg
house in Second street, and when it arrived there Officer Woods placed Jack Delaney under arrest. He was taken to jail in the patrol and this morning a charge was placed against him by John
Michaels, the owner of the place.
Delaney went there early in the evening, and when things did not go just as he liked he immediately began to amuse himself.
He will be given a hearing this evening.

Last night about 11 o'clock an elderly
man came to city hall from the Exchange saloon, and notified the officers
in the saloon a valise filled with fine
tools had in some manner been stolen.
The officers got a description of the man who is supposed to have taken it, and this afternoon James Swaney, a kiln-
tonight.

A well dressed woman called at city hall this morning and for some time was closeted with Mayor Eough and Chief Johnson. Whether any arrests will result from her visit could not be learned this morning.

The Boy and His Cap.

"I can't find my cap anywhere," is a sentence more or less familiar in the household, that being what the boy says,
looking for his cap, when he wants to go out to play. Early in the search he enlists his mother, and that may make a serious business of it. She has to drop
her dusting or whatever household work
she may be engaged in, and the search
may take a long time.

"Where did you put it when you came in?" is a question sure to be asked sooner or later, but all the boy can answer is:

"I don't know."

And then the search goes on everywhere, over and under, in all sorts of places, all at a great loss of time, if not
of temper. It is found at last, as most things are in time, and in some simple,
easy place, which makes the finding of
it all the more exasperating.

The boy takes it and goes out to play
and straightway forgets all about it;
but it may take quite a little time to

It is a mystery how the boy manages to lose his cap as often as he does, but it appears to be a boy's way, and common to almost all. —New York Sun

English Suburban Homes.

In the United States you are far ahead of England in respect to new suburban homes. Whatever may be the faults of the imitations of Richardson
—America's greatest architect—or even
of the queer gabled and verandaed villas which for some inscrutable reason
are named after the good Queen Anne,
there is something picturesque about
most of these buildings—if it is only the usually good sky line. But the modern suburban homes in England are monotonously ugly. As a rule they are run up in rows by some speculative builder who is his own architect. —Montague Marks in Art Amateur.

Pathetic Scene.

The minstrel man lay dying. He called his eldest son to his bedside and
said:

"My boy, I cannot leave you any money; I have spent that as fast as I made it. But you shall inherit the heirloom that I received from my father. It will make you a living; it made his and it made mine."

Then, laying in the hand of the young man the worn and stained joke book, he breathed his last. —Indianapolis Journal.

Rare Pompeii Discovery.

it is difficult to discern that it is not a

The Sultan's Throneroom.
The throneroom of the sultan at Constantinople is a gorgeous sight. The gliding is unequaled by any other building in Europe, and from the ceiling
hangs a superb Venetian chandelier, the 200 lights of which make a gleam like that of a veritable sun. At each of the four corners of the room tall candelabra
in baccarat glass are placed, and the throne is a huge seat covered with red velvet, and having arms and back of pure gold.

CASE DISMISSED BY THE MAYOR

Who Did Not Think the Testimony at the Trial Yesterday Was Sufficient to Hold the Accused--It Was Wound Up Today.

When the NEWS REVIEW's report of the trial of B. Y. Coyne closed yesterday afternoon the witnesses for the defense had just been called.

H. D. Kromer, of Scottsdale, was the first witness called and testified as follows: "I came to this city Monday, as I heard a foot race was on. The race was arranged and I was appointed stakeholder and referee. I had $1,400 before the race started and as it was being given to me Beeler stated that he would not take the money if he won the race. When the race was over we came to the city, and Wednesday afternoon Beeler did not want the money paid to Coyne, although I told him that Coyne was asking for it. When we were counting the money a dispute arose, during which Coyne grabbed the money and ran out."

Cash Grim, of McKeesport, told the following tale: "I have been in the city about two weeks, and met the other men Monday morning. I came here to get a race on with a man named Welch or Smith, and incidentally to get a job in one of the potteries. When we went into O'Malley's saloon Beeler said to me, 'Surely Duke wouldn't keep my money,' and I replied that I thought Coyne thought it was honest. Beeler said he knew he had lost the money, but he wanted it back. Kromer counted out the money and handed it to Coyne, and Mr. Beeler jumped for him and I grabbed Beeler and told him not to shoot, and he gave his gun to some one else. We walked down towards the Diamond and saw two policemen, and I said I suppose they were coming after us. So we remained there until they got us. I knew Beeler had a revolver in his pocket and thought he might shoot. Mr. Coyne was gone then."

B. Y. Coyne, the defendant in the case, was placed on the stand and said: "I live in Toronto, Canada, and have been a professional sprinter since 1884. I have run hundreds of races in that time, some of them in Mexico, Panama, Canada and in all sections of the United States. I have been with Mr. Beeler the last five or six years, and he has been acting as my manager and backer. We came here last Monday for the purpose of arranging a foot race. I had been drinking and he said he would make no match unless I stopped. I continued to drink and he told me he would have nothing more to do with me. I then told him to give me what was coming to me and he gave me $500. He then said he would bet me $500 that he could beat me in a foot race and a match was arranged for $1,400. The race was run on Wednesday and I won it and stayed at the saloon near the race track and didn't see the rest of the party until late last night. Mr. Kromer wanted to give me the money that night, but I told him to keep it until the next day, and he spoke of Beeler saying that he would give me my money back if he had won. I went into O'Malley's saloon in a room back of the bar and told Kromer I wanted my money, and he handed it to me. I knew Henry would make a kick, and I had arranged with Mr. Rinehart to have a buggy in the alley at 12 o'clock. I was not there at that time. I was pretty drunk and told Rinehart I was going to get stake money. My reason for wanting to get out of the city right away was that I wanted to save the money I had won as I knew Beeler would make a kick, and in that event he would get his own money back and I did not care to participate in a law suit. As soon as I realized an officer was following us I came back."

Mayor Bough asked Mr. Beeler if he had ever had trouble of this kind before and he replied: "None, except that I gave a man $1,000 to wager I could outrun another party, and he ran away with it but was brought back and is now serving three years for it, but I didn't get my $1,000 back. That happened three years ago in Wheeling."

Attorney Grosshans then made a lengthy plea for the prisoner and referred to the trouble as nothing but a misunderstanding among the parties. He asked that all the parties be acquitted, and Mayor Bough reserved his decision until 9 o'clock this morning.

This morning Mayor Bough had the prisoners taken from the court room at city hall into his private office where he announced that they were at liberty, as he found the testimony did not justify him in holding Coyne, Grim or Kromer on the charge of robbery.

The $1400 involved in the case was brought from the First National bank, and turned over to Attorney Grosshans, who gave Beeler $1,200 and Coyne $200.

The costs amounting to $23.10 were paid, and Beeler gave Officer Bryan $100 for recovering the money. The amount was divided among the firemen who had part in the arrest.

TALKED OF MANILA.

Captain Palmer Addressed a Large Audience Last Night.

A large audience assembled at the Christian church last night to hear Captain Palmer tell his story of the Philippines. The lecture was intensely interesting, covering as it did the history of the Tenth Pennsylvania from the time it was ordered to Manila until the speaker was discharged. Splendid tributes were paid President McKinley and the members of the cabinet, while the subordinate officers who neglect their men were soundly scored. He also commended the Red Cross for its noble work.

In the audience was Mr. Donaldson, a merchant of New Brighton, who has two sons in B company, of the Tenth, and he, after the lecture, condemned the captain for not giving in detail the battles in which the regiment was engaged, but that was impossible, owing to lack of time. Mr. Donaldson was especially interested because his sons are one pair of nine sets of brothers in the regiment.

EXPECTING BUSINESS.

Importers Think Trade Will Be Good Next Year.

The Crockery Journal has the following on the import trade:

"Reports are to the effect that there is very little trouble in getting spring import orders. The English crockery men have done pretty well in this direction, though they are not doing much for immediate delivery. French houses are all busy, and they are short of stock in most cases. Low priced German dinner sets are in active request, and so are all kinds of fancy goods, with short stocks of desirable kinds."

The one great merit of this treatment is that it cures. There is no longer any question about it. It cures, and cures permanent almost all diseases.

I knew Henry would make a kick, and I had arranged with Mr. Kinehart to have a buggy in the alley at 12 o'clock. I was not there at that time. I was pretty drunk and told Kinehart I was going to get stake money. My reason for wanting to get out of the city right away was that I wanted to save the money I had won as I knew Beeler would make a kick, and in that event he would get his own money back and I did not care to participate in a law suit. As soon as I realized an officer was following us I came back."

Mayor Bough asked Mr. Beeler if he had ever had trouble of this kind before and he replied: "None, except that I gave a man $1,000 to wager I could outrun another party, and he ran away with it but was brought back and is now serving three years for it, but I didn't get my $1,000 back. That happened three years ago in Wheeling."

Attorney Grosshans then made a lengthy plea for the prisoner and referred to the trouble as nothing but a misunderstanding among the parties. He asked that all the parties be acquitted, and Mayor Bough reserved his decision until 9 o'clock this morning.

This morning Mayor Bough had the prisoners taken from the court room at city hall into his private office where he announced that they were at liberty, as he found the testimony did not justify him in holding Coyne, Grim or Kromer on the charge of robbery.

The $1,400 involved in the case was brought from the First National bank, and turned over to Attorney Grosshans, who gave Beeler $1,200 and Coyne $200.

The costs amounting to $23.10 were paid, and Beeler gave Officer Bryan $100 for recovering the money. The amount was divided among the firemen who had part in the arrest.

TALKED OF MANILA. Captain Palmer Addressed a Large Audience Last Night.

A large audience assembled at the Christian church last night to hear Captain Palmer tell his story of the Philippines. The lecture was intensely interesting, covering as it did the history of the Tenth Pennsylvania from the time it was ordered to Manila until the speaker was discharged. Splendid tributes were paid President McKinley and the members of the cabinet, while the subordinate officers who neglect their men were soundly scored. He also commended the Red Cross for its noble work.

In the audience was Mr. Donaldson, a merchant of New Brighton, who has two sons in B company, of the Tenth, and he, after the lecture, condemned the captain for not giving in detail the battles in which the regiment was engaged, but that was impossible, owing to lack of time. Mr. Donaldson was especially interested because his sons are one pair of nine sets of brothers in the regiment.

EXPECTING BUSINESS.

Importers Think Trade Will Be Good Next Year.

The Crockery Journal has the following on the import trade:

"Reports are to the effect that there is very little trouble in getting spring import orders. The English crockery men have done pretty well in this direction, though they are not doing much for immediate delivery. French houses are all busy, and they are short of stock in most cases. Low priced German dinner sets are in active request, and so are all kinds of fancy goods, with short stocks of desirable kinds."

DRUGLESS HEALING

A Complete Success. Dr. Larkins Has Proved It.

It is but fair to state that the new method of curing diseases, introduced by Dr. E. F. Larkins in this city, is a complete success. The people of East Liverpool should give encouragement to this system, for it bids fair to assist greatly in the upbuilding of the future city of East Liverpool.

The one great merit of this treatment is that it cures. There is no longer any question about it. It cures, and cures permanent almost all diseases.

AN ITALIAN SIGN

Took Its Former Owner to Squire Hill For Justice.

This morning Frank Hugo, an Italian, called at the office of Squire Hill and related how he had sold his shoe shop to another Italian named Joe Brown and engaged in business in another part of the city, but Brown persisted in leaving the sign of Hugo above his shop. This, Hugo claimed, hurt his business, and he threatened to get out an injunction, but finally Constable Schenkel was sent to the scene and Brown promised to remove the sign.

THANKS ON THURSDAY

Doctor Crawford Will Preach the Sermon

AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Arrangements Have Been Completed by the Ministers of the City For Union Services to Be Held Thanksgiving Morning at 10:30 O'Clock.

The ministers of the city have completed arrangements for union services to be held Thanksgiving day.

The services will be held in the First Presbyterian church, and the sermon will be delivered by Doctor Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church. They will begin at 10:30 o'clock. Special music will be arranged for the occasion.

It is urged that the attendance be large since there are few people in the city who have no cause for giving thanks.

The News In Lisbon.

LISBON, Nov. 19.—[Special]—James W. Reilly has sued I. M. Dunlap claiming $325.25 with interest from Sept. 9, 1889, on a note dated Jan. 5, 1877. It is secured by mortgage on lot 34, Satineville. He asks for foreclosure. Frederick Seiler has commenced suit against the Rochester Cheese Co. He wants $150, wages.

C. A. West and Flora Palmer and Roy Young and Bridget King were granted marriage licenses.

No Rest.

A comedy scene followed the third act of a tragedy at a theater in an English provincial town. The villain had met his death, and the curtain was lowered, but hung suspended three feet above the stage. All efforts to lower it proved unavailing until the corpse arose from the stage, and said, in sepulchral tones, as he dragged down the curtain, "No rest, even in the g-r-r-r-ave!"—London Fun.

Perhaps It Was a Joke.

MUST KNOW THE AGE

Of All Boys Employed in the Potteries.

NOTICES BEING SENT TO PARENTS

Manufacturing Concerns Have Grown Weary of Taking Risks, and Want to Know When Their Employees Were Born. A Result of Inspector Hull's Visit.

The manufacturing potters are doing everything in their power to aid Inspector Hull in his work in the city.

Many of the potters have sent out cards to the parents of children asking them to please send the date of their children's birth to the office of the plant in order that they may know exactly the age of the children in their employ. The reason given for this is that a great many of the children know the business of Inspector Hull and also know the age limit, and do not have much hesitancy in telling him they are over 16 when they are considerably less. There is a heavy penalty attached for employing child labor, and to avoid all prospects of difficulties that may arise the potters are taking the best method they know to overcome child labor in the potteries.

Inspector Hull has not yet completed his work in the city, and is still a busy man. His visit has increased the work of Truant Officer Beardmore to some extent, as the children who have been taken out of the potteries do not evidence a great desire to go to school. Several of the school rooms are also crowded, and in the room of Miss Fowler, East End, there are now 68 scholars.

SOME CHANGES

In the Schedule Which Goes into Effect Tomorrow.

The new schedule which goes into effect on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road tomorrow at noon has been received in this city.

Contrary to rumors several changes have been made. Train 335, west bound, due at 8:20, will come in at 8:17 or 3 minutes earlier. Train 336, east bound, now arriving at 13:07, will arrive at 12:15 on the new schedule. The Pittsburg and Bellaire accommodation due at 4:30 p. m. will arrive at 4:08 or 12 minutes earlier.

The schedule is a surprise to many railroad men in this section, as the only change which was expected was the change of the train now due at 7:14 to something earlier.

On the River.

There was a slight fall in the river during the night, and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 9 feet and falling slowly. The old saying among rivermen that if there is good water in November it will be good all winter is, from present indications, correct.

Every packet is now running regularly, and their owners are doing a large business.

The Virginia, Avalon and Lorena will be down tonight, and each boat will receive a lot of freight from this place. A number of passengers to way points will also embark from this city.

The Sunday boats, Keystone State, Kanawha, Ben Har and Argand will be up as usual. All the boats are expected to arrive before noon.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning Nov. 20.—Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M.—Topic, Praise and Thanksgiving.

Scripture Reading.—Ps. ciii.—"Bless the Lord, all His works, in all places of His dominion! Bless the Lord, O my soul!"

To receive benefits and not express appreciation is universally condemned. The old adage "One good turn deserves another" shows the general sense of the people that a kindness given should be reciprocated. The obligation goes deeper than the mere outward act. As a deed of love outwardly expresses the inner feeling of affection, so the person receiving it should not only show outward signs of gratitude, but is under obligation to regard the benefactor with thankfulness and affection. Nothing so fully reveals an evil heart as ingratitude. It is the basest of sins and leads to the foulest crimes. Gratitude is the safeguard of the soul. One who finds himself lacking in real hearty gratitude for benefits received should be alarmed and set about correcting his condition. To receive attentions and gifts as a matter of course and right does not indicate a royal soul, as some seem to think, but does show the spirit of the pauper and perhaps the thief.

The person who chafes under the reception of gifts and is restless until an exact equivalent has been returned also exhibits a mean and essentially unthankful disposition. True nobility of nature finds joy in receiving attentions, gifts and expressions of regard, conscious that they are outward signs of inner friendliness. All genuine worthiness rejoices to receive tokens of regard, but finds greater pleasure in giving. It is natural, indeed inevitable, that a full fountain should overflow. So all generous natures spontaneously gush out with helpfulness to others, and are happiest when making others happy. So, when they receive from others they are pleased, because they recognized in others the same blessed springs of action they possess themselves and share in the happiness of mutual possession.

The devout soul sees God in all he has of goods and blessings. He recognizes the Divine One as everywhere present in the world in power and merciful kindness. He recognizes his obligation to the Lord for life and all its benefits. Gratitude springs up, and the more he knows of God in Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit the more freely does he come to believe in and trust the Father all holy, and in equal measure the inner life is filled with praise and the mouth is filled with thanksgiving.

At this season of the year the ingathering of harvests leads to formal expressions of gratitude to God the Giver. The public service is valuable. The national thanksgiving with all its time honored festivities should be kept, but personal gratitude should lead to more than this. It requires complete enlistment of all powers in the service of Him who is "the giver of every good and perfect gift."

City Road Chapel.

Beyond question the most noted church building in Methodism is the Wesley chapel, City Road, London. The parish church at Epworth is not now and never was the property of Methodists, but always belonged to the church of England. The "Old Foundry" was the first preaching house of the denomination in London, but has long since disappeared. At City Road chapel was the favorite residence of John Wesley. His house is still occupied by the superintendent of the circuit and by a museum of Wesley mementos recently collected there for preservation. The interior of the chapel remains in much the same condition as it was when Wesley preached there. It stands back quite a distance from the street. On the opposite side of the street is Bunhill Fields burying ground, where Susannah Wesley, the mother of John, lies buried. The body of John Wesley lies in a tomb behind the chapel. Ten others are buried in the same tomb, and 5,000 Methodists lie buried near their great leader.

The Inscription.

For many hundreds of years the meaning of the picture writing on the obelisks and temple walls of Egypt was unknown. In the latter part of the last century the key to the mystery was found, and now the multitude can read the message of the monuments. One of the most ancient of inscriptions in the land is that written on the obelisk of On. The translation of it reads: "The Horus, the living from his birth; the king of upper and lower Egypt, Ra Kheper Ka; lord of the two diadems, son of the sun, Useratesen, the loved of the god of Heliopolis from his birth, ever living. The golden Horus, the good god. Ra Kheper Ka, to the cele-

More things are wrought by prayer Than this world dreams of, wherefore let thy voice Rise like a fountain for me night and day, For what are men better than sheep or goats That nourish a blind life within the brain? If, knowing God, they lift not hands in prayer, Both for themselves and those who call them friends? For so the whole round world is every way Bound by gold chains about the feet of God.

—Henry Elliott Mott.

NEW NATIONAL SOCIETY.

Organized to Foster True Patriotism and Honor Heroes of the War.

The National Society of the Spanish-American war, an outgrowth of the relief work done by some of the patriotic women during the late war, has been organized. Before the peace protocol was signed the women of Carlisle, Pa.; Grand Rapids and Baltimore started a movement to found local memorial societies, which has resulted in the organization of the National society with the following officers: President, Clara Barton; vice presidents, Mrs. John A. Logan, Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley and Major General Nelson A. Miles; secretary, Dr. Hildegard H. Langsdorff of Carlisle, Pa.; chairman of the executive committee, Professor Guy Carleton Lee, Johns Hopkins university. The National advisory council is composed of the governors of the various states, together with other prominent Americans. The headquarters of the society are at Baltimore, and local councils of the society may, upon approval of the executive council, be formed in any community.

Membership in the society is open to all patriotic white Americans. Applications for membership must be approved by the executive council. Men and women share equally in the honors and duties of membership. The badge is a circular field of dark blue enamel, the edge of the field being worked into 13 points. On the field are 13 golden stars encircling the letters "L. W. F.," which stand for the motto of the society. This is, "Lest We Forget."

The executive officers wear signet rings in the form of eagles' claws grasping a card, upon which are engraved the letters "L. W. F." and the insignia of the rank of the wearer. The membership fee, payable to the National society, is $1 yearly. Patrons and patronesses pay $5 each year, and life members pay $100 in one payment. The local fees are regulated by the local councils. The local councils have great freedom of action. All that is required of them is unswerving fidelity to the purposes of the National society, the payment of the dues and certain work on Memorial day. All other work is left to the local authorities.

The purposes of the society are the building of a battle monument to the heroic dead of the Spanish-American war and the creation of a fund from which to provide memorial lectures commemorating the brave deeds of both the fallen heroes and courageous survivors of the last war. By means of these examples the society hopes to inculcate and foster true patriotism. It will issue from time to time to the press copy for readable articles of a patriotic nature. The main object of the society is "to train the youth of the land, by the examples of the last war, in good citizenship and earnest patriotism."—New York Tribune.

MILITARY NOSTALGIA CURE.

Colored Soldiers in Cuba Are Taking It, and Their Sweethearts Mourn.

Dr. Harrison, a colored physician of Wichita, Kan., recently received a letter from one of the Wichita boys with the Twenty-third Kansas volunteers, the colored regiment now at San Luis de Cuba, which has caused consternation among the colored people, and especially the women who had husbands or sweethearts in the company. In that letter the soldier states that six members of the Wichita company are engaged to marry Cuban girls and that many other members of the regiment are in love with Cuban and half breed Spanish women, who are said to be unusually good looking and attractive.

There were a number of married men among the recruits and others who had promised to marry Wichita girls on their return. It is the women who unwillingly allowed their sweethearts to go to Cuba that are most worried. They are afraid their "men" will fall prey to the attractions of the tropical amorettes and never come back to them. The letter says that it is probable that if the colored troops remain there a year almost one-half of them will marry natives and remain there.

The reason assigned for the wholesale slaughter of soldier hearts is that when the troops went there almost all of the boys were homesick and downhearted, and about the only relief they could find was in the smiles and charms of the beautiful native women. Then they learned something of the language love's charms were working and soon the soldier boys (some of them) forgot all about being homesick, so much were they enamored with their new sweethearts.—Topeka Capital.

The use of coal for house heating is not nearly so general in Europe as in this country.

DOORS OF VENEER.

Few Doors, Not Even the More Costly, Made of Solid Wood.

The very finest of doors are made nowadays of veneer on a body of pine. Even when made of mahogany or some other costly wood doors have to be veneered. The body of the door is made of a plain, straight grained mahogany, while the surfaces are veneers of fine wood.

In the finest doors the body is made of selected white pine, free from sap and perfectly seasoned, which is cut into narrow strips and then glued together. The outer edges of this door are faced with what is called a veneer, but which is really a strip of the fine wood half an inch or more in thickness. The inner edges of the frame, by the panels, are covered in the same manner with thick strips, in which the ornamental moldings or carvings are made and which are grooved to receive the panels.

This built up frame of white pine, with edges of the fine wood, is then veneered with the fine wood. In some lighter doors the panels may be of solid mahogany, but in the finer, larger and heavier doors the panels also are made of sheets of white pine with a veneering of the fine wood, so that the entire door is veneered.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to procure at any cost mahogany lumber in fine and beautiful woods of sufficient size for the larger doors. The built up and veneered door of pine wood, however, has every appearance of a solid door, and, made of selected veneers, it may be more beautiful than a solid door would be. It is more serviceable and remains longer perfect. Its cost is about half what a solid door would cost.—New York Sun.

Taylor's Wonderful Pistol Shooting.

The world's ten shot pistol record was broken in Philadelphia the other day by C. H. Taylor of the Massachusetts Rifle association. The shooting took place at Lansdowne, a suburb of Philadelphia. Taylor scored the highest possible score of 100. He placed ten consecutive shots within the ten circle, 8 1-3 inches in diameter, at 52 1-2 measured yards. Taylor is the only person who ever succeeded in doing this. The previous record, which has stood since 1888, was 99, by E. J. Darlington of Wilmington, Del.—New York World.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only, spring months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Label.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union-made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a hat from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the clear box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

MUST KNOW THE AGE

NOTICES BEING SENT TO PARENTS

Manufacturing Concerns Have Grown Weary of Taking Risks, and Want to Know When Their Employees Were Born. A Result of Inspector Hull's Visit.

The manufacturing potters are doing everything in their power to aid Inspector Hull in his work in the city.

Many of the potters have sent out cards to the parents of children asking them to please send the date of their children's birth to the office of the plant in order that they may know exactly the age of the children in their employ. The reason given for this is that a great many of the children know the business of Inspector Hull and also know the age limit, and do not have much hesitancy in telling him they are over 16 when they are considerably less. There is a heavy penalty attached for employing child labor, and to avoid all prospects of difficulties that may arise the potters are taking the best method they know to overcome child labor in the potteries.

Inspector Hull has not yet completed his work in the city, and is still a busy man. His visit has increased the work of Truant Officer Beardmore to some extent, as the children who have been taken out of the potteries do not evidence a great desire to go to school. Several of the school rooms are also crowded, and in the room of Miss Fowler, East End, there are now 68 scholars.

SOME CHANGES

In the Schedule Which Goes into Effect Tomorrow.

The new schedule which goes into effect on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road tomorrow at noon has been received in this city.

Contrary to rumors several changes have been made. Train 335, west bound, due at 8:20, will come in at 8:17 or 3 minutes earlier. Train 336, east bound, now arriving at 12:07, will arrive at 12:15 on the new schedule. The Pittsburgh and Bellaire accommodation due at 4:30 p. m. will arrive at 4:08 or 12 minutes earlier.

The schedule is a surprise to many railroad men in this section, as the only change which was expected was the change of the train now due at 7:14 to something earlier.

On the River.

There was a slight fall in the river during the night, and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 9 feet and falling slowly. The old saying among rivermen that if there is good water in November it will be good all winter is, from present indications, correct.

Every packet is now running regularly, and their owners are doing a large business.

The Virginia, Avalon and Lorena will be down tonight, and each boat will receive a lot of freight from this place. A number of passengers to way points will also embark from this city.

The Sunday boats, Keystone State, Kanawha, Ben Har and Argand will be up as usual. All the boats are expected to arrive before noon.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning Nov. 20.—Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M.—Topic, Praise and Thanksgiving.

To receive benefits and not express appreciation is universally condemned. The old adage "One good turn deserves another" shows the general sense of the people that a kindness given should be reciprocated. The obligation goes deeper than the mere outward act. As a deed of love outwardly expresses the inner feeling of affection, so the person receiving it should not only show outward signs of gratitude, but is under obligation to regard the benefactor with thankfulness and affection. Nothing so fully reveals an evil heart as ingratitude. It is the basest of sins and leads to the foulest crimes. Gratitude is the safeguard of the soul. One who finds himself lacking in real hearty gratitude for benefits received should be alarmed and set about correcting his condition. To receive attentions and gifts as a matter of course and right does not indicate a royal soul, as some seem to think, but does show the spirit of the pauper and perhaps the thief.

The person who chafes under the reception of gifts and is restless until an exact equivalent has been returned also exhibits a mean and essentially unthankful disposition. True nobility of nature finds joy in receiving attentions, gifts and expressions of regard, conscious that they are outward signs of inner friendliness. All genuine worthiness rejoices to receive tokens of regard, but finds greater pleasure in giving. It is natural, indeed inevitable, that a full fountain should overflow. So all generous natures spontaneously gush out with helpfulness to others, and are happiest when making others happy. So, when they receive from others they are pleased, because they recognized in others the same blessed springs of action they possess themselves and share in the happiness of mutual possession.

The devout soul sees God in all he has of goods and blessings. He recognizes the Divine One as everywhere present in the world in power and merciful kindness. He recognizes his obligation to the Lord for life and all its benefits. Gratitude springs up, and the more he knows of God in Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit the more freely does he come to believe in and trust the Father all holy, and in equal measure the inner life is filled with praise and the mouth is filled with thanksgiving.

At this season of the year the ingathering of harvests leads to formal expressions of gratitude to God the Giver. The public service is valuable. The national thanksgiving with all its time honored festivities should be kept, but personal gratitude should lead to more than this. It requires complete enlistment of all powers in the service of Him who is "the giver of every good and perfect gift."

City Road Chapel.

Beyond question the most noted church building in Methodism is the Wesley chapel, City Road, London. The parish church at Epworth is not new and never was the property of Methodists, but always belonged to the church of England. The "Old Foundry" was the first preaching house of the denomination in London, but has long since disappeared. At City Road chapel was the favorite residence of John Wesley. His house is still occupied by the superintendent of the circuit and by a museum of Wesley mementos recently collected there for preservation. The interior of the chapel remains in much the same condition as it was when Wesley preached there. It stands back quite a distance from the street. On the opposite side of the street is Bunhill Fields burying ground, where Susannah Wesley, the mother of John, lies buried. The body of John Wesley lies in a tomb behind the chapel. Ten others are buried in the same tomb, and 5,000 Methodists lie buried near their great leader.

The Inscription.

For many hundreds of years the meaning of the picture writing on the obelisks and temple walls of Egypt was unknown. In the latter part of the last century the key to the mystery was found, and now the multitude can read the message of the monuments. One of the most ancient of inscriptions in the land is that written on the obelisk of On. The translation of it reads: "The Horus, the living from his birth; the king of upper and lower Egypt, Ra Kheper Ka; lord of the two diadems, son of the sun, Useratesen, the loved of the god of Heliopolis from his birth, ever living. The golden Horus, the good god, Ra Kheper Ka, to the celebration of the panegyry. He (has) made (this obelisk) the eternal generator."

More things are wrought by prayer Than this world dreams of, wherefore let thy voice Rise like a fountain for me night and day. For what poor men better than sheep or goats That nourish a blind life within the brain If, knowing God, they lift not hands in prayer Both for themselves and those who call them friends? For so the whole round world is every way Bound by gold chains about the feet of God.

—Henry Elliott Mott.

NEW NATIONAL SOCIETY.

Organized to Foster True Patriotism and Honor Heroes of the War.

The National Society of the Spanish-American war, an outgrowth of the relief work done by some of the patriotic women during the late war, has been organized. Before the peace protocol was signed the women of Carlisle, Pa.; Grand Rapids and Baltimore started a movement to found local memorial societies, which has resulted in the organization of the National society with the following officers: President, Clara Barton; vice presidents, Mrs. John A. Logan, Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley and Major General Nelson A. Miles; secretary, Dr. Hildegard H. Langsdorff of Carlisle, Pa.; chairman of the executive committee, Professor Guy Carleton Lee, Johns Hopkins university. The National advisory council is composed of the governors of the various states, together with other prominent Americans. The headquarters of the society are at Baltimore, and local councils of the society may, upon approval of the executive council, be formed in any community.

Membership in the society is open to all patriotic white Americans. Applications for membership must be approved by the executive council. Men and women share equally in the honors and duties of membership. The badge is a circular field of dark blue enamel, the edge of the field being worked into 13 points. On the field are 13 golden stars encircling the letters "L. W. F.," which stand for the motto of the society. This is, "Let Us Forget."

The executive officers wear signet rings in the form of eagles' claws grasping a card, upon which are engraved the letters "L. W. F." and the insignia of the rank of the wearer. The membership fee, payable to the National society, is $1 yearly. Patrons and patronesses pay $5 each year, and life members pay $100 in one payment. The local fees are regulated by the local councils. The local councils have great freedom of action. All that is required of them is unswerving fidelity to the purposes of the National society, the payment of the dues and certain work on Memorial day. All other work is left to the local authorities.

The purposes of the society are the building of a battle monument to the heroic dead of the Spanish-American war and the creation of a fund from which to provide memorial lectures commemorating the brave deeds of both the fallen heroes and courageous survivors of the last war. By means of these examples the society hopes to inculcate and foster true patriotism. It will issue from time to time to the press copy for readable articles of a patriotic nature. The main object of the society is "to train the youth of the land, by the examples of the last war, in good citizenship and earnest patriotism."—New York Tribune.

MILITARY NOSTALGIA CURE.

Colored Soldiers in Cuba Are Taking It, and Their Sweethearts Mourn.

Dr. Harrison, a colored physician of Wichita, Kan., recently received a letter from one of the Wichita boys with the Twenty-third Kansas volunteers, the colored regiment now at San Luis de Cuba, which has caused consternation among the colored people, and especially the women who had husbands or sweethearts in the company. In that letter the soldier states that six members of the Wichita company are engaged to marry Cuban girls and that many other members of the regiment are in love with Cuban and half bred Spanish women, who are said to be unusually good looking and attractive.

There were a number of married men among the recruits and others who had promised to marry Wichita girls on their return. It is the women who unwillingly allowed their sweethearts to go to Cuba that are most worried. They are afraid their "men" will fall prey to the attractions of the tropical amorettes and never come back to them. The letter says that it is probable that if the colored troops remain there a year almost one-half of them will marry natives and remain there.

The reason assigned for the wholesale slaughter of soldier hearts is that when the troops went there almost all of the boys were homesick and downhearted, and about the only relief they could find was in the smiles and charms of the beautiful native women. Then they learned something of the language love's charms were working and soon the soldier boys (some of them) forgot all about being homesick, so much were they enamored with their new sweethearts.—Topeka Capital.

The use of coal for house heating is not nearly so general in Europe as in this country.

DOORS OF VENEER.

Few Doors, Not Even the More Costly, Made of Solid Wood.

The very finest of doors are made nowadays of veneer on a body of pine. Even when made of mahogany or some other costly wood doors have to be veneered. The body of the door is made of a plain, straight grained mahogany, while the surfaces are veneers of fine wood.

In the finest doors the body is made of selected white pine, free from sap and perfectly seasoned, which is cut into narrow strips and then glued together. The outer edges of this door are faced with what is called a veneer, but which is really a strip of the fine wood half an inch or more in thickness. The inner edges of the frame, by the panels, are covered in the same manner with thick strips, in which the ornamental moldings or carvings are made and which are grooved to receive the panels.

This built up frame of white pine, with edges of the fine wood, is then veneered with the fine wood. In some lighter doors the panels may be of solid mahogany, but in the finer, larger and heavier doors the panels also are made of sheets of white pine with a veneering of the fine wood, so that the entire door is veneered.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to procure at any cost mahogany lumber in fine and beautiful woods of sufficient size for the larger doors. The built up and veneered door of pine wood, however, has every appearance of a solid door, and, made of selected veneers, it may be more beautiful than a solid door would be. It is more serviceable and remains longer perfect. Its cost is about half what a solid door would cost.—New York Sun.

Taylor's Wonderful Pistol Shooting.

The world's ten shot pistol record was broken in Philadelphia the other day by C. H. Taylor of the Massachusetts Rifle association. The shooting took place at Lansdowne, a suburb of Philadelphia. Taylor scored the highest possible score of 100. He placed ten consecutive shots within the ten circle, 8 1/8 inches in diameter, at 52 1/2 measured yards. Taylor is the only person who ever succeeded in doing this. The previous record, which has stood since 1888, was 99, by E. J. Darlington of Wilmington, Del.—New York World.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the R. C. N. P. A.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only—bring months named in lower left hand corner with properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Label.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe work. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

DIRECTOR FILSON DEAD

Passed Suddenly Away at His Home Near Lisbon.

OFFICIAL FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS

His Efforts Have Been Directed Toward the Upbuilding of the County Infirmary, and Have Been Eminently Successful. He Was Well and Favorably Known.

LISBON, Nov. 19.—[Special].—C. D. Filson, infirmary director, died yesterday at his home west of Lisbon at 1:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be held Monday, but the hour has not yet been set.

Mr. Filson has been ill for a week or more, but his condition was not considered serious until a few days ago. He was given every care and attention possible, but yesterday morning became suddenly worse and died at the hour noted.

Mr. Filson was about 65 years of age, and with the exception of one year has been identified with the county infirmary as director. His efforts have during that time been directed toward building up the institution, and to him is due in a measure the splendid home for the poor of the county. He was an honest man, upright in all his dealings, and known far and wide as a good citizen and safe official. He had no children, but his wife survives him.

The vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Filson will, according to the provisions of the statute, be filled by the commissioners until there can be an election. At the next election for county officers there will be two candidates for infirmary director, one being for the short term.

LISBON'S NEW BANK.

Said Men of the County Seat Have Made Application.

The Washington correspondent of the Cleveland Leader says this of Lisbon's proposed national bank:

"A new national bank will be established at Lisbon, to cover the field held by the defunct First National bank, which was wrecked by the misappropriations of Cashier Child. The application to establish the institution was filed by I. B. Cameron, ex-treasurer of Columbiana county, and at present receiver of the First National; George B. Harvey, C. W. Bray, N. B. Billingsley, and James Charters. The bank is to be known as the Lisbon National bank, and its capital will be $50,000. The comptroller of the currency today approved the application."

RACING ON THE RIVER.

Rival Packets Are at It Almost Every Day.

The steamers Greenwood and Will J. Cummins had another race Thursday. It is said that the Cummins waited at Wheeling for the Greenwood to arrive there and that they started up the river together. The Greenwood is a new boat and her machinery is said to be in good working order. The Cummins found her more than a match this trip and when the Greenwood had reached Wellburg, it is said that the Cummins was about a mile in the rear.

The Ben Hur and Urania also raced down the Ohio Thursday afternoon. They both left Pittsburgh at 4 o'clock, and when they got to the Davis Island dam they were both together and were going as fast as their power would carry them.

Excursion Rates For Thanksgiving.

For the accommodation of persons who wish to make Thanksgiving day trips, non-transferable excursion tickets will be sold Thursday, November 24, from ticket stations on the Pennsylvania lines West of Pittsburg to any station on those lines within 150 miles of the selling point. Tickets for adults will be sold for less than 25 cents, nor for children for less than 15 cents. Excursion tickets will be good returning up to and including Friday, November 25. For details apply to nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 20.—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—"Praise the Lord."—Ps. cxlviii, 1-20. (A Thanksgiving meeting.)

It is probable that this psalm was an anthem written for use in the second temple. It praises God for various attributes, but especially commemorates His goodness in bringing back His people from their captivity and rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem. "The Lord doth build up Jerusalem; He gathereth together the outcasts of Israel." This psalm suggests that we should—

1. Praise the Lord for spiritual blessings (verses 1-6). The greatest blessings that came as a result of the return from the captivity were the spiritual blessings, and the psalmist gives directly as a cause for praise to the Lord that "He healeth the broken in heart and bindeth up the wounds." God has given us great spiritual blessings in the past year, for which we should render thanks and praise unto Him. Skepticism and rationalism are on the decline, and an unusual interest is manifested in various ways in the highest and truest forms of spirituality. Today in the religious life of the world is pre-eminently the day of the Holy Ghost.

2. Praise the Lord for temporal blessings (verses 7-11). "Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving * * * who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh the grass to grow upon the mountains. He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens, which cry." God's providential care of both man and beast calls for our continual thanksgiving. Our country has been especially and wonderfully blessed in temporal blessing the past year. While some nations have suffered recently from failure of crops, our farms have been full and overflowing. This year has been no exception. Fruits abundant have been borne by our trees, and our fields have yielded unusual crops—causes of thanksgiving to God.

3. Praise the Lord for ecclesiastical blessings (verses 12-15). For protection, for blessing, for peace and plenty the church is called upon to praise the Lord. The church today richly and abundantly enjoys all these blessings. It has protection. It never was more secure from danger and harm. The children of the church have been abundantly blessed. The church has peace. It never had a more desirable peace. Ecclesiastical strife and contentions have almost disappeared. It is the era of ecclesiastical good feeling, and Christian endeavor has done much to make it so.

4. Praise the Lord for national blessings (verse 20). "He hath not dealt so with any nation." The history of the past year again applies these words to our beloved nation. He hath given us a wonderful victory over our enemies at an unusually small cost, in an unexpectedly short time. For what greater blessings could we thank God as a nation than for decisive victory in war and a speedy peace?

Unfortunate Mary Wollstonecraft.

Conspicuous among the brilliant and beautiful women of her time was the lovely and every way unfortunate Mary Wollstonecraft Godwin, the first agitator of the question of "woman's rights." No woman, with the exception of Mme. de Staël, made so great an impression on the public mind. Her new and startling doctrines were seized with an avidity scarcely credible at this day, and her famous book, "The Vindication of the Rights of Women," was the theme of the most universal praise and abuse.

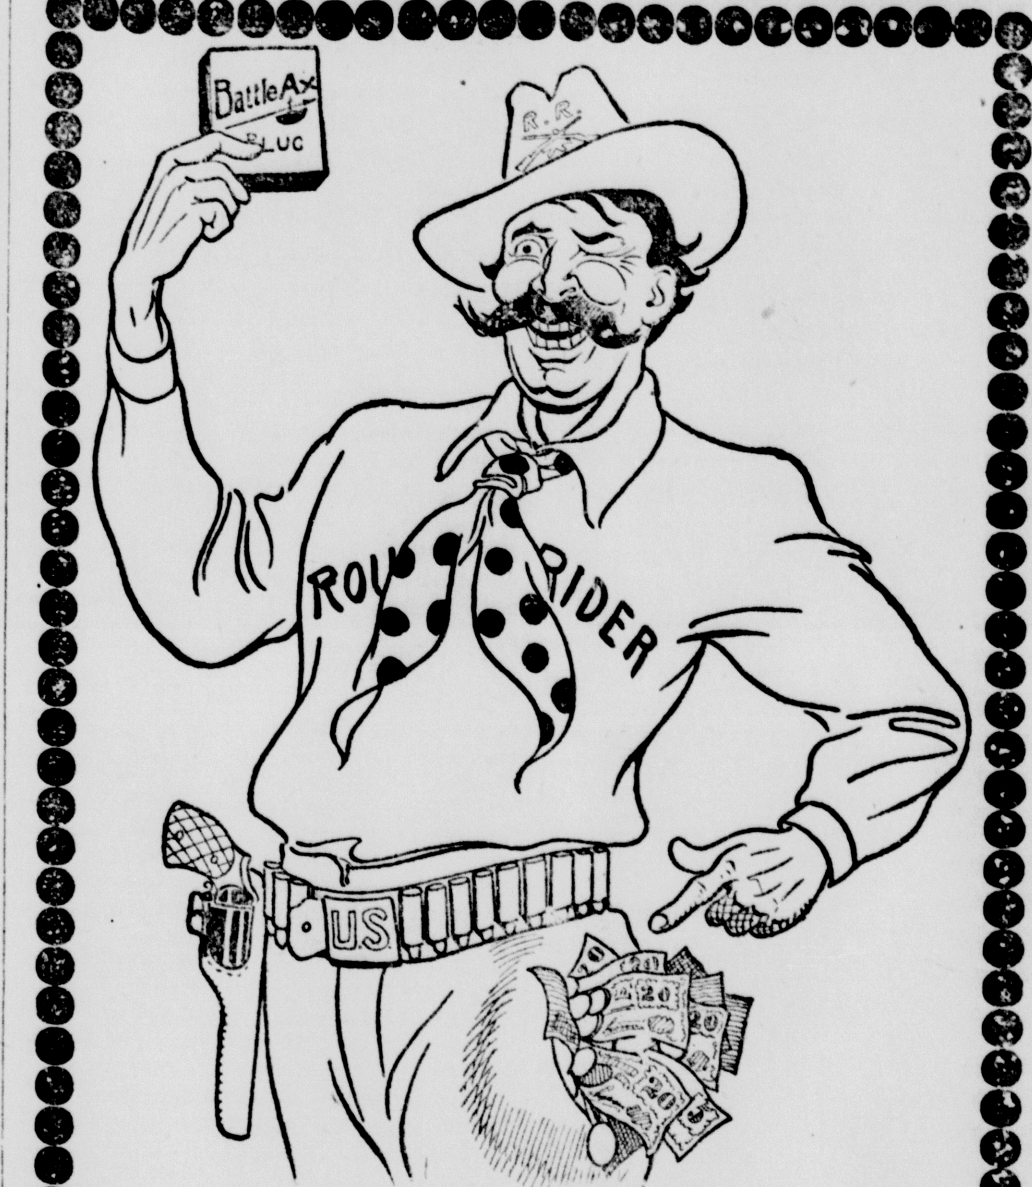

Thomas Paine, the author of "The Rights of Man," was one of her familiar acquaintances, but their intercourse was an argument, their views neither on this subject nor any other coinciding. In these arguments Paine either lost his temper or became sulky, and the woman champion won an easy victory.

Until her marriage with Mr. Godwin she was the friend of Mrs. Siddons, but she, with the majority of her admirers, declined to sanction this union, for she had married some years before an American called Inlay, to whom she had been a most devoted wife. The man, however, took advantage of the fact that the marriage was only a civil one, performed in Paris, and deserted her. She then married Mr. Godwin, but this act placed her in a position no charity could explain away. Death, however, soon covered her faults with a pitiful oblivion. She left an infant daughter a few hours old, who afterward became the wife of Percy Bysshe Shelley.—Exchange.

PARIS' LATEST DUEL.

In Broad Daylight and With Photographers and Other Necessities.

Foreign journals have commented with enthusiasm on the recent duel between M. Paulmier, deputy, and M. Turat, journalist. Of course Paris was the stage for the comedy, but the way in which the play was put on differed from old time methods. There was nothing secret about this encounter. Dumas would have been in despair over the fashion in which it was managed. Instead of stealing off in the pale light of dawn the combatants waited until 10 o'clock and then departed for the field of the fray at the head of an imposing procession. In the landaus carrying the duelists were the seconds and the doctors. Following them were 40 carriages, 20 bicycles and a wagonload of photographic apparatus. All of the friends of the duelists were on hand; also the members of the fencing classes to which the two principals belong, all the noted amateurs in dueling, the professors of fencing, sword champions and sporting men in general.

The procession filed to the spot chosen for the duel, but when the ground was reached it was judged unsuitable, and the cortege explored Passy in search of another stage setting. One place was approved by the dueling experts, but the photographers protested that the place would be most inconvenient for them. So the search continued. At last the courtyard of a factory belonging to the Comte de Dion was chosen. M. le Comte was charmed, and, constituting himself master of ceremonies, installed the spectators at the factory windows. The photographers caused considerable delay, because of difficulties met in adjusting their cameras at advantageous angles. At one time it looked as though those difficulties would necessitate a return to the carriages and a further search, but finally all was satisfactorily arranged, and the duel began.

Then came a still greater departure from the dueling code. So far, one had been treated to comedy. One expects nothing but comedy in the modern duel. But M. Turat and M. Paulmier realized that this was no ordinary occasion. The public must have its money's worth, and it did. The duelists plunged from comedy into melodrama and hinted at tragedy. They fought six furious rounds, apparently with grim earnestness, and one man was wounded seriously. Then the curtain fell. Every one was satisfied, even the wounded man, but as to M. Turat's opinion of M. Paulmier that probably was not affected by their double star cast.—New York Sun.

LIBBY PRISON SENTINELS.

Silent Guardians of Old Confederate Prison Now Wear the Blue.

The two stolid soldiers that keep silent sentinel over Libby prison in Chicago now wear the blue uniform, and therein lies a story full of significance and beauty.

When that historic old Confederate prison was brought to Chicago in 1893 from Richmond, where it did service in the civil strife, and was re-erected on the South Side, two soldier statues were placed upon the front parapet to stand guard. One was clad in blue, the other in gray, representing the Union and Confederate uniforms. Thousands of people from the world over have seen and admired these two stern, begrimed sentinels, and more the thought that grew out of the contrast. Both told of bravery and sacrifice displayed in bloody war. There they stood, unaffected by the severe rigors of winter or by the parching sun of summer. Underneath their old garb of blue and gray were seen two distinctive types of developed thought, habit and character, symbolizing the once north and south, divided and again united. Today these two "boys in blue" tell a story of a more perfect union, in feeling especially and in community of interests. They tell of one people under the same constitution and owing fealty to the same stars and stripes. The cause of the nation is their cause alike, and as readily did the gray as the blue rally as one when the tocsin sounded for patriot soldiers to strike in common against Spain for right and justice and humanity.

In these two soldiers now in blue, still standing at their posts, facing the thousands that pass in review daily, is a lesson that has taken more than a quarter of a century and a bloody war with a foreign nation to learn. The lesson is finished.—Chicago Tribune.

REVOLT IN INDIA EXPECTED.

Tribes Ready to Rebel if England Be Forced Into a War.

The Right Rev. P. J. Hurth, Roman Catholic bishop of Dacca, Bengal, India, arrived at Washington the other day and is the guest of the Catholic university. Bishop Hurth is an American, and is the first of his nationality to be sent by Rome as missionary to the eastern countries. Of the political situation in the far east he said that, although all is quiet now, there are many signs that an upheaval is not far off.

"The Indian tribes would openly revolt," he said, "if England should be forced to go to war with any great nation such as France or Russia. At present we do not see any evidence of the so called domination of Russia in the orient, but there are signs that the 'bear that walks like a man' is getting ready for the deluge which must come before the political horizon of the east is cleared. The Philippine question will of course be intimately identified with the eastern question, and as such is engrossing the attention of Asia as well as of Europe and America."—Special New York World.

The Right Rev. P. J. Hurth, Roman Catholic bishop of Dacca, Bengal, India, arrived at Washington the other day and is the guest of the Catholic university. Bishop Hurth is an American, and is the first of his nationality to be sent by Rome as missionary to the eastern countries. Of the political situation in the far east he said that, although all is quiet now, there are many signs that an upheaval is not far off. "The Indian tribes would openly revolt," he said, "if England should be forced to go to war with any great nation such as France or Russia. At present we do not see any evidence of the so called domination of Russia in the orient, but there are signs that the 'bear that walks like a man' is getting ready for the deluge which must come before the political horizon of the east is cleared. The Philippine question will of course be intimately identified with the eastern question, and as such is engrossing the attention of Asia as well as of Europe and America." —Special New York World.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Today is little pay.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Albright, East Palestine, a daughter.

Miss Nina Kinsey last evening very pleasantly entertained a number of friends at her home in Second street.

The Alvins and the East End Rovers, of McDonald, Pa., are this afternoon playing association football at Columbian park.

The funerals of Mrs. Kirby and Joseph Chamberlain took place this afternoon. Interments were made at River-view.

An entertainment will be given Thanksgiving evening at the Young Men's Christian association rooms. No admission will be charged.

The many friends of Mrs. John Powell, of Third street, will be pleased to learn that she is improving rapidly and will soon be able to leave her room.

Elmer McCord, a helper in a blacksmith shop in Walnut street, had one of the fingers of his right hand badly burned this morning. The injury is very painful.

Another dog has been taken to the fire station, where it will be kept. Every dog which has been taken to the fire station has died, but better hopes are entertained for this one.

T. J. Copeland, southern representative of the Globe Pottery company, with headquarters in Greenboro, N. C., is spending several days in the city attending to some business matters.

Captain Fanny Emmel, of Alliance, will have charge of the Salvation Army meetings tomorrow afternoon and evening. Miss Emmel instituted the army in this city, and has many warm friends here.

The street force this morning placed iron posts at the corner of Second and Washington streets and Forest and Sixth streets. The work was done to protect the iron gratings at these crossings.

A number of the local football cranks are in Pittsburg today attending the D. C. & A. C.-Latrobe football game. There has been some money bet in this city on the result, with Duquesne the favorite.

The fire alarm apparatus was placed in position at the East End station yesterday afternoon by Fireman Bettridge, of the Central station. The alarm is of the latest design and makes a neat appearance.

The executive railroad committee will meet this evening at the Potters' club. Mr. Francis, the promoter of the project, will be present, and a report of any subscriptions which may have been received by the committee will be heard.

The Liverpool football team have challenged the Wellsville players for a game Thanksgiving afternoon. A strong team has been gathered together, and it is believed Wellsville will have a hard time winning if the challenge is accepted.

There is no change in the condition of Mrs. Hugh Maley, of Calcutta road, and she is now very low. She is suffering from the effects of a cancer in her throat, and although the attending physicians have been doing all they can for the woman she cannot live.

A horse attached to a backboard owned by William Harris, of Gardendale, ran off in Calcutta road yesterday afternoon. The vehicle was badly damaged and the harness was broken. The horse became frightened at a pile of stones lying in the road.

A pleasing feature of the entertainment at the Christian church last night was a piano solo rendered by Mrs. Maud Bachmann, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Reed. It was given in a masterly manner, and was received by the audience with the heartiest applause.

NEW GAS A WONDER.

ITS DISCOVERER, CHARLES F. BRUSH, HAS NAMED IT "ETHERION."

It is said to be the lightest and fastest moving of all the known gases—How it was discovered.

The Cincinnati section of the American Chemical society has started its series of fall and winter meetings most auspiciously. The chemists, engineers and professional men of the city who received the cordial welcome of Professor T. H. Norton to the initial meeting of the chemical lecture room at the university buildings were favored with an exceedingly interesting paper by Dr. Alfred Springer on that latest acquisition to the family of elements—etherion. The discovery of this by the eminent American electrician and scientist, Charles F. Brush, has started discussion in the scientific circles of the world, and if the theories connected with it are established the discovery bids fair to rank with the most important of the century.

Dr. Springer said the last decade of the nineteenth century has been as rich in new discoveries as it had been iconoclastic in upsetting theories and facts that before were considered well established. In the past two years new gases before unsuspected have been discovered, and these—argon, helium, neon and metargon—now rank among the splendid triumphs of modern chemistry.

Brush is content to call etherion a gas. It may be an element, but the discoverer does not claim this. He even intimates that further investigating may show it to consist of several elementary gases. It presents phenomena, however, such as are given by no known gases, and its properties are extraordinary. It is a constituent of the atmosphere and occurs occluded in many substances. Its chief characteristics, as pointed out by Dr. Springer, is its enormous heat conductivity at low vacuum pressure. Brush discovered the new gas while making a series of high vacuum experiments.

His apparatus was the modified McLeod gauge and a thermometer. When the glass of the apparatus was heated after a vacuum had been produced, he saw that gas was evolved from the glass, rapidly at first, then more slowly, but never stopping till the temperature was reduced. On cooling the gas was partially reabsorbed. Some always remained unabsorbed. Brush tried to make absorption complete by introducing pulverized glass into the vacuum, and in doing this discovered the most phenomenal property of the new gas.

With pulverized soda glass and a good vacuum it was found that by continuous reduction of pressure a point was reached where the new gas contracted heat 20 times as fast as hydrogen, the latter being hitherto the fastest heat conductor among known gases. This circumstance convinced Brush he had discovered an entirely new gas, with heat conducting capacity immensely beyond any before known.

Several other substances, such as pine wood charcoal, gave off the new gas. Brush kept the pulverized glass at a high heat for several days in the attempt to deprive it of all the new gas in it. He believes the gas resides in the glass, not merely on it. He found that simply exposure to the air was sufficient to rejuvenate the glass from which the gas had been taken.

The molecular velocity of hydrogen at the temperature of melting ice is 5,571 feet a second, while the molecular velocity of the new gas is 557,100 feet, or 105 miles a second. At this rate Mr. Brush says that it would be impossible for the new gas to remain in the atmosphere or to be bound to the earth as the atmosphere is, and he infers consequently that it extends through all space. It forms probably less than one-millionth part of the earth's atmosphere, and from what has been ascertained concerning it it follows that it is 10,000 times lighter than hydrogen. Mr. Brush has named the new gas "etherion," signifying "high in the heavens."

It is among the probabilities that the new gas may replace the present ether hypothesis, which is doing duty for science in explaining the phenomena of light and electricity, and show that the medium for these is not a continuous ether, but gaseous molecules, with modes of motion yet unknown. Dr. Springer drew attention to many interesting features of Brush's discovery and the bearing it will have on future science.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A CO-OPERATIVE FARM.

Indiana Company to Experiment in a Novel Line.

A company of men in Richmond, Ind., a short time ago organized the Home Industrial association, with a capital stock of $10,000. They have secured a tract of land near the city and are preparing to open a dairy and creamery, to be followed soon by the introduction of gardening, bee culture, fruit and berry culture, etc.

The shares of stock in the association are valued at $100 each, and no member can own more than one share. This is done in order to keep the work entirely co-operative. The chief object in view is to give employment to the members and others as far as possible. The plan also contemplates branches in other states, the general headquarters to be at Richmond. The first branch established will be at some point in the south, a location for which is now being sought by a representative of the association.—Special Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

TRADE IMPROVED.

Dun's Review Notes Increased Growth Since the Elections—Big Year in Grain Probable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part: The situation is clearer and the improvement in business, which was expected after the election, has begun. Payments through clearing houses are far the largest ever known, for the week 37.3 per cent larger than last year, and 3 per cent larger than in 1892. The glass-workers have resumed, the anthracite coal output is heavy and much beyond the present capacity of the markets, the troubles with Illinois coal miners have been settled and the new strike of shoe workers in Marlboro, Mass., is now the only labor hindrance of consequence.

It is noteworthy that in spite of all changes the price of spot wheat has but slightly changed. The exports for the week, flour included, have been 1,976,000 bushels from Atlantic ports, against 1,204,000 last year, and from Pacific ports 988,093 bushels, against 2,191,334 last year.

Corn exports also exceed last year's, amounting for the week to 2,993,720 bushels, against 2,722,457 bushels last year, and for two weeks of November have been 5,056,051 bushels, against 7,197,098 bushels last year. Such shipments after the middle of November go far to warrant the belief that the foreign demand for this grain is destined to be greater than has been expected.

The woolen manufactures have gained in orders for the coming season, which justifies the heavy buying of materials recently seen, and there are also better orders for speedy delivery, but the demand is not large, and much machinery is still waiting idly.

While sales of wool at the three chief markets were heavy, 28,234,500 pounds in three weeks, against 20,865,902 last year and 17,103,100 in 1892, they include two large sales for export, covering 3,000,000 pounds of Montevideo and Australian wool at 16 and 18 cents respectively, which make clearer the fact that prices asked by holders here are relatively high.

Iron is in bigger demand all the time and yet production steadily increases, and at Pittsburg Bessemer pig is slightly lower at $10.10, the new association being undersold. Orders for plates are beyond all precedent, including material for cars, bridges, vessels and work of all sorts, and structural work is seasonably quiet, though the mills have much ahead, while in bars the demand is considerably better at Pittsburg, with orders for material of 6,000 cars at Chicago.

The expectation is that the proposed rail association will meet an extremely heavy demand for the next year, especially for trolley lines, but it is stated that prices will not be advanced above $20 at the east and $21 at Chicago. In iron products the next will probably be a record-breaking year.

Failures for the week have been 223 in the United States against 267 last year, and 26 in Canada against 32 last year.

LAWLESSNESS IN PORTO RICO.

Brigands and Soldiers Said to Have Been Making Trouble—Orders to Brooke.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The cabinet session was devoted to a large extent to consideration of complaints that have reached the war department from Porto Rico. These complaints asserted that the lawless elements in Porto Rico are committing depredations of the gravest character and that the seriousness of the situation is increased by reason of the fact that United States troops stationed in the island likewise have been guilty of gross misconduct.

The most serious allegations are against brigands and lawless elements in the smaller towns away from the coast. It is said that bands of men have organized for robbery and rapine, burning houses and plantations and levying tribute upon the people wherever possible.

General Brooke, at San Juan, has been instructed to use the full strength of the military forces at his command for the suppression of rioting and the restoration of peace and order in the land.

THREE NEW WARSHIPS.

Admiral Dewey Contracted For the Raising of Three Spanish Gunboats.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Admiral Dewey has informed the navy department that he has contracted with a Hongkong firm of wreckers to raise three of the Spanish war vessels sunk in the battle of Manila last May day. The cost of raising the ships and putting them in thorough repair will be $500,000. The vessels to be raised are gunboats of large type, and in the opinion of Chief Constructor Hichborn they will be the very best kind of craft for the protection of the United States' interests among the Philippines and along the Asiatic coast. They are the sister ships Isla de Cuba and Isla de Luzon, and the Don Juan de Austria.

Passengers Robbed in Cuba.

HAVANA, Nov. 18, via Key West, Nov. 19.—A car on the line running from this city to Jesus del Monte, a suburb, was held up by a gang of robbers, close to the Christian station, and passengers were robbed.

Weather Forecast.

Warmer and cooler, with fresh to brisk wind. Fair tomorrow.

REQUISITION FOR THE MAGOWANS.

Busineth Issues One on Hastings—Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—The Magowan kidnaping case came up in court at Erie, Pa., in the form of habeas corpus proceedings brought by W. H. Barnes, the grandfather and guardian of the abducted child. Magowan and his wife intend to put up a hard fight and the case went over until today on a technicality.

A requisition was issued on the governor of Pennsylvania by Governor Busineth of Ohio for Mr. and Mrs. Magowan and Mrs. Wynn, against whom there is an indictment for kidnaping in Cuyahoga county.

John A. Barnes, on the ground that the courts have decreed that the Oklahoma divorce obtained by his wife before she married Magowan is illegal, sued her some time ago for divorce in this county. No defense was expected and everybody was surprised when the defense requested an extension of time in which to file an answer.

B. & O. TO GET CONTROL.

State of Maryland to Sell Its Interest in C. & O. Canal.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—The board of public works decided to sell all the interest of the state of Maryland in the famous Chesapeake and Ohio canal. This interest has cost the state in one way or another about $25,000,000, but its present value is indeterminate, as it is now in the hands of receivers.

It is understood that this action was taken for the purpose of enabling the Baltimore and Ohio reorganization managers to obtain a title to the property and to use it in connection with the present system.

CONSIDERED RECIPROCITY.

Early Settlement of Bering Sea Question Likely by Anglo-American Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The sole subject considered by the Anglo-American commission was reciprocity. It is understood the item of live animals is receiving special attention, the traffic in horses, cattle and other live animals being considerable across the border.

The prospect of an early settlement of the Bering sea question was improved by the receipt of word that the two officials who have been making an appraisal of the value of the Canadian sealing fleet have completed their labors and are now on their way to Washington.

Reformed Church Brotherhood.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—The eighth annual convention of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip of the Reformed church opened in Heidelberg Reformed church. Delegates from New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania were in attendance.

JOHN W. KEELEY DEAD.

He Was the Inventor of the Famous Keeley Motor.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—John W. Keeley, the inventor of the Keeley motor, died at his home in this city from pneumonia. He was taken ill on Saturday last and continued to grow steadily worse until his death. Mr. Keeley was 61 years of age and leaves a widow.

DREYFUS INFORMED.

Told of the Revision Proceedings in His Case.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The governor of French Guiana has sent a dispatch to the colonial office here saying Alfred Dreyfus, the former French officer undergoing imprisonment for life on Devil's island, has been informed of the revision proceedings in his case.

To Do Police Duty in Cuba.

POST WORTH, Tex., Nov. 19.—Fourteen well-known Texans, under lead of Lieutenant Gates of Dallas county, recently members of the First Texas volunteers, leave for Cuba to do police service for the government.

NEW GAS A WONDER.

ITS DISCOVERER, CHARLES F. BRUSH, HAS NAMED IT "ETHERION."

It Is Said to Be the Lightest and Fastest Moving of All the Known Gases—How It Was Discovered.

The Cincinnati section of the American Chemical society has started its series of fall and winter meetings most auspiciously. The chemists, engineers and professional men of the city who received the cordial welcome of Professor T. H. ## TRADE IMPROVED.

New York, Nov. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part: The situation is clearer and the improvement in business, which was expected after the election, has begun. Payments through clearing houses are far the largest ever known, for the week 37.3 per cent larger than last year, and 3 per cent larger than in 1892. The glass-workers have resumed, the anthracite coal output is heavy and much beyond the present capacity of the markets, the troubles with Illinois coal miners have been settled and the new strike of shoe workers in Marlboro, Mass., is now the only labor hindrance of consequence. It is noteworthy that in spite of all changes the price of spot wheat has but slightly changed. The exports for the week, flour included, have been 1,976,000 bushels from Atlantic ports, against 1,204,000 last year, and from Pacific ports 988,093 bushels, against 2,191,334 last year.

Corn exports also exceed last year's, amounting for the week to 2,993,720 bushels, against 2,722,457 bushels last year, and for two weeks of November have been 5,056,051 bushels, against 7,197,098 bushels last year. Such shipments after the middle of November go far to warrant the belief that the foreign demand for this grain is destined to be greater than has been expected.

The woolen manufactures have gained in orders for the coming season, which justifies the heavy buying of materials recently seen, and there are also better orders for speedy delivery, but the demand is not large, and much machinery is still waiting idly.

While sales of wool at the three chief markets were heavy, 28,234,500 pounds in three weeks, against 20,865,902 last year and 17,103,100 in 1892, they include two large sales for export, covering 3,000,000 pounds of Montevideo and Australian wool at 16 and 18 cents respectively, which make clearer the fact that prices asked by holders here are relatively high.

Iron is in bigger demand all the time and yet production steadily increases, and at Pittsburg Bessemer pig is slightly lower at $10.10, the new association being undersold. Orders for plates are beyond all precedent, including material for cars, bridges, vessels and work of all sorts, and structural work is seasonably quiet, though the mills have much ahead, while in bars the demand is considerably better at Pittsburg, with orders for material of 6,000 cars at Chicago.

The expectation is that the proposed rail association will meet an extremely heavy demand for the next year, especially for trolley lines, but it is stated that prices will not be advanced above $20 at the east and $21 at Chicago. In iron products the next will probably be a record-breaking year.

Failures for the week have been 223 in the United States against 267 last year, and 26 in Canada against 32 last year.

LAWLESSNESS IN PORTO RICO.

Brigands and Soldiers Said to Have Been Making Trouble—Orders to Broke.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The cabinet session was devoted to a large extent to consideration of complaints that have reached the war department from Porto Rico. These complaints asserted that the lawless elements in Porto Rico are committing depredations of the gravest character and that the seriousness of the situation is increased by reason of the fact that United States troops stationed in the island likewise have been guilty of gross misconduct.

The most serious allegations are against brigands and lawless elements in the smaller towns away from the coast. It is said that bands of men have organized for robbery and rapine, burning houses and plantations and levying tribute upon the people wherever possible.

General Brooke, at San Juan, has been instructed to use the full strength of the military forces at his command for the suppression of rioting and the restoration of peace and order in the land.

THREE NEW WARSHIPS.

Admiral Dewey Contracted For the Raising of Three Spanish Gunboats.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Admiral Dewey has informed the navy department that he has contracted with a Hongkong firm of wreckers to raise three of the Spanish war vessels sunk in the battle of Manila last May day.

The cost of raising the ships and putting them in thorough repair will be $500,000. The vessels to be raised are gunboats of large type, and in the opinion of Chief Constructor Hiebhorn they will be the very best kind of craft for the protection of the United States' interests among the Philippines and along the Asiatic coast. They are the sister ships Isla de Cuba and Isla de Luzon, and the Don Juan de Austria.

Passengers Robbed in Cuba.

REQUISITION FOR THE MAGOWANS.

Bushnell Issues One on Hastings—Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—The Magowan kidnaping case came up in court at Erie, Pa., in the form of habeas corpus proceedings brought by W. H. Barnes, the grandfather and guardian of the abducted child. Magowan and his wife intend to put up a hard fight and the case went over until today on a technicality.

A requisition was issued on the governor of Pennsylvania by Governor Bushnell of Ohio for Mr. and Mrs. Magowan and Mrs. Wynn, against whom there is an indictment for kidnaping in Cuyahoga county.

John A. Barnes, on the ground that the courts have decreed that the Oklahoma divorce obtained by his wife before she married Magowan is illegal, sued her some time ago for divorce in this county. No defense was expected and everybody was surprised when the defense requested an extension of time in which to file an answer.

B. & O. TO GET CONTROL.

State of Maryland to Sell Its Interest in C. & O. Canal.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—The board of public works decided to sell all the interest of the state of Maryland in the famous Chesapeake and Ohio canal. This interest has cost the state in one way or another about $25,000,000, but its present value is indeterminate, as it is now in the hands of receivers.

It is understood that this action was taken for the purpose of enabling the Baltimore and Ohio reorganization managers to obtain a title to the property and to use it in connection with the present system.

CONSIDERED RECIPROCITY.

Early Settlement of Bering Sea Question Likely by Anglo-American Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The sole subject considered by the Anglo-American commission was reciprocity. It is understood the item of live animals is receiving special attention, the traffic in horses, cattle and other live animals being considerable across the border.

The prospect of an early settlement of the Bering sea question was improved by the receipt of word that the two officials who have been making an appraisal of the value of the Canadian sealing fleet have completed their labors and are now on their way to Washington.

ULTIMATUM TO SPAIN.

American Commission Ordered to Deliver One.

DELAY PROVING EMBARRASSING.

Rebels May Commit a Massacre at Iloilo and the United States, Under the Protocol, Cannot Act Under Present Conditions—Message From Dewey.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—It is now thought to be certain that the American peace commission, at a meeting next Monday or Tuesday, will do one of two things, i. e., either agree to the cessation of the Philippines or note a disagreement and dissolve the meeting, for the administration is not disposed to tolerate further delay, and has so instructed the United States commissioners.

The latter sent a long cablegram in cipher. The deciphering occupied the entire official day, and meantime there were wild rumors touching the nature of its contents. As a matter of fact it was nothing more than an extremely verbose statement of the Spanish side of the case relating to the Philippines. There was a renewal of the attempts to take issue with the American contention as to the meaning of the protocol clause relative to the disposition of the Philippines, and much quibbling, accompanied by quotations from French, Spanish and other European languages in the effort to demonstrate to Americans just what an English word might mean. The latter will take no notice of this kind of a hair-splitting plea, but at today's meeting, it is expected, will call on the Spanish commissioners to make answer to the American proposition to cede the Philippines, probably allowing until Monday or Tuesday only for a final and responsive answer on this point.

Serious news came to the navy department from Admiral Dewey touching the situation in the Philippines. The admiral sent two of his warships, the Charleston and the Concord, some time ago to the southward from Manila to ascertain whether there was truth in reports that the insurgents had expended their activities in that direction. He cabled as follows:

"MANILA, Nov. 18.

Secretary of Navy, Washington: "Charleston and Concord arrived today from Iloilo. Glass reports that the entire island of Panay is in possession of insurgents, except Iloilo, which is defended by 800 Spanish troops. All foreign citizens there beg for American protection. The island of Negros has declared independence and desires American protectorate.

"DEWEY."

Glass is commander of the Charleston. So far nothing has been done by the administration toward curbing the insurgents in their operations save verbal representations from the American commanders to Aguinaldo, in which it has been pointed out to him that it would be good policy, in view of the probability of the annexation of the islands to the United States, to pursue a course that would not be obnoxious to the United States. But the situation is now realized to be critical. So far as the Spaniards are concerned perhaps they can be left to take care of themselves, but the foreign residents at Iloilo are differently regarded. The difficulty in the situation is that with the best intentions to intervene to protect the Europeans and other foreigners and to save the city of Iloilo, the second in importance in the Philippine group, from looting, the United States forces appear to be estopped, under the rules of war, from moving from their positions. Such is the construction placed upon the clause in the protocol relating to a suspension of hostilities.

The immediate effect of this state of affairs may be to hasten action in the Paris conference, for it is only by the termination of that tribunal that the United States can come to the relief of the beleaguered Spaniards in Iloilo, and at other points. It is said to be a fact, however, that a total disagreement at Paris may result in speedier action than at the commissioners agreed upon the main principles of the Philippines cessation, for in such case several additional sessions probably would be required in order to arrange the details of the treaty.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The United States commissioners have been formulating their next presentation for the consideration of the Spanish commissioners.

While the Americans are reticent as to their intentions it may be said without reserve that the occasion is near upon which the exact peace terms acceptable to the American commissioners will be laid before the Spaniards with a time limit for their acceptance. The American commissioners will not guarantee any of the Spanish bonds, even though Spain may have mortgaged as security the revenues of territory to be taken by the United States.

As set forth in these dispatches on Oct. 31 and previously the United States may now balance its war ledger, debiting to Spain the value of the battleship Maine, the cost of the naval and military operations, the losses incurred by American commerce and the future pension roll, etc., while on the other side of the sheet may be placed Spain's counties and values in the Philippines islands. If a difference is found to exist in favor of Spain this amount in cash may be offered her by the American commissioners at the next joint session here. What this balance may be is not definitely known, but it may be about $20,000,000 or possibly less.

MILES' MAN EFFICIENT.

Dr. Greenleaf Unloaded Supplies at Siboney—Other Witnesses Before War Commission.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The war investigation commission met here, all the members being present except Colonel Denby and Major Miles.

Dr. Charles R. Greenleaf, chief surgeon of the troops in the field on General Miles' staff, said that in some respects Camp Alger was a good camp for a small body of men, but the water supply was poor and the region was known to be highly malarious.

Dr. Conner asked Dr. Greenleaf how the medical supplies were delayed at Siboney.

Dr. Greenleaf said he did not know. "Who finally unloaded these supplies?" asked Dr. Conner.

"I did. I captured some pontoons and took the law into my own hands." "You unloaded in 36 hours supplies that had been lying in the harbor two weeks. Why did not Dr. Pope, chief surgeon of General Shafter's corps, send them within those two weeks?"

"I suppose he was at the front attending to the wounded."

"Did Dr. Pope take charge of one wounded man?"

"I cannot say," replied Dr. Greenleaf. "I am sure that Dr. Pope did the best he could. I had full authority from General Miles to do what I thought best."

In reply to a question Dr. Greenleaf said he supposed Dr. Pope had authority from General Shafter sufficient to enable him to unload the supplies at Siboney as he (Mr. Greenleaf) had done.

"There is no doubt," said Dr. Conner, "that somebody was dreadfully at fault. Can't you help us to find out who it was?"

Dr. Greenleaf said he could not.

Private Goss of the Seventy-first New York said he slept in the open air in Cuba for 12 days because he had no tent. There were two hospital tents. Three of the officers of his company took one of these tents for their own accommodation.

Richard W. Henry of the Seventy-first New York returned from Cuba in the transport Grand Duchess. Immediately on landing at Montauk Point, on Aug. 18, he went to the detention hospital.

When asked what he received to eat, he said: "I suppose they forgot us. We did not get anything until the next day, when an orderly gave us some soup. A surgeon visited us at noon. He made a cursory examination of us and said he would send us medicine immediately. The medicine did not reach us until late that night."

Dr. Frank Donaldson, who joined Colonel Roosevelt's regiment in Cuba on July 8, and who was stricken with yellow fever on July 24, was asked by Dr. Conner as to the condition of the hospitals. He said that they were entirely swamped. There was an insufficient supply of medical stores, nurses and stewards. The majority of the stewards were of a most undesirable character.

Regarding medical supplies, Dr. Donaldson said there were supplies, but they could not be reached. Speaking of his own regiment, he said he got supplies because he went out and hustled for them.

James S. Sowers of Company K, Seventy-first regiment, said the volunteer officers took care of themselves, while the regular officers took care of their men.

"When we arrived at Montauk Point," he said, "there was nothing for us to eat until the next day. When the Tenth regulars arrived there was a wagon load of bread and meat waiting for them. Our officers said that they had nothing to do with the rations."

PANA TERRORIZED.

PANA, Ills., Nov. 19.—The town has been kept in a state of terror by numerous encounters between negroes and striking miners. Both are heavily armed and use their ammunition freely. Deputy Sheriff Sid Watts, who was returning from the Springs Side mine, where he had been on duty, was shot from ambush. The bullet took effect in his right arm, which had to be amputated.

A number of residences have been pierced by bullets and those who are able to do so have sent their families to the country. The principal streets are patrolled by soldiers. Captain Butler had a long conversation by telephone with Governor Tanner and it is said, more troops will come here.

The National Grange.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 19.—At the session of the National Grange one resolution prohibited the utterance of political opinions by State and National Grange officers and expressing the opinion that such officers, when nominated for public office, should resign their grange positions. Invitations to hold the next annual meeting were received from Niagara Falls, New York and from the state of Ohio.

TO INDICT CONVICTS.

Warden Coffin Asked For Special Grand Jury.

O'Neil and Atkinson Made a Desperate Break—Killed Guard Lauterbach—Guard Gump Wounded Both of Them. Atkinson's Condition Very Serious.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Warden Coffin of the Ohio penitentiary decided to ask for a special grand jury to indict Convicts Frank O'Neil and John Atkinson for the murder of Guard Lauterbach. Although there have been numerous attempts made by prisoners to take the lives of guards, Lauterbach is the first guard killed in the institution since 1843. Atkinson and O'Neil's plan to escape is the most desperate ever known at the penitentiary. Both men were armed to the teeth and they expected to scale the walls, which are patrolled by guards armed with Winchester. They expected to keep up a fusillade at the wall guards while running and take chances on being wounded or killed. Atkinson's arm and shoulder are terribly shattered his condition is very serious.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Convicts O'Neil and Atkinson, who are serving 15 years each for robbery, committed in Cleveland, made a bold attempt to escape from the state penitentiary. One, having possession of a revolver, covered his face with a handkerchief and went into the broom shop, where he held up Guard Lime and took his revolver. He then returned to the hoe shop, where the other man joined him, and they opened fire on Guard Lauterbach, who was in charge of that department. The guard was shot three times and almost instantly killed.

Guard Gump was the first on the scene and, taking in the situation at a glance, opened fire on the two prisoners. This was returned and a regular battle was in progress until the revolvers of all the participants were emptied. Convict Atkinson was shot down and seriously injured. As soon as the gun's were emptied Guard Gump rushed in with his cane and beat O'Neil until he surrendered. The men were taken to the hospital, where their injuries were attended to.

The other prisoners in the shop where the shooting occurred took no part in the affair, but it is understood that they stood ready to follow if the efforts of the two leaders proved successful. Previous to making the outbreak one of the two prisoners forced a third man to place a ladder against the outside of the penitentiary wall so that when they had fought their way out of the shops they could shoot down the wall guard and make their escape by that route.

O'Neil and Atkinson are serving their third terms. Atkinson said that O'Neil received two guns on the Fourth of July, when visitors were allowed in the prison. They were hidden by Atkinson, the two men deciding to wait for fall before trying to escape.

They had been waiting for three weeks for an opportunity. Atkinson was shot twice in the right arm and O'Neil has two severe scalp wounds. Neither was fatally hurt.

GARFIELD CLUB BANQUET.

Norris Elected President at the Business Meeting That Preceded.

NILES, Nov. 19.—The most magnificent banquet in the history of the Garfield club of the old Nineteenth district was held here.

At the business meeting previous to the banquet M. A. Norris of Youngstown was elected president; O. P. Shaffer, vice president for Mahoning county; P. C. Remick of Ashtabula for Ashtabula county; Dr. J. W. Lowe of Mentor for Lake county; Prof. G. H. Colton of Hiram for Portage county; C. K. Wagner of Akron for Summit county; Charles Wilkins of Warren for Trumbull county, and R. King of Chardon, for Geauga county. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Akron.

Secured Service on Burke.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Attorney General Monnett secured service on Judge Stevenson Burke, citing him to give testimony in the Standard Oil case. It is expected to prove by Judge Burke that the order of the supreme court against the Standard was ignored by Mr. Rockefeller. This evidence was given in a petition which Judge Burke filed in another case for a client.

Hunting the Brutal Negro.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—Officers and citizens of Madisonville, with bloodhounds, have been searching for the unknown negro who outraged Susie Williams, white. All the haunts in this city have also been searched in vain. Lynching is expected if the negro is caught and identified.

A Baron Died in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—Baron Henric Casimir Sparre died at home, 831 Prospect street, this city.

Topeka Ordered to Havana.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—It was reported at League island navyyard that orders had been received from Washington directing the cruiser Topeka to leave for Havana today. It was also stated that the auxiliary cruiser Panther will be ordered to Porto Rico within a few days.

CITED FOR CONTEMPT.

Attachments Granted For Two Bankers In the Quay Bank Case, at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Before Judge Gordon, in the quarter sessions court, District Attorney Graham asked for and was granted attachments for the arrest for contempt of court of Wm. Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National bank of Pittsburgh, and Steven B. Stone, cashier of the Beaver Deposit bank of Beaver, Pa.

In making the application, Mr. Graham stated that Montgomery and Stone had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury to testify in the case of the commonwealth against United States Senator Quay, his son, Richard R. Quay, and ex-State Treasurer Haywood, who are charged with conspiracy in the misuse of state funds. The subpoenas commanded the respondents to produce certain books of their respective banks before the grand jury, but they failed to appear. The respondents were represented by counsel in court and Mr. Stone was himself present. Affidavits made by Montgomery and Stone were read, in which the contention was made that they had no right without the consent of the depositors to expose their accounts nor authority to remove the books or papers of the banks from those institutions.

Mr. Montgomery in his affidavit said he had been subpoenaed to bring with him deposit slips, tickets, etc., of M. S. Quay and R. R. Quay for May, July and August, 1886, and April, 1888.

It is stated that counsel will probably advise the submission of the respondents to the process of the court and then take out a writ of habeas corpus for their production before the superior court and a decision of the question by that body.

ELEVEN DEAD.

Laborers on the Pennsylvania Mowed Down by a Train Near Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 19.—Eleven Italian and Polish laborers were mowed down and killed on the Hackensack meadows west of Jersey City by the Mills one local train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The following is the list of dead: Michael Lawless. Joseph Collessello. Angelo Pizo. Frank Bandinski. Frank Lukovinski. Thomas Dougherty. Joseph Siminski. Joseph Broski. William Roall. Joseph Smith. One unknown.

The killed and wounded were laborers at work repairing the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The gang consisted of 20 men, and nearly all were either killed or injured.

CITY EVANGELIZATION.

Complaint at Methodist Convention of a Lack of Interest In the Work.

DETROIT, Nov. 19.—Lack of genuine interest of church members in city evangelization was a complaint numerously heard during the business session of the annual convention of the National City Evangelization Union of the M. E. church. The faith and energy of workers in city fields outside of the churches, however, appeared undaunted and in some respects encouraging progress was shown.

Horace Hitchcock of Detroit, president of the National union, in his annual address, declared that the "unchurched and unsaved masses will never come to the church. The church must go to them." He asserted that the churches must broaden in their thought and service.

APPROVED BY THE POPE.

Liberal Tendencies of Church in America Pleases Him.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: "A very important pontifical document is about to appear expressing the pope's full approbation of the democratic and liberal tendencies of the Catholic church in the United States."

Missionary and Native Murdered.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Shanghai says that the Rev. Mr. Fleming, a missionary, and a native evangelist, were murdered in the recent attack by the rebels in the town of Kwi-Fu in the upper Yang-Sie-Kiang valley, when the Catholic mission there was burned.

The Pope Having Good Health.

Colonel Donaldson Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Colonel Thomas C. Donaldson died at his home in this city from a complication of diseases, aged 55 years.

FAILED TO COMBINE.

Steel Rail Organization Did Not Materialize.

BLOCKED BY CARNEGIE COMPANY.

President Gary of Federal Steel Company Said No Pool Was Intended, Just a Working Agreement—Thinks Prices Will Be Lived Up To.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—An attempt by the steel rail manufacturers of the country to form what has been called a pool was abandoned for the time being. The endeavor was to bring about an understanding among the manufacturers as to territorial divisions and prices.

It was understood that opposition to the plan by the Carnegie Steel company was so uncompromising as to hold out no hope of arriving at a concert of interests. In spite, however, of the breaking off of negotiations it was semi-officially declared that the manufacturers in the majority made arrangements to continue in the endeavor to unite, and that it was fairly certain that a working agreement would be reached early next week.

Ex-Judge E. H. Gary of Chicago, who is president of the Federated Steel company, said:

"There was no idea of forming a pool. During the week the steel rail manufacturers of the country have been striving to reach a fair and equitable working agreement in regard to division of territory and prices. But at this meeting it was found that it was not possible to reach an agreement, and the plan was abandoned. I think, however, that there is a disposition among steel rail manufacturers to live up to prices."

PLEASED WITH OUR PRESIDENT.

Spoke to an English Visitor of American Affection For England.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Among the callers upon the president were Senator Proctor of Vermont and the Hon. Harry Foster, who represents the district of North Suffolk in the parliament of Great Britain.

Mr. Foster said the American people must be proud of their president. He was one of the most delightful men he ever met. In the course of the interview, alluding to the results of the Spanish war, the president said the most remarkable result was the wonderful expression, by the people east and west, of deep affection for the mother country.

The president thought the feelings of the two peoples would be fruitful for the cause of humanity and civilization; and that the co-operation of the two countries did not depend upon paper treaties or written obligations, but upon a much deeper and more lasting basis.

REPUBLICAN COLLEGE LEAGUE.

Resolutions Adopted Upholding Alger, Philadelphia For Next Meeting Place.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—The American Republican College League closed its seventh annual session here. The league changed its constitution to provide that hereafter meetings shall be held biennially instead of annually. The next meeting will be held at Philadelphia just after the national election of 1900.

A resolution was adopted upholding Secretary Alger, who is a strong friend of the league, and denouncing his villainous slanderers, also praising President McKinley, indorsing "that gallant soldier, brilliant statesman and champion of clean and popular government, the type of American patriotism, Theodore Roosevelt," and demanding safe currency reform legislation and student suffrage.

A. L. Davis, Michigan university, was elected president.

FIRST SPANISH WAR PENSION.

Jesse T. Gates of the Second Artillery Allowed $17 a Month.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Commissioner Evans of the pension office notified Secretary Alger that Jesse T. Gates of the Second United States artillery, who lost part of his upper lip in the West Indian campaign, has been awarded the first pension on account of the Spanish war.

Gates will receive $17 per month, and this being inadequate, a private pension bill increasing the pension probably will be introduced in congress. Claims on account of the Spanish war are now coming in rapidly. The total on file up to Friday is 1,947 for war service and 178 for naval service, exclusive of the claims of the battleship Maine disaster.

Sailed With Presents For Soldiers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The transport St. Paul sailed for Manila carrying a cargo of Christmas presents for the soldiers and sailors in the Philippines. A number of soldiers drafted to recruit companies now at Manila and 40 nurses sailed. Twenty of the nurses will remain at Honolulu.

Initiation May Be Fatal.

MOLINE, Ills., Nov. 19.—Dr. William P. Sensibaugh, a dentist of Port Byron, just east of this city, is in a serious condition, as a result of pranks played upon him while being initiated in a fraternal insurance lodge in that village.

PRICE PLACED TOO HIGH

EXPENSES WOULD BE TOO GREAT

For the Improvement of the Avenue if the City Was Compelled to Pay the Demands of the Court—A Councilman Expresses an Opinion.

The large damages awarded by the jury for the Pennsylvania avenue property needed by the city to open that thoroughfare to the public, probably means that it will be some years before the street is improved.

In speaking to a prominent member of council in regard to the matter he said: "Those damages mean that Pennsylvania avenue will not be improved for sometime at least. I am sure this council and I don't think any other council will pay the sums asked, as they are unreasonable and it would take a mint of money to improve the road. The $6,000 voted to be expended on the thoroughfare would not be a drop in the bucket. We have no right to expend the taxpayers' money in this way, and I think it will be a long time before there is any more work done on Pennsylvania avenue. We made a great mistake in doing so much work on that thoroughfare this season, but it is too late now. Unless there is another agreement made, I think I can assure you that the river road will remain the only one to East End, and the $6,000 voted to be expended on Pennsylvania avenue will remain in the treasury.

Several other members of council were asked in regard to the matter, and all who had given it a thought expressed the same views as the member quoted. There will probably be some discussion in regard to the matter at the next meeting of council.

AFTER GATES.

East End People Want Them For the Crossing.

The citizens of East End are now talking of having a petition circulated which, when properly signed, will be presented to the officials of the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad. The paper is a request that gates be placed at the Mulberry street crossing, and that they be operated from 8 in the morning until evening. The crossing is on a curve and grade, and is considered by many to be one of the most dangerous in the city.

The Hearthstone.

Tony Farrell and a strong company will this evening present at the Grand the beautiful drama, "The Hearthstone." It is one of Mr. Herne's best plays, rivalling "Shore Acres" and "Hearts of Oak," and when presented by this company is little short of perfection.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

Charles E. Smith, treasurer, will be at the office of George H. Owen & Co., on the 23rd and 24th for the purpose of receiving taxes.

Baskets.

MANILA BUNKO GAME

Scheme of Filipino Counterfeiters to Defraud Uncle Sam's Soldiers of Their Money—Clever Part Played by the Woman in the Game.

The New York Sun's correspondent at Manila, writing under date of Sept. 13 about how some of our soldiers exchanged American gold coin for 'dobe dollars, says:

Olivia she said her name was, with an utterly unspellable and unpronounceable something else which she added when the interpreter asked "Olivia que?" She didn't differ in appearance from the thousand other Filipino women who carry bundles on their heads about the streets of Manila or manage two to four trading stations under the shade of a banana leaf along the country roads. Her hands were small and slender and her feet were large, flat and bare. The gaudy pina camisa that slipped half way down her upper arms disclosed her exquisitely molded, graceful shoulders. Much carrying of burdens on her head had made her straight backed and erect. Her cheek bones were high, her face broad, her nose flat, her eyes large and round, her chin very small, her mouth wide and full of teeth that had been white before constant betel nut chewing had reddened and made them unsightly. Her hair was as black as her eyes, well oiled and smoothed down mirror bright, with a knot in the back of her neck. She must be nearly 4½ feet tall, with a complexion like a copper cent of the mintage of 1863. The long, full skirt of gay red and yellow pina cloth hung over a short, white skirt and was draped with black, a short sort of overskirt of which hung just below the knees. Between the short camisa and the bright red say a narrow strip of bare brown showed in curious contrast to the gay colors of the dress.

Once in awhile the wise men down here see some native do something which is just what would be done at home under the same circumstances. They waggle their wise heads and exclaim, "Ah, human nature is just the same the world over!" That is true too. There are the same samenesses and the same differences, and it is only because the differences here are different from what they have been used to at home that they remark the samenesses. But that gets away from Olivia, and she, although not so named before the court, was in reality the party of the first part. It began, of course, away back when there was devised with paradise the snake, but the specific development occurred in Cavite. Just a plain sordid case of man's greed overreaching itself, a "win by his aid and the aid disown" experiment. Mariano Santos provided the aid, and if he had not been caught Benigno de la Cruz would have made the winning. As it happened, the game was with chance, and chance won.

For Uncle Sam's bright $5 gold pieces the banks in Manila were paying 10 'dobe dollars and 35 cents. Therein Benigno, who is a thief and a counterfeiter, perceived his opportunity. He was willing to give 22 'dobe dollars, very 'dobe indeed, made in his own special 'dobe mint, for every new gold eagle Uncle Sam had paid his boys for risking their lives in his service, and as the boys had just received a fine new lot of American eagles and always are anxious to get the most silver for them possible, the $22 offer of Benigno had more favor with them than the more conservative proposition of the banks. Besides, Benigno came to them in the person of Mariano, whereas they were obliged to go to the bank, which was somewhat difficult, owing to certain restrictions customary to military life. So they fell upon Mariano joyfully, and he promptly cheated them. They were from South Dakota, and the first Filipino vender of wretched anise brandy on whom they tried Mariano's dollars quickly showed them the very 'dobe quality of Benigno's output, and there was a descent on Mariano, who was caught with the damning evidence in his pockets.

Pursuant to general order No. 8, establishing the provost court, Mariano appeared in due time in the splendid room in the Ayuntamiento, where Colonel Jarrett every morning dispenses justice with the wisdom of the cadi, aided by two interpreters. There Benigno came in, lugged unwittingly by Mariano, who promptly declared that he was but the humble and unworthy tool of the wicked and designing Benigno. There was the first demonstration of the kinship of the world. Now mark the complication and the entry of Olivia.

Benigno lived in Tondo. Between his mansion of Nipa and the arm of the law, as represented in the provost marshal's guard, stretched a line of insurgent soldiers, and there was at that time such feeling between the two forces that rather than risk the provocation of a conflict the provost marshal general decided to let Benigno go unpunished. Not so Olivia. Mariano had duly paid the priest his price, and he and she were one beyond legal possibility of separation. Moreover, Olivia has a woman's wit when him she loves is in danger. She went to see Benigno in Tondo. Mariano was in jail, she said, but she could carry on the business in his place until he got out again. In fact, even at that time in the walled city she had a man waiting ready to buy a large supply of the very 'dobe dollars. The crafty Benigno filled his pockets with his counterfeit and followed Olivia into Manila. In the little shop of a Chinaman on the Calle Real, right near the headquarters of Colonel Reeve's Thirteenth Minnesota police, she left Benigno while she went on to the appointed rendezvous to fetch the purchaser. But the man she brought back with her carried a gun, and Benigno followed Mariano to jail, stripped of the 'dobe dollars which had jingled in his pockets when the soldier took him. In court the next morning he said he was the helpless victim of a wicked woman's wiles. Now both Benigno and Mariano are in prison, but there is a chance for Mariano. The wise men are right, after all. The kinship is demonstrated. For Tondo read Jersey City, for the walled city read New York and wind up with "in the Jefferson market police court yesterday morning," etc.

SALVATION ARMY ABROAD.

Its Crusade Against Betting Throughout All England.

Public betting is generally looked upon as a vulgar habit, an infamous offense against society and a deadly sin against God, and that women should fall so low as to become open gamblers, luring, for a little paltry gain, the young and ignorant to their present and everlasting undoing, is horrible to contemplate. Yet so it is, and the vice is spreading, and the army must rush to the rescue. So, my comrades, form yourselves into brigades and go with pitying hearts on your Christianlike errand. In London, we are told, the women who gamble do so quietly. Barmaids, having such favorable opportunities, are, it is said, among the most assiduous gamblers. It is in the north of England, however, that the evil is said to be most rampant, women there developing a gambling mania equal in its intensity and evil effects to that of the men.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, Sunderland, Stockton-on-Tees and Middlesbrough have made a strenuous effort to put the practice down, but it is still flagrant and unblushingly open. Back streets in Newcastle are sown at no very distant intervals with bookmakers. Walking along, the passerby hears men accosting others with invitations to "have a bit of so and so." Women seem to be their chief customers. * * * At Stockton, on the quay, there is a place known among the people as the "betting ground." Crowds of women jostle the men and laugh at the police. Near by are streets of lodging houses, where most of these women live, spending their time in drinking and discussing "the odds." Where one woman bet 20 years ago, says The Social Gazette, from which we call these particulars, ten gamble now.—Westminster Budget.

PORTO RICO WOMEN.

They Show More Energy and Industry Than the Men.

In Porto Rico, according to reports of army men, the native women seem to be the energetic members of the household. The men are decidedly indolent. Many women went into the camps of the invading army of the United States and offered for small sums to do the mending and laundering. Their method of washing was a curiosity to the soldiers, who often stood and watched them, for they wash in the streams and use stones in lieu of washboards, then spread the garments on the foliage to dry.

Some of the women keep small stores, in which they sell nearly everything from a paper of pins to a tart. A loaf of bread such as is sold here for 5 cents they divide into pieces and sell them for 2 cents each, the people preferring to buy only sufficient for each meal, or as they want it, instead of in a quantity. Some of the natives on visiting camp were shocked when told that the soldiers were each given a whole loaf of bread each day and ate it too. Said a member of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania to a New York Tribune representative: "One woman told me if I would only be more saving and sell half my loaf each day I would soon be able to start a store and would do well. I don't know what she would have said had she seen me pay $1 for a pie on my way up from Porto Rico. The women are certainly the workers down there."

"Oh, you fellows think you know how to eat pie," said a western boy, "but just come to Wisconsin with us and see the bad attacks of consumption we'll display when we tackle the homemade bread and pie that only Wisconsin mothers know how to make. If our Porto Rican senoritas had such pies to offer about pay day, they would surely make their fortunes."

They Work Alike.

A fly had fallen into the ink well of a certain author who writes a very bad and a very inky hand. The writer's little boy rescued the unhappy insect and dropped him on a piece of paper. After watching him intently for awhile he called to his mother, "Here's a fly, mamma, that writes just like papa."—Current Literature.

BRITISH NAVY READY

Considerable Change Effected in Strengthening England's Naval Forces in the Mediterranean—Sudden War With France Not Feared.

Under the heading, "Are We Ready?" the London Army and Navy Gazette prints a leading editorial in a recent issue that is especially significant in view of Lord Salisbury's speech and the French and British naval activity:

"There are indeed people who say that if we are to have war with France this is the very moment for it, when her councils are distracted by internal faction and when she has not yet developed the navy of the future with which M. Lockroy hopes to dominate in the Mediterranean, if not in the channel.

"It is difficult to determine when the crucial moment to crush an enemy has plainly arrived, but it is certainly not advisable to force the advent of it in order to satisfy any civil or military theories.

"Without reference to the immediate pressure of the Fashoda incident upon the government of Great Britain and what may presently be the government of France, it is quite clear that the duty of responsible statesmen and of departments concerned in the administration of the great spending forces, even in the remote prospect of a conflict with any formidable adversary, is to prepare for mobilization.

"At sea, provided that the naval bases are full up with coal, the details of the fitting out of squadrons and fleets are not so difficult to be worked where there is a settled clerical administration at headquarters.

"When Lord Charles Beresford visited Toulon, the French fleet was in a formidable condition of readiness, and the complete state of that great arsenal, regarded as a naval base, affected him so powerfully that he is credited with proclaiming aloud his conviction that if war were declared between France and Great Britain the true policy for the British admirals in the Mediterranean was to clear out of it as fast as they could, to take refuge, so to speak, under the guns of Gibraltar, there to await re-enforcements from England and to prepare for a naval campaign with the French for the recovery of the Mediterranean from the strait to the shores of the Levant.

"But in some degree, in consequence perhaps of his earnest representation, there has been a considerable change effected on our side in the strengthening of our naval forces in that important sea, and there will be no reason to dread the result of an actual naval war covering the whole of the seaboard from Alexandria westward.

"Malta is now, we are assured, better provided with all that a fleet would need than it was at the time Lord Charles Beresford beheld those terrible mountains of coal, array of crews and equipments for the French fleet at Toulon.

"There is no British admiral who, looking at the vessels available for service, would be at all uneasy at the prospect of a sudden war with France. In the Mediterranean and on other foreign stations our naval squadrons, if not immeasurably superior to any that might be matched with them, are at least strong enough to take the offensive with every hope of success. In the channel the force we could put afloat is surely sufficiently powerful to deter any French officer from making raids or dashes or experimental cruises along the south coast, up St. George's channel or into the German ocean.

"It is beyond doubt that a contest between the British empire and the French republic must find its outlet at sea, for the results of contests on land, whether in Africa or in Asia, cannot produce such an effect upon the efforts of the fleets as to cause an abandonment by one or by the other of the contending powers of the pretensions which formed the basis of the declaration of grievances from which the war arose."

NEW SOCIETY ORGANIZED.

Soldiers of the Spanish-American War Form a Union.

The other night there was organized in Lexington, Ky., a society which aimed to be to the soldiers who enlisted in the Spanish-American war what the Grand Army of the Republic has been to the Federal army of the civil war.

"The Service Men of the Spanish War" is the title of the new society, and the plan of organization was conceived by Captain Wilson I. Davenney, commissary of subsistence of the First brigade, Second division, First army corps. Articles of incorporation have been drafted. This, the primal chapter, has been named Henry Clay camp, No. 1. The following officers were elected: Commander, Colonel Leonard; vice commander, Lieutenant Colonel Banks; adjutant and chief of staff, Captain Davenney; treasurer, Colonel Gander. A ritual and regulations will be drafted.

The plan of organization provides that the parent organization, Henry Clay camp, No. 1, shall be supreme in all matters pertaining to the ritual and regulations, organization of new camps

If every woman who expects to become a mother would read and read that great book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., there would be stronger mothers and healthier, happier children in this world.

In this grand volume several hundred of its thousand pages are devoted to teaching women how to take care of themselves during every trying and critical period of their lives and especially at the time of approaching motherhood.

The author of this remarkable work has had a lifetime of practical experience in treating the special diseases and weaknesses of women, and is recognized as one of the foremost of living experts in this particular field of practice. His "Favorite Prescription" is the most wonderful medicine ever invented to restore natural organic strength and power to the delicate feminine structure which is most intimately concerned in motherhood.

Taken during the time of anticipation it deprives this ordeal of all its accustomed terrors and dangers; makes the coming of baby absolutely safe and comparatively painless; renders the mother strong and cheerful, and helps to endow the child with a strong, healthy constitution.

Mrs. Mabel Jordan, of Swofford, Lewis Co., Washington, writes: "I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription until the very last day. We now have a fine, plump little girl over two weeks old. I suffered less pain than with any of the others, this being the sixth child, and she has good health. I got up on the tenth day and dressed myself—something I could not do with the other babies. Have been gaining in strength every day and feel well, all due to God and to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

A FELLOW FEELING

Makes East Liverpool People "Wondrous Kind" as Elsewhere.

A fellow feeling prompts it. We all have troubles of our own. We appreciate assistance. Relief from trouble promotes gratitude. Gratitude promotes publicity. Publicity promotes the public good. A man with a bad back. The kind that aches all day, and does a case of labor.

Is a general man when his back aches.

He wants to tell his friends about it. Let them know relief can be had.

Lots of fellow feeling in East Liverpool.

Don's Kidney Pills have cured so many backs.

Read what this East Liverpool citizen says:

Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church Alley, who is employed in the East Liverpool Pottery Co., says:

"I was troubled a great deal with muscular rheumatism, but for three years it settled in my back and kidneys, and caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back, and there was a urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Don's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicine, I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time. I highly recommend them."

Don's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Don's, and take no other.

Hair Powder.

The cause of the general disuse of hair powder was the high price of flour. It was thought little less than criminal that flour, which was almost beyond the reach of some of the very poor, should be used by the rich as a mere fashionable luxury of dress. Voluntary associations were formed, the members whereof bound themselves not to use hair powder. In a similar way the abolitionists bound themselves not to use any sugar whose production involved the employment of negro slaves.—Notes and Queries.

WELLSVILLE.

MAY MEET ON MONDAY

Mr. Goetz Returned to Town
Last Night.

MEMBER MINOR WILL LEAVE

And There Will Be Another Vacancy In Council--Sentiment Is Opposed to Five
Wards--A Conductor Badly Hurt--All
the News of Wellsville.

Councilman Goetz returned to Wells-
ville last night, and it is now believed a meeting of council will be held on Monday evening when the business that has
so long been delayed will likely be transacted.

Just when this matter seems settled
another complication appears in the fact that Member Minor, of the Fifth,
is about to move from the city, making
another vacancy. Only a short time ago a desperate effort, ending in the courts, gave Wellsville five wards. Now
the argument is that so many men cannot get together to transact business,
and the old order should prevail.

Conductor Culnon Hurt.

Word reached town yesterday that
George Culnon, conductor on No. 124,
was badly hurt.

Not many particulars could be learned, but the accident occurred at Newburg. A car which had been run
out on a siding was run into by an engine. As a result Culnon was badly cut up about the head. Conductor Culnon is married and lives in Cleveland, but he was born and reared in town, and
has many friends here, who hope to hear
that serious results are not anticipated.

A Memorial Day.

Doctor Holtz has decided to observe
Nov. 27 as memorial day, when tribute
can be paid the officers and men who fell in the Spanish war. Doctor Holtz
will be pleased to receive information
concerning any deceased soldiers.

The Churches.

First M. E. church, Reverend Earl D.
Holtz, pastor--Morning subject, "The Soul's Satisfaction;" evening subject,
"Our Lock."

Church of Immaculate Conception, J.
A. Halligan, pastor--Usual services will be held tomorrow. In the evening the subject will be "Marriage and Divorce." Evening service begins at 8:45.

United Presbyterian church--It is expected that the pastor W. A. Littell
who has been away on his vacation will
ing.

Methodist Protestant church, J. A.
Thrapp, pastor--Morning subject, "More Abundant Life;" evening subject, "The Great Salvation."

Christian church, Reverend H. Newton Miller, pastor--Morning subject,
"Stand;" evening subject, "A Beautiful Walk."

First Presbyterian church--It is expected that the newly elected pastor,
Reverend L. Finley Lafferty, will fill

News of Wellsville.

The contest for the gold vestments between the Church of Immaculate Conception and St. Aloysius of Liverpool, will close on November 30. Some effort had been made to have the time
competition extended until Dec. 8, but it is authoritatively announced that the original date of closing will be adhered to.

Brakeman Q. J. Miller still carries a very sore hand as a result of coupling
cars in the yards. His physician hopes to be able to save the second finger of the right hand, which is badly crushed.

Miss Jessie Carman, formerly a popular young lady of Wellsville but recently
of Steubenville, is seriously ill at her home in Lincoln avenue, that city, with diphtheria. There is but little hope
for her recovery.

Miss Mamie Perkins and other teachers of the Steubenville schools, visited
our schools yesterday. They seemed much pleased with the schools. Miss
Perkins is a niece of Oscar Jenkins,
Main street, and was a guest of the
family last night.

Attorney W. F. Lones left this morning for Ft. Wayne. He goes on legal business connected with a will case and will not return before Thursday of next week.

At the residence of A. R. Wells last evening the Methodist Episcopal church
choir was reorganized. Thomas Edwards was retained as leader, but a large number of young people have been invited to become members.

WASHINGTON RELICS.

Articles of Priceless Worth Kept In the National Museum.

One of the most interesting relics in the National museum at Washington is the camp chest used by Washington throughout the Revolution. It is a compact affair about the size of a tourist's wicker chest for cooking of the present day, 2½ feet long, 2 feet wide, 1 foot high, and it contains an outfit consisting of tinder box, pepper and salt boxes, bottles, knives, forks, gridiron and plates. Every bit of the outfit save one bottle, which is broken at the shoulder, looks strong enough to stand another campaign.

Near by are the tents used by Washington--three in number. One is a sleeping tent, 28 feet long, with walls 6 feet high and a roof with a 6 foot pitch. It is made of linen. The other two are marquee tents of smaller size, one with walls, the other a shelter tent open on the sides. That the tenting material of Revolutionary days was good stuff is proved by the excellent condition of these tents, which sheltered the great commander through all his severe campaigns.

Here also is Washington's uniform, worn by him when he gave up his commission as commander in chief of the army, at Annapolis in 1783. It consists of a big shadbelly coat of blue broadcloth, lined and trimmed with soft buckskin and ornamented with broad, flat brass buttons; buckskin waistcoat and breeches. The size of the garments (which are in a state of excellent preservation) testify to the big stature of the Father of His Country and suggest that he had an eye to a fine appearance in his dress.--Washington Post.

Factories Without Chimneys.

The statement that a chimney, the third or fourth tallest in the world, has just been completed at a cost of $53,000, and the announcement that the most gratifying success has attended the use of forced draft, without any chimneys whatever out of the ordinary, appear in contemporary journals. The experiment of forced draft gives promise of great economy in fuel, as well as doing away with the expensive and unornamental chimney. The draft arrangement consists of a large fan, which is connected with a 4 by 4 double cylinder engine. The fan has a wheel 54 inches in diameter and runs at almost any rate of speed desired. The draft is something prodigious and makes it possible to employ fuel of a lower grade than any heretofore used. Instead of the best Cumberland coal, a mixture of Cumberland and screenings has been tried. The cost of operating the fan, even with imperfect apparatus, is something like $800 per annum. The smokestack is scarcely taller than the roof of the building and of less capacity than that heretofore used for such purposes.--New York Ledger.

One Way of Settling It.

An amusing comedy in real life is reported from Paris. A married man was in a cafe near the Opera with his better half one evening and left her for a few moments. While he was absent his wife was insulted. The lady rose from her seat and went to meet her husband. The latter re-entered the cafe in order to chastise the offender. The latter, however, had gone, but the husband found his name and address.

The man was a card printer. The irate husband went to this person's place, but he did not find him at home, so he left his card with the chief shopman, saying, "Your employer will know what that means."

On the following day the indignant husband was amazed to receive a collection of 100 visiting cards in his own name, all beautifully printed, accompanying them being the inevitable bill. This helped to close the matter, and it is recorded that after brief explanations on both sides the husband paid the bill, and the master printer apologized to the lady.--Pearson's Weekly

Swimmers With Hats.

An Englishman home from the west coast of Africa says he saw a whole village swimming out to the steamer wearing as they swam renovated secondhand "stovepipe" hats in all the glory of the white tissue paper in which they are shipped out for sale.

"Of course," she replied. "But would you?"

vision, but the senator refuses to oblige them. He knows what he wants to say, and usually says it without regard to the men who hate him so cordially.

BEFORE the winter is over the bad roads of Columbiana county will have made many converts to the theory that good roads save money, but as usual they will forget it when summer comes, and during six months will enjoy what they hate during the remainder of the year.

OHIO has been taking advantage of the boom in business caused by the election of William McKinley and the injection into national law of sound Republican principles. Secretary Kinney in his report shows that over $100,000-000 was invested in new enterprises by the people of this state during the last fiscal year. That in itself means work for an army of men.

A VIGOROUS foreign policy, one calculated to protect the American citizen when far away from home and make him as much respected as any man on earth, has been the dream of travelers from this country for many years. The manner in which the case of that American railway conductor in Mexico is being handled by the administration prompts the belief that the dream is about to be realized.

PAY NO SPANISH BONDS.

The latest news from the peace commission now sitting at Paris is to the effect that this country will assume no Spanish indebtedness nor pay a Spanish bond. Spain brought upon herself all her troubles, and now after centuries of dissipation, chasing the butterfly as it were, she should realize her position and settle the account. What we have taken from Spain we have by every right of the law of nations to hold, and any arrangement she may have made previous to the occupation of her territory by American troops she should carry out. It is none of our affair. Had she been more charitable to her colonies and had given them a portion of the inheritance she has wantonly wasted, perhaps there would be sufficient charity in the American heart to show even a greater mercy than has already been displayed, but she was not. Instead she sowed the wind and now her time has come to reap the whirlwind. It is but justice.

WEARY OF WOOSTER

Soldier Boys Know All About the Town.

SOME ARE BUYING RIFLES

At the Price Demanded by the Government, and Will Keep Them as Souvenirs of the Campaign--Not Many Army Enlistments.

WOOSTER, Nov. 19.—[Special.]—Day by day, the day of muster out draws nigh, and day by day the boys of the Eighth tax their ingenuity to furnish means of amusement during their enforced stay in the little college town.
The impressive memorial exercises Wednesday had a sobering effect on the boys, but they are getting back to their old-time careless gaiety and good spirits.
The barracks do not become popular as the acquaintance lengthens and the principal streets of Wooster have been tramped so often by the boys in blue that some of them feel confident that they can "do" Wooster blindfolded.
The reading rooms provided by the city are more frequently used by the boys than formerly.

Football has come to the front and the boys of Company I will contest with Company D's eleven at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon. The winning eleven will be the guests of the management of the opera house Saturday evening.

Company H, of Shreve, has a father and two sons: Lieutenant M. S. Robinson, Sergeant B. D. Robinson and Private Walter Robinson.

Major Gould, the paymaster, with a corps of three clerks is here. Adams Express company employes carried into the vault of the Wooster National bank vault a safe containing $100,000 in cold cash Wednesday afternoon. The safe was brought by Paymaster Gould.

The companies turned their rifles over to the government officers Thursday. Many of the soldiers are retaining their guns as souvenirs of service, paying the government the appraisement price.

Captain Tillson is enlisting men for the regular army every day, but the number is not as large as was expected.

WARM CONVERSATION

Almost Resulted In an Arrest Last Evening.

An amusing incident happened in Market street yesterday evening about
5 o'clock. At that time Andy Rattery
had just delivered a barrel of crackers to a man named Schlegle. There was a dispute over the freight bill, and Rat-
tery claims Schlegle called him a liar.
Hot words followed, and after he had
pushed the expressman out of the store
he telephoned for the police. Officer
McMillan responded and heard both of the stories. He advised the fish dealer
that it was best to let the matter drop,
and he did.

a most serious one, but the mayor told
her that inasmuch as the offense was

The woman then left the office, saying

TOOK A BOX OF TOOLS

That Is the Charge Against James Swaney.

DISAPPEARED FROM A SALOON

And the Police Could Not Find the Accused Killhand Until This Afternoon.
Jack Delaney Made Too Much Noise In
Second Street.

At 10:20 o'clock last night a patrol
call was received from the Pittsburg
house in Second street, and when it arrived there Officer Woods placed Jack Delaney under arrest. He was taken to jail in the patrol and this morning a charge was placed against him by John
Michaels, the owner of the place.
Delaney went there early in the
evening, and when things did
not go just as he liked he immediately began to amuse himself.
He will be given a hearing this evening.

Last night about 11 o'clock an elderly
man came to city hall from the Exchange saloon, and notified the officers
in the saloon a valise filled with fine
tools had in some manner been stolen.
The officers got a description of the man
who is supposed to have taken it, and
this afternoon James Swaney, a kiln-
tonight.

A well dressed woman called at city
hall this morning and for some time was closeted with Mayor Bough and Chief Johnson. Whether any arrests
will result from her visit could not be learned this morning.

The Boy and His Cap.

"I can't find my cap anywhere," is a sentence more or less familiar in the household, that being what the boy says,
looking for his cap, when he wants to go out to play. Early in the search he enlists his mother, and that may make
her dusting or whatever household work
she may be engaged in, and the search
may take a long time.

"Where did you put it when you came in?" is a question sure to be asked sooner or later, but all the boy can answer is:

"I don't know."

And then the search goes on everywhere, over and under, in all sorts of places, all at a great loss of time, if not
of temper. It is found at last, as most things are in time, and in some simple,
easy place, which makes the finding of
it all the more exasperating.

The boy takes it and goes out to play
and straightway forgets all about it,
but it may take quite a little time to restore the normal calm in the house.

It is a mystery how the boy manages
to lose his cap as often as he does, but
it appears to be a boy's way, and common to almost all. —New York Sun

English Suburban Homes.

In the United States you are far ahead of England in respect to new suburban homes. Whatever may be the faults of the imitations of Richardson
—America's greatest architect—or even
of the queer gabled and verandaed vil-
las which for some inscrutable reason
are named after the good Queen Anne,
there is something picturesque about
most of these buildings—if it is only
the usually good sky line. But the modern suburban homes in England are monotonously ugly. As a rule they are run up in rows by some speculative builder who is his own architect. —Montague Marks in Art Amateur.

Pathetic Scene.

The minstrel man lay dying. He called his eldest son to his bedside and
said:

"My boy, I cannot leave you any money; I have spent that as fast as I made it. But you shall inherit the heirloom that I received from my father. It will make you a living; it
made his and it made mine."

Then, laying in the hand of the young man the worn and stained joke
apolis Journal.

Rare Pompeii Discovery.

At Pompeii a mosaic life size portrait of a woman, the first antique portrait in mosaic ever discovered, has been found. The workmanship is so fine that it is difficult to discern that it is not a painting.

The Sultan's Throneroom.

The throneroom of the sultan at Constantinople is a gorgeous sight. The gilding is unequalled by any other building in Europe, and from the ceiling
hangs a superb Venetian chandelier, the 200 lights of which make a gleam like that of a veritable sun. At each of the four corners of the room tall candelabra
in baccarat glass are placed, and the
throne is a huge seat covered with red velvet, and having arms and back of pure gold.

Apparent Contradiction.

"It seems very strange to me," said the educated parrot, "that a thirst for learning can be satisfied with a lot of dry information." — Cincinnati Enquirer.

AN OFFICER REWARDED

For Recovering the $1,400 For Beeler.

Who Did Not Think the Testimony at the Trial Yesterday Was Sufficient to Hold the Accused--It Was Wound Up Today.

When the NEWS REVIEW's report of the trial of B. Y. Coyne closed yesterday afternoon the witnesses for the defense had just been called.

H. D. Kromer, of Scottdale, was the first witness called and testified as follows: "I came to this city Monday, as I heard a foot race was on. The race was arranged and I was appointed stakeholder and referee. I had $1,400 before the race started and as it was being given to me Beeler stated that he would not take the money if he won the race. When the race was over we came to the city, and Wednesday afternoon Beeler did not want the money paid to Coyne, although I told him that Coyne was asking for it. When we were counting the money a dispute arose, during which Coyne grabbed the money and ran out."

Cash Grim, of McKeesport, told the following tale: "I have been in the city about two weeks, and met the other men Monday morning. I came here to get a race on with a man named Welch or Smith, and incidentally to get a job in one of the potteries. When we went into O'Malley's saloon Beeler said to me, 'Surely Duke wouldn't keep my money,' and I replied that I thought Coyne thought it was honest. Beeler said he knew he had lost the money, but he wanted it back. Kromer counted out the money and handed it to Coyne, and Mr. Beeler jumped for him and I grabbed Beeler and told him not to shoot, and he gave his gun to some one else. We walked down towards the Diamond and saw two policemen, and I said I suppose they were coming after us. So we remained there until they got us. I knew Beeler had a revolver in his pocket and thought he might shoot. Mr. Coyne was gone then."

B. Y. Coyne, the defendant in the case, was placed on the stand and said: "I live in Toronto, Canada, and have been a professional sprinter since 1884. I have run hundreds of races in that time, some of them in Mexico, Panama, Canada and in all sections of the United States. I have been with Mr. Beeler the last five or six years, and he has been acting as my manager and backer. We came here last Monday for the purpose of arranging a foot race. I had been drinking and he said he would make no match unless I stopped. I continued to drink and he told me he would have nothing more to do with me. I then told him to give me what was coming to me and he gave me $500. He then said he would bet me $500 that he could beat me in a foot race and a match was arranged for $1,400. The race was run on Wednesday and I won it and stayed at the saloon near the race track and didn't see the rest of the party until late last night. Mr. Kromer wanted to give me the money that night, but I told him to keep it until the next day, and he spoke of Beeler saying that he would give me my money back if he had won. I went into O'Malley's saloon in a room back of the bar and told Kromer I wanted my money, and he handed it to me. I knew Henry would make a kick, and I had arranged with Mr. Rinehart to have a buggy in the alley at 12 o'clock. I was not there at that time. I was pretty drunk and told Rinehart I was going to get stake money. My reason for wanting to get out of the city right away was that I wanted to save the money I had won as I knew Beeler would make a kick, and in that event he would get his own money back and I did not care to participate in a law suit. As soon as I realized an officer was following me I came back."

Mayor Bough asked Mr. Beeler if he had ever had trouble of this kind before and he replied: "None, except that I gave a man $1,000 to wager I could outrun another party, and he ran away with it but was brought back and is now serving three years for it, but I didn't get my $1,000 back. That happened three years ago in Wheeling."

Attorney Grosshans then made a lengthy plea for the prisoner and referred to the trouble as nothing but a misunderstanding among the parties. He asked that all the parties be acquitted, and Mayor Bough reserved his decision until 9 o'clock this morning.

This morning Mayor Bough had the prisoners taken from the court room at city hall into his private office where he announced that they were at liberty, as he found the testimony did not justify him in holding Coyne, Grim or Kromer on the charge of robbery.

The $1400 involved in the case was brought from the First National bank, and turned over to Attorney Grosshans, who gave Beeler $1,200 and Coyne $200.

The costs amounting to $23.10 were paid, and Beeler gave Officer Bryan $100 for recovering the money. The amount was divided among the firemen who had part in the arrest.

TALKED OF MANILA.

Captain Palmer Addressed a Large Audience Last Night.

A large audience assembled at the Christian church last night to hear Captain Palmer tell his story of the Philippines. The lecture was intensely interesting, covering as it did the history of the Tenth Pennsylvania from the time it was ordered to Manila until the speaker was discharged. Splendid tributes were paid President McKinley and the members of the cabinet, while the subordinate officers who neglect their men were soundly scored. He also commended the Red Cross for its noble work.

In the audience was Mr. Donaldson, a merchant of New Brighton, who has two sons in B company, of the Tenth, and he, after the lecture, condemned the captain for not giving in detail the battles in which the regiment was engaged, but that was impossible, owing to lack of time. Mr. Donaldson was especially interested because his sons are one pair of nine sets of brothers in the regiment.

EXPECTING BUSINESS.

Importers Think Trade Will Be Good Next Year.

The Crockery Journal has the following on the import trade:

"Reports are to the effect that there is very little trouble in getting spring import orders. The English crockery men have done pretty well in this direction, though they are not doing much for immediate delivery. French houses are all busy, and they are short of stock in most cases. Low priced German dinner sets are in active request, and so are all kinds of fancy goods, with short stocks of desirable kinds."

DRUGLESS HEALING

A Complete Success. Dr. Larkins Has Proved It.

It is but fair to state that the new method of curing diseases, introduced by Dr. E. F. Larkins in this city, is a complete success. The people of East Liverpool should give encouragement to this system, for it bids fair to assist greatly in the upbuilding of the future city of East Liverpool.

The one great merit of this treatment is that it cures. There is no longer any question about it. It cures, and cures permanent almost all diseases.

AN ITALIAN SIGN

Took Its Former Owner to Squire Hill For Justice.

This morning Frank Hugo, an Italian, called at the office of Squire Hill and related how he had sold his shoe shop to another Italian named Joe Brown and engaged in business in another part of the city, but Brown persisted in leaving the sign of Hugo above his shop. This, Hugo claimed, hurt his business, and he threatened to get out an injunction, but finally Constable Schenkel was sent to the scene and Brown promised to remove the sign.

THANKS ON THURSDAY

Doctor Crawford Will Preach the Sermon

Arrangements Have Been Completed by the Ministers of the City For Union Services to Be Held Thanksgiving Morning at 10:30 O'Clock.

The ministers of the city have completed arrangements for union services to be held Thanksgiving day.

The services will be held in the First Presbyterian church, and the sermon will be delivered by Doctor Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church. They will begin at 10:30 o'clock. Special music will be arranged for the occasion.

It is urged that the attendance be large since there are few people in the city who have no cause for giving thanks.

No Rest.

A comedy scene followed the third act of a tragedy at a theater in an English provincial town. The villain had met his death, and the curtain was lowered, but hung suspended three feet above the stage. All efforts to lower it proved unavailing until the corpse arose from the stage, and said, in sepulchral tones, as he dragged down the curtain, "No rest, even in the g-r-r-ave!"—London Fun.

Perhaps It Was a Joke.

Rosebery's Definition of Memory. Here is a jolt mot of Lord Rosebery's—would one ever expect mots from Lord Rosebery?—told in our garden by a woman who heard him say it at a dinner. ## NOTICES BEING SENT TO PARENTS

Manufacturing Concerns Have Grown Weary of Taking Risks, and Want to Know When Their Employees Were Born. A Result of Inspector Hull's Visit.

The manufacturing potters are doing everything in their power to aid Inspector Hull in his work in the city.

Many of the potters have sent out cards to the parents of children asking them to please send the date of their children's birth to the office of the plant in order that they may know exactly the age of the children in their employ. The reason given for this is that a great many of the children know the business of Inspector Hull and also know the age limit, and do not have much hesitancy in telling him they are over 16 when they are considerably less. There is a heavy penalty attached for employing child labor, and to avoid all prospects of difficulties that may arise the potters are taking the best method they know to overcome child labor in the potteries.

Inspector Hull has not yet completed his work in the city, and is still a busy man. His visit has increased the work of Truant Officer Beardmore to some extent, as the children who have been taken out of the potteries do not evidence a great desire to go to school. Several of the school rooms are also crowded, and in the room of Miss Fowler, East End, there are now 68 scholars.

SOME CHANGES

Is the Schedule Which Goes into Effect Tomorrow.

The new schedule which goes into effect on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road tomorrow at noon has been received in this city.

Contrary to rumors several changes have been made. Train 335, west bound, due at 8:20, will come in at 8:17 or 3 minutes earlier. Train 336, east bound, now arriving at 12:07, will arrive at 12:15 on the new schedule. The Pittsburgh and Bellaire accommodation due at 4:30 p. m. will arrive at 4:08 or 12 minutes earlier.

The schedule is a surprise to many railroad men in this section, as the only change which was expected was the change of the train now due at 7:14 to something earlier.

On the River.

There was a slight fall in the river during the night, and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 9 feet and falling slowly. The old saying among rivermen that if there is good water in November it will be good all winter is, from present indications, correct.

Every packet is now running regularly, and their owners are doing a large business.

The Virginia, Avalon and Lorena will be down tonight, and each boat will receive a lot of freight from this place. A number of passengers to way points will also embark from this city.

The Sunday boats, Keystone State, Kanawha, Ben Har and Argand will be up as usual. All the boats are expected to arrive before noon.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning Nov. 20—Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M.—Topic, Praise and Thanksgiving.

Scripture Reading.—Ps. ciii.—"Bless the Lord, all His works, in all places of His dominion! Bless the Lord, O my soul!"

To receive benefits and not express appreciation is universally condemned. The old adage "One good turn deserves another" shows the general sense of the people that a kindness given should be reciprocated. The obligation goes deeper than the mere outward act. As a deed of love outwardly expresses the inner feeling of affection, so the person receiving it should not only show outward signs of gratitude, but is under obligation to regard the benefactor with thankfulness and affection. Nothing so fully reveals an evil heart as ingratitude. It is the basest of sins and leads to the foulest crimes. Gratitude is the safeguard of the soul. One who finds himself lacking in real hearty gratitude for benefits received should be alarmed and set about correcting his condition. To receive attentions and gifts as a matter of course and right does not indicate a royal soul, as some seem to think, but does show the spirit of the pauper and perhaps the thief.

The person who chafes under the reception of gifts and is restless until an exact equivalent has been returned also exhibits a mean and essentially unthankful disposition. True nobility of nature finds joy in receiving attentions, gifts and expressions of regard, conscious that they are outward signs of inner friendliness. All genuine worthiness rejoices to receive tokens of regard, but finds greater pleasure in giving. It is natural, indeed inevitable, that a full fountain should overflow. So all generous natures spontaneously gush out with helpfulness to others, and are happiest when making others happy. So, when they receive from others they are pleased, because they recognized in others the same blessed springs of action they possess themselves and share in the happiness of mutual possession.

The devout soul sees God in all he has of goods and blessings. He recognizes the Divine One as everywhere present in the world in power and merciful kindness. He recognizes his obligation to the Lord for life and all its benefits. Gratitude springs up, and the more he knows of God in Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit the more freely does he come to believe in and trust the Father all holy, and in equal measure the inner life is filled with praise and the mouth is filled with thanksgiving.

At this season of the year the ingathering of harvests leads to formal expressions of gratitude to God the Giver. The public service is valuable. The national thanksgiving with all its time honored festivities should be kept, but personal gratitude should lead to more than this. It requires complete enlistment of all powers in the service of Him who is "the giver of every good and perfect gift."

City Road Chapel.

Beyond question the most noted church building in Methodism is the Wesley chapel, City Road, London. The parish church at Epworth is not now and never was the property of Methodists, but always belonged to the church of England. The "Old Foundry" was the first preaching house of the denomination in London, but has long since disappeared. At City Road chapel was the favorite residence of John Wesley. His house is still occupied by the superintendent of the circuit and by a museum of Wesley mementos recently collected there for preservation. The interior of the chapel remains in much the same condition as it was when Wesley preached there. It stands back quite a distance from the street. On the opposite side of the street is Bunhill Fields burying ground, where Susannah Wesley, the mother of John, lies buried. The body of John Wesley lies in a tomb behind the chapel. Ten others are buried in the same tomb, and 5,000 Methodists lie buried near their great leader.

The Inscription.

For many hundreds of years the meaning of the picture writing on the obelisks and temple walls of Egypt was unknown. In the latter part of the last century the key to the mystery was found, and now the multitude can read the message of the monuments. One of the most ancient of inscriptions in the land is that written on the obelisk of On. The translation of it reads: "The Horus, the living from his birth, the king of upper and lower Egypt, Ra Kheper Ka; lord of the two diadems, son of the sun, Useratesen, the loved of the god of Heliopolis from his birth, ever living. The golden Horus, the wood god. Ra Kheper Ka, to the celebration of the papyrus. He (has) made (this obelisk) the eternal generator."

More things are wrought by prayer Than this world dreams of, wherefore let thy voice Rise like a fountain for me night and day. For what are men better than sheep or goats That nourish a blind life within the brain? If, knowing God, they lift not hands in prayer Both for themselves and those who call them friends? For so the whole round world is every way Bound by gold chains about the feet of God.

—Henry Elliott Mott.

NEW NATIONAL SOCIETY.

Organized to Foster True Patriotism and Honor Heroes of the War.

The National Society of the Spanish-American war, an outgrowth of the relief work done by some of the patriotic women during the late war, has been organized. Before the peace protocol was signed the women of Carlisle, Pa.; Grand Rapids and Baltimore started a movement to found local memorial societies, which has resulted in the organization of the National society with the following officers: President, Clara Barton; vice presidents, Mrs. John A. Logan, Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley and Major General Nelson A. Miles; secretary, Dr. Hildegarde H. Langsdorff of Carlisle, Pa.; chairman of the executive committee, Professor Guy Carleton Lee, Johns Hopkins university. The National advisory council is composed of the governors of the various states, together with other prominent Americans. The headquarters of the society are at Baltimore, and local councils of the society may, upon approval of the executive council, be formed in any community.

Membership in the society is open to all patriotic white Americans. Applications for membership must be approved by the executive council. Men and women share equally in the honors and duties of membership. The badge is a circular field of dark blue enamel, the edge of the field being worked into 13 points. On the field are 13 golden stars encircling the letters "L. W. F.," which stand for the motto of the society. This is, "Lest We Forget."

The executive officers wear signet rings in the form of eagles' claws grasping a card, upon which are engraved the letters "L. W. F." and the insignia of the rank of the wearer. The membership fee, payable to the National society, is $1 yearly. Patrons and patronesses pay $5 each year, and life members pay $100 in one payment. The local fees are regulated by the local councils. The local councils have great freedom of action. All that is required of them is unswerving fidelity to the purposes of the National society, the payment of the dues and certain work on Memorial day. All other work is left to the local authorities.

The purposes of the society are the building of a battle monument to the heroic dead of the Spanish-American war and the creation of a fund from which to provide memorial lectures commemorating the brave deeds of both the fallen heroes and courageous survivors of the last war. By means of these examples the society hopes to inculcate and foster true patriotism. It will issue from time to time to the press copy for readable articles of a patriotic nature. The main object of the society is "to train the youth of the land, by the examples of the last war, in good citizenship and earnest patriotism."—New York Tribune.

MILITARY NOSTALGIA CURE.

Colored Soldiers in Cuba Are Taking It, and Their Sweethearts Mourn.

Dr. Harrison, a colored physician of Wichita, Kan., recently received a letter from one of the Wichita boys with the Twenty-third Kansas volunteers, the colored regiment now at San Luis de Cuba, which has caused consternation among the colored people, and especially the women who had husbands or sweethearts in the company. In that letter the soldier states that six members of the Wichita company are engaged to marry Cuban girls and that many other members of the regiment are in love with Cuban and half breed Spanish women, who are said to be unusually good looking and attractive.

There were a number of married men among the recruits and others who had promised to marry Wichita girls on their return. It is the women who unwillingly allowed their sweethearts to go to Cuba that are most worried. They are afraid their "men" will fall prey to the attractions of the tropical amorettes and never come back to them. The letter says that it is probable that if the colored troops remain there a year almost one-half of them will marry natives and remain there.

The reason assigned for the wholesale slaughter of soldier hearts is that when the troops went there almost all of the boys were homesick and downhearted, and about the only relief they could find was in the smiles and charms of the beautiful native women. Then they learned something of the language love's charms were working and soon the soldier boys (some of them) forgot all about being homesick, so much were they enamored with their new sweethearts.—Topeka Capital.

The use of coal for house heating is not nearly so general in Europe as in this country.

DOORS OF VENEER.

Few Doors, Not Even the More Costly, Made of Solid Wood.

The very finest of doors are made nowadays of veneer on a body of pine. Even when made of mahogany or some other costly wood doors have to be veneered. The body of the door is made of a plain, straight grained mahogany, while the surfaces are veneers of fine wood.

In the finest doors the body is made of selected white pine, free from sap and perfectly seasoned, which is cut into narrow strips and then glued together. The outer edges of this door are faced with what is called a veneer, but which is really a strip of the fine wood half an inch or more in thickness. The inner edges of the frame, by the panels, are covered in the same manner with thick strips, in which the ornamental moldings or carvings are made and which are grooved to receive the panels.

This built up frame of white pine, with edges of the fine wood, is then veneered with the fine wood. In some lighter doors the panels may be of solid mahogany, but in the finer, larger and heavier doors the panels also are made of sheets of white pine with a veneering of the fine wood, so that the entire door is veneered.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to procure at any cost mahogany lumber in fine and beautiful woods of sufficient size for the larger doors. The built up and veneered door of pine wood, however, has every appearance of a solid door, and, made of selected veneers, it may be more beautiful than a solid door would be. It is more serviceable and remains longer perfect. Its cost is about half what a solid door would cost.—New York Sun.

Taylor's Wonderful Pistol Shooting.

The world's ten shot pistol record was broken in Philadelphia the other day by C. H. Taylor of the Massachusetts Rifle association. The shooting took place at Lansdowne, a suburb of Philadelphia. Taylor scored the highest possible score of 100. He placed ten consecutive shots within the ten circle, 3 1/3 inches in diameter, at 52 1/2 measured yards. Taylor is the only person who ever succeeded in doing this. The previous record, which has stood since 1888, was 99, by E. J. Darlington of Wilmington, Del.—New York World.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

DIRECTOR FILSON DEAD

Passed Suddenly Away at His Home Near Lisbon.

OFFICIAL FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS

His Efforts Have Been Directed Toward the Upbuilding of the County Infirmary, and Have Been Eminently Successful. He Was Well and Favorably Known.

LISBON, Nov. 19.—[Special].—C. D. Filson, infirmary director, died yesterday at his home west of Lisbon at 1:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be held Monday, but the hour has not yet been set.

Mr. Filson has been ill for a week or more, but his condition was not considered serious until a few days ago. He was given every care and attention possible, but yesterday morning became suddenly worse and died at the hour noted.

Mr. Filson was about 65 years of age, and with the exception of one year has been identified with the county infirmary as director. His efforts have during that time been directed toward building up the institution, and to him is due in a measure the splendid home for the poor of the county. He was an honest man, upright in all his dealings, and known far and wide as a good citizen and safe official. He had no children, but his wife survives him.

The vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Filson will, according to the provisions of the statute, be filled by the commissioners until there can be an election. At the next election for county officers there will be two candidates for infirmary director, one being for the short term.

LISBON'S NEW BANK.

Sold Men of the County Seat Have Made Application.

The Washington correspondent of the Cleveland Leader says this of Lisbon's proposed national bank:

"A new national bank will be established at Lisbon, to cover the field held by the defunct First National bank, which was wrecked by the misappropriations of Cashier Child. The application to establish the institution was filed by I. B. Cameron, ex-treasurer of Columbiana county, and at present receiver of the First National; George B. Harvey, C. W. Bray, N. B. Billingsley, and James Charters. The bank is to be known as the Lisbon National bank, and its capital will be $50,000. The comptroller of the currency today approved the application."

RACING ON THE RIVER.

Rival Packets Are at It Almost Every Day.

The steamers Greenwood and Will J. Cummins had another race Thursday. It is said that the Cummins waited at Wheeling for the Greenwood to arrive there and that they started up the river together. The Greenwood is a new boat and her machinery is said to be in good working order. The Cummins found her more than a match this trip and when the Greenwood had reached Wellsburg, it is said that the Cummins was about a mile in the rear.

The Ben Hur and Urania also raced down the Ohio Thursday afternoon. They both left Pittsburgh at 4 o'clock, and when they got to the Davis Island dam they were both together and were going as fast as their power would carry them.

Excursion Rates for Thanksgiving.

For the accommodation of persons who wish to make Thanksgiving day trips, non-transferable excursion tickets will be sold Thursday, November 24, from ticket stations on the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh to any station on those lines within 150 miles of the selling point. Tickets for adults will not be sold for less than 25 cents, nor for children for less than 15 cents. Excursion tickets will be good returning up to and including Friday, November 25. For details apply to nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent.

DECEMBER TAXES

may be paid at the office of the "Potters' Building and Savings Company" as usual between DEC. 19 AND 20.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 20.—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—"Praise the Lord."—Ps. cxlvii, 1-20. (A Thanksgiving meeting.)

It is probable that this psalm was an anthem written for use in the second temple. It praises God for various attributes, but especially commemorates His goodness in bringing back His people from their captivity and rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem. "The Lord doth build up Jerusalem; He gathereth together the outcasts of Israel." This psalm suggests that we should—

1. Praise the Lord for spiritual blessings (verses 1-6). The greatest blessings that came as a result of the return from the captivity were the spiritual blessings, and the psalmist gives directly as a cause for praise to the Lord that "He healeth the broken in heart and bindeth up the wounds." God has given us great spiritual blessings in the past year, for which we should render thanks and praise unto Him. Skepticism and rationalism are on the decline, and an unusual interest is manifested in various ways in the highest and truest forms of spirituality. Today in the religious life of the world is pre-eminently the day of the Holy Ghost.

2. Praise the Lord for temporal blessings (verses 7-11). "Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving * * * who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh the grass to grow upon the mountains. He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens, which cry." God's providential care of both man and beast calls for our continual thanksgiving. Our country has been especially and wonderfully blessed in temporal blessing the past year. While some nations have suffered recently from failure of crops, our barns have been full and overflowing. This year has been no exception. Fruits abundant have been borne by our trees, and our fields have yielded unusual crops—causes of thanksgiving to God.

3. Praise the Lord for ecclesiastical blessings (verses 12-15). For protection, for blessing, for peace and plenty the church is called upon to praise the Lord. The church today richly and abundantly enjoys all these blessings. It has protection. It never was more secure from danger and harm. The children of the church have been abundantly blessed. The church has peace. It never had a more desirable peace. Ecclesiastical strifes and contentions have almost disappeared. It is the era of ecclesiastical good feeling, and Christian endeavor has done much to make it so.

4. Praise the Lord for national blessings (verse 20). "He hath not dealt so with any nation." The history of the past year again applies these words to our beloved nation. He hath given us a wonderful victory over our enemies at an unusually small cost, in an unexpectedly short time. For what greater blessings could we thank God as a nation than for decisive victory in war and a speedy peace?

Unfortunate Mary Wollstonecraft.

Conspicuous among the brilliant and beautiful women of her time was the lovely and every way unfortunate Mary Wollstonecraft Godwin, the first agitator of the question of "woman's rights." No woman, with the exception of Mme. de Staël, made so great an impression on the public mind. Her new and startling doctrines were seized with an avidity scarcely credible at this day, and her famous book, "The Vindication of the Rights of Women," was the theme of the most universal praise and abuse.

Thomas Paine, the author of "The Rights of Man," was one of her familiar acquaintances, but their intercourse was an argument, their views neither on this subject nor any other coinciding. In these arguments Paine either lost his temper or became sulky, and the woman champion won an easy victory.

Until her marriage with Mr. Godwin she was the friend of Mrs. Siddons, but she, with the majority of her admirers, declined to sanction this union, for she had married some years before an American called Imlay, to whom she had been a most devoted wife. The man, however, took advantage of the fact that the marriage was only a civil one, performed in Paris, and deserted her. She then married Mr. Godwin, but this act placed her in a position no charity could explain away. Death, however, soon covered her faults with a pitiful oblivion. She left an infant daughter a few hours old, who afterward became the wife of Percy Bysshe Shelley.—Exchange.

November Occasions.

When they've counted all the ballots, When the votes are gathered in, When the razors, guns and mallets That are raising such a din, Public time no more are wasting, When the turkey comes in state, We will give the bird a basting And prepare to celebrate.

Fashions have been changing lately. Innovations still increase. And the gobbler, large and stately, Now supplants the dove of peace. When Thanksgiving times are hastening, One and all, in spite of fate, Join and give the bird a basting And prepare to celebrate. —Washington Star.

PARIS' LATEST DUEL.

In Broad Daylight and With Photographers and Other Necessities.

Foreign journals have commented with enthusiasm on the recent duel between M. Paulner, deputy, and M. Turat, journalist. Of course Paris was the stage for the comedy, but the way in which the play was put on differed from old time methods. There was nothing secret about this encounter. Dumas would have been in despair over the fashion in which it was managed. Instead of stealing off in the pale light of dawn the combatants waited until 10 o'clock and then departed for the field of the fray at the head of an imposing procession. In the landaus carrying the duelists were the seconds and the doctors. Following them were 40 carriages, 20 bicycles and a wagonload of photographic apparatus. All of the friends of the duelists were on hand; also the members of the fencing classes to which the two principals belong, all the noted amateurs in dueling, the professors of fencing, sword champions and sporting men in general.

The procession filed to the spot chosen for the duel, but when the ground was reached it was judged unsuitable, and the cortege explored Passy in search of another stage setting. One place was approved by the dueling experts, but the photographers protested that the place would be most inconvenient for them. So the search continued. At last the courtyard of a factory belonging to the Comte de Dion was chosen. M. le Comte was charmed, and, constituting himself master of ceremonies, installed the spectators at the factory windows. The photographers caused considerable delay, because of difficulties met in adjusting their cameras at advantageous angles. At one time it looked as though those difficulties would necessitate a return to the carriages and a further search, but finally all was satisfactorily arranged, and the duel began.

Then came a still greater departure from the dueling code. So far, one had been treated to comedy. One expects nothing but comedy in the modern duel. But M. Turat and M. Paulner realized that this was no ordinary occasion. The public must have its money's worth, and it did. The duelists plunged from comedy into melodrama and hinted at tragedy. They fought six furious rounds, apparently with grim earnestness, and one man was wounded seriously. Then the curtain fell. Every one was satisfied, even the wounded man, but as to M. Turat's opinion of M. Paulner that probably was not affected by their double star cast.—New York Sun.

When that historic old Confederate prison was brought to Chicago in 1893 from Richmond, where it did service in the civil strife, and was re-erected on the South Side, two soldier statues were placed upon the front parapet to stand guard. One was clad in blue, the other in gray, representing the Union and Confederate uniforms. Thousands of people from the world over have seen and admired these two stern, begrimed sentinels, and more the thought that grew out of the contrast. Both told of bravery and sacrifices displayed in bloody war. There they stood, unaffected by the severe rigors of winter or by the parching sun of summer. Underneath their old garb of blue and gray were seen two distinctive types of developed thought, habit and character, symbolizing the once north and south, divided and again united. Today these two "boys in blue" tell a story of a more perfect union, in feeling especially and in community of interests. They tell of one people under the same constitution and owing fealty to the same stars and stripes. The cause of the nation is their cause alike, and as readily did the gray as the blue rally as one when the tocsin sounded for patriot soldiers to strike in common against Spain for right and justice and humanity.

In these two soldiers now in blue, still standing at their posts, facing the thousands that pass in review daily, is a lesson that has taken more than a quarter of a century and a bloody war with a foreign nation to learn. The lesson is finished.—Chicago Tribune.

REVOLT IN INDIA EXPECTED.

Tribes Ready to Rebel if England Be Forced Into a War.

The Right Rev. P. J. Hurth, Roman Catholic bishop of Dacca, Bengal, India, arrived at Washington the other day and is the guest of the Catholic university. Bishop Hurth is an American, and is the first of his nationality to be sent by Rome as missionary to the eastern countries. Of the political situation in the far east he said that, although all is quiet now, there are many signs that an upheaval is not far off.

"The Indian tribes would openly revolt," he said, "if England should be forced to go to war with any great nation such as France or Russia. At present we do not see any evidence of the so called domination of Russia in the orient, but there are signs that the 'bear that walks like a man' is getting ready for the deluge which must come before the political horizon of the east is cleared. The Philippine question will of course be intimately identified with the eastern question, and as such is engrossing the attention of Asia as well as of Europe and America."—Special New York World.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Today is little pay.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Albright, East Palestine, a daughter.

Miss Nina Kinsey last evening very pleasantly entertained a number of friends at her home in Second street.

The Alvins and the East End Rovers, of McDonald, Pa., are this afternoon playing association football at Columbian park.

The funerals of Mrs. Kirby and Joseph Chamberlain took place this afternoon. Interments were made at River-view.

An entertainment will be given Thanksgiving evening at the Young Men's Christian association rooms. No admission will be charged.

The many friends of Mrs. John Powell, of Third street, will be pleased to learn that she is improving rapidly and will soon be able to leave her room.

Elmer McCord, a helper in a blacksmith shop in Walnut street, had one of the fingers of his right hand badly burned this morning. The injury is very painful.

Another dog has been taken to the fire station, where it will be kept. Every dog which has been taken to the fire station has died, but better hopes are entertained for this one.

T. J. Copeland, southern representative of the Globe Pottery company, with headquarters in Greenboro, N. C., is spending several days in the city attending to some business matters.

Captain Emme, of Alliance, will have charge of the Salvation Army meetings tomorrow afternoon and evening. Miss Emmel instituted the army in this city and has many warm friends here.

The street force this morning placed iron posts at the corner of Second and Washington streets and Forest and Sixth streets. The work was done to protect the iron gratings at these crossings.

A number of the local football cranks are in Pittsburg today attending the D. C. & A. C.—Latrobe football game. There has been some money bet in this city on the result, with Duquesne the favorite.

The fire alarm apparatus was placed in position at the East End station yesterday afternoon by Fireman Bettridge, of the Central station. The alarm is of the latest design and makes a neat appearance.

The executive railroad committee will meet this evening at the Potters' club. Mr. Francis, the promoter of the project, will be present, and a report of any subscriptions which may have been received by the committee will be heard.

The Liverpool football team have challenged the Wellsville players for a game Thanksgiving afternoon. A strong team has been gathered together, and it is believed Wellsville will have a hard time winning if the challenge is accepted.

There is no change in the condition of Mrs. Hugh Maley, of Calcutta road, and she is now very low. She is suffering from the effects of a cancer in her throat, and although the attending physicians have been doing all they can for the woman she cannot live.

A horse attached to a backboard owned by William Harris, of Gardendale, ran off in Calcutta road yesterday afternoon. The vehicle was badly damaged and the harness was broken. The horse became frightened at a pile of stones lying in the road.

A pleasing feature of the entertainment at the Christian church last night was a piano solo rendered by Mrs. Maud Bachmann, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Reed. It was given in a masterly manner, and was received by the audience with the heartiest of applause.

NEW GAS A WONDER.

It is Said to Be the Lightest and Fastest Moving of All the Known Gases—How It Was Discovered.

The Cincinnati section of the American Chemical society has started its series of fall and winter meetings most auspiciously. The chemists, engineers and professional men of the city who received the cordial welcome of Professor T. H. Norton to the initial meeting of the chemical lecture room at the university buildings were favored with an exceedingly interesting paper by Dr. Alfred Springer on that latest acquisition to the family of elements—etherion. The discovery of this by the eminent American electrician and scientist, Charles F. Brush, has started discussion in the scientific circles of the world, and if the theories connected with it are established the discovery bids fair to rank with the most important of the century.

Dr. Springer said the last decade of the nineteenth century has been as rich in new discoveries as it had been iconoclastic in upsetting theories and facts that before were considered well established. In the past two years new gases before unsuspected have been discovered, and these—argon, helium, neon and metargon—now rank among the splendid triumphs of modern chemistry.

Brush is content to call etherion a gas. It may be an element, but the discoverer does not claim this. He even intimates that further investigating may show it to consist of several elementary gases. It presents phenomena, however, such as are given by no known gases, and its properties are extraordinary. It is a constituent of the atmosphere and occurs occluded in many substances. Its chief characteristics, as pointed out by Dr. Springer, is its enormous heat conductivity at low vacuum pressure. Brush discovered the new gas while making a series of high vacuum experiments.

His apparatus was the modified McLeod gauge and a thermometer. When the glass of the apparatus was heated after a vacuum had been produced, he saw that gas was evolved from the glass, rapidly at first, then more slowly, but never stopping till the temperature was reduced. On cooling the gas was partially reabsorbed. Some always remained unabsorbed. Brush tried to make absorption complete by introducing pulverized glass into the vacuum, and in doing this discovered the most phenomenal property of the new gas.

With pulverized soda glass and a good vacuum it was found that by continuous reduction of pressure a point was reached where the new gas contracted heat 20 times as fast as hydrogen, the latter being hitherto the fastest heat conductor among known gases. This circumstance convinced Brush he had discovered an entirely new gas, with heat conducting capacity immensely beyond any before known.

Several other substances, such as pine wood charcoal, gave off the new gas. Brush kept the pulverized glass at a high heat for several days in the attempt to deprive it of all the new gas in it. He believes the gas resides in the glass, not merely on it. He found that simply exposure to the air was sufficient to rejuvenate the glass from which the gas had been taken.

The molecular velocity of hydrogen at the temperature of melting ice is 5,571 feet a second, while the molecular velocity of the new gas is 557,100 feet, or 105 miles a second. At this rate Mr. Brush says that it would be impossible for the new gas to remain in the atmosphere or to be bound to the earth as the atmosphere is, and he infers consequently that it extends through all space. It forms probably less than one-millionth part of the earth's atmosphere, and from what has been ascertained concerning it it follows that it is 10,000 times lighter than hydrogen. Mr. Brush has named the new gas "etherion," signifying "high in the heavens."

It is among the probabilities that the new gas may replace the present ether hypothesis, which is doing duty for science in explaining the phenomena of light and electricity, and show that the medium for these is not a continuous ether, but gaseous molecules, with modes of motion yet unknown. Dr. Springer drew attention to many interesting features of Brush's discovery and the bearing it will have on future science.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A CO-OPERATIVE FARM.

Indiana Company to Experiment in a Novel Line.

A company of men in Richmond, Ind., a short time ago organized the Home Industrial association, with a capital stock of $10,000. They have secured a tract of land near the city and are preparing to open a dairy and creamery, to be followed soon by the introduction of gardening, bee culture, fruit and berry culture, etc.

The shares of stock in the association are valued at $100 each, and no member can own more than one share. This is done in order to keep the work entirely co-operative. The chief object in view is to give employment to the members and others as far as possible. The plan also contemplates branches in other states, the general headquarters to be at Richmond. The first branch established will be at some point in the south, a location for which is now being sought by a representative of the association.—Special Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

TRADE IMPROVED.

Dun's Review Notes Increased Growth Since the Elections—Big Year in Grain Probable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part: The situation is clearer and the improvement in business, which was expected after the election, has begun. Payments through clearing houses are far the largest ever known, for the week 37.3 per cent larger than last year, and 3 per cent larger than in 1892. The glass-workers have resumed, the anthracite coal output is heavy and much beyond the present capacity of the markets, the troubles with Illinois coal miners have been settled and the new strike of shoe workers in Marlboro, Mass., is now the only labor hindrance of consequence.

It is noteworthy that in spite of all changes the price of spot wheat has but slightly changed. The exports for the week, flour included, have been 1,976,000 bushels from Atlantic ports, against 1,204,000 last year, and from Pacific ports 988,093 bushels, against 2,191,334 last year.

Corn exports also exceed last year's, amounting for the week to 2,993,720 bushels, against 2,722,457 bushels last year, and for two weeks of November have been 5,056,051 bushels, against 7,197,098 bushels last year. Such shipments after the middle of November go far to warrant the belief that the foreign demand for this grain is destined to be greater than has been expected.

The woolen manufactures have gained in orders for the coming season, which justifies the heavy buying of materials recently seen, and there are also better orders for speedy delivery, but the demand is not large, and much machinery is still waiting idly.

While sales of wool at the three chief markets were heavy, 28,234,500 pounds in three weeks, against 20,865,902 last year and 17,103,100 in 1892, they include two large sales for export, covering 3,000,000 pounds of Montevideo and Australian wool at 16 and 18 cents respectively, which make clearer the fact that prices asked by holders here are relatively high.

Iron is in bigger demand all the time and yet production steadily increases, and at Pittsburg Bessemer pig is slightly lower at $10.10, the new association being undersold. Orders for plates are beyond all precedent, including material for cars, bridges, vessels and work of all sorts, and structural work is seasonably quiet, though the mills have much ahead, while in bars the demand is considerably better at Pittsburg, with orders for material of 6,000 cars at Chicago.

The expectation is that the proposed rail association will meet an extremely heavy demand for the next year, especially for trolley lines, but it is stated that prices will not be advanced above $20 at the east and $21 at Chicago. In iron products the next will probably be a record-breaking year.

Failures for the week have been 223 in the United States against 267 last year, and 26 in Canada against 32 last year.

LAWLESSNESS IN PORTO RICO.

Brigands and Soldiers Said to Have Been Making Trouble—Orders to Broke.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The cabinet session was devoted to a large extent to consideration of complaints that have reached the war department from Porto Rico. These complaints asserted that the lawless elements in Porto Rico are committing depredations of the gravest character and that the seriousness of the situation is increased by reason of the fact that United States troops stationed in the island likewise have been guilty of gross misconduct.

The most serious allegations are against brigands and lawless elements in the smaller towns away from the coast. It is said that bands of men have organized for robbery and rapine, burning houses and plantations and levying tribute upon the people wherever possible.

General Brooke, at San Juan, has been instructed to use the full strength of the military forces at his command for the suppression of rioting and the restoration of peace and order in the land.

THREE NEW WARSHIPS.

Admiral Dewey Contracted For the Raising of Three Spanish Gunboats.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Admiral Dewey has informed the navy department that he has contracted with a Hongkong firm of wreckers to raise three of the Spanish war vessels sunk in the battle of Manila last May day.

The cost of raising the ships and putting them in thorough repair will be $500,000. The vessels to be raised are gunboats of large type, and in the opinion of Chief Constructor Hichborn they will be the very best kind of craft for the protection of the United States' interests among the Philippines and along the Asiatic coast. They are the sister ships Isla de Cuba and Isla de Luzon, and the Don Juan de Austria.

Passengers Robbed in Cuba.

Bushnell Issues One on Hastings—Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—The Magowan kidnapping case came up in court at Erie, Pa., in the form of habeas corpus proceedings brought by W. H. Barnes, the grandfather and guardian of the abducted child. Magowan and his wife intend to put up a hard fight and the case went over until today on a technicality.

A requisition was issued on the governor of Pennsylvania by Governor Bushnell of Ohio for Mr. and Mrs. Magowan and Mrs. Wynn, against whom there is an indictment for kidnapping in Cuyahoga county.

John A. Barnes, on the ground that the courts have decreed that the Oklahoma divorce obtained by his wife before she married Magowan is illegal, sued her some time ago for divorce in this county. No defense was expected and everybody was surprised when the defense requested an extension of time in which to file an answer.

B. & O. TO GET CONTROL.

State of Maryland to Sell Its Interest in C. & O. Canal.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—The board of public works decided to sell all the interest of the state of Maryland in the famous Chesapeake and Ohio canal. This interest has cost the state in one way or another about $25,000,000, but its present value is indeterminate, as it is now in the hands of receivers.

It is understood that this action was taken for the purpose of enabling the Baltimore and Ohio reorganization managers to obtain a title to the property and to use it in connection with the present system.

CONSIDERED RECIPROCITY.

Early Settlement of Bering Sea Question Likely by Anglo-American Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The sole subject considered by the Anglo-American commission was reciprocity. It is understood the item of live animals is receiving special attention, the traffic in horses, cattle and other live animals being considerable across the border.

The prospect of an early settlement of the Bering sea question was improved by the receipt of word that the two officials who have been making an appraisal of the value of the Canadian sealing fleet have completed their labors and are now on their way to Washington.
